Survey Indicates Dealers Glad 1996 Is Over Fresh Start With Aggressive Retail Marketing Foreseen

Over the last couple of weeks we conducted an informal survey of what various dealers thought about 1996. While some companies boasted of having a "very good year", the majority of dealers we contacted are very glad 1996 has ended. Many felt that it was a very strenuous year. Selling coins to clients who already own the very same dates is not an easy proposition; educating new clients is very time consuming. Indications are that the overall market is at or near the bottom, but it is very difficult to entice new buyers as long as the stock market continues to surge ahead. Everyone thinks we are primed for advances and they are very hopeful that 1997 is the year that coins make a "comeback".

Several dealers revealed that they have ideas for new marketing strategies. They are going to be more aggressive and try to educate potential new clients. How this is going to be accomplished remains to be seen, but we feel that continued education and more marketing (advertising or unbiased media coverage) have to be good as long as it is not obnoxious. A couple of dealers said they will use a stock market approach as they furnish charts and graphs for clients to study. Obviously, these types of presentations will reveal that the current price of many coins is at the bottom of a cycle. Whether the market for the individual coins can go lower depends entirely on the strength of the coin industry's message to these potential new clients. Even though prices are at very attractive levels, excess supply continues to plague our marketplace. More and stronger demand is the ultimate answer.

You may have seen our new chart in the December 20th CCDN. It lists the individual series with a "plus/minus" count for the current week. We have had a number of positive responses from subscribers as they think this is more meaningful information than the CMI, which by its very nature, tends to the downside because it reports the effects of the sight-unseen market. While the plus/minus numbers also show this influence, it is a less negative exposure since the overall market tends to be steady. By showing the ratio of plus to minus signs, along with the number of steady issues, it puts less strain on market direction and more emphasis on the Bids of individual coins.

Attendance at the fast-approaching FUN Show should be more than satisfactory as a whole slew of dealers (and the public) will be interested in finding out how the rest of the marketplace is going to react to the brand new year. This show is always used as an indicator of how the market is going to perform in the upcoming months. It may or may not actually be that much of a true gauge of anticipated market performance, but the psychological sway is still much in evidence.

If business gets off to a fast start, everyone will say that FUN proved to be a positive omen. If the market is slow, most dealers will say that it is just a continuation of 1996, and the turnaround is just ahead. However the show winds up being reported, most dealers are not rushing into 1997, but entering with guarded optimism. They are quite hopeful that this is the year of the "turnaround". Most companies are betting on it as they expend more time and money in expanding their retail marketing efforts.

Besides the FUN Show expecting thousands of visitors, Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., will conduct the 1997 FUN Sale. There is over 3000 lots of just about everything imaginable. Some of the highlights include a long list of rare Silver Dollars (see inset).

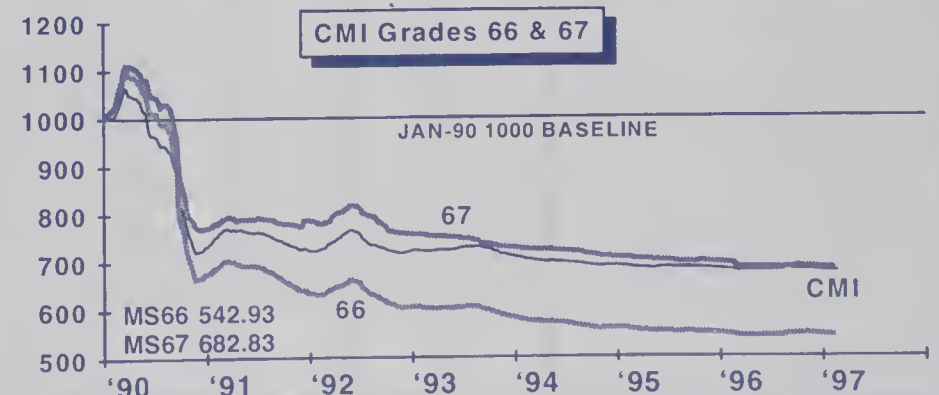

Don't be deceived into thinking that this sale includes only Silver Dollars; there are hundreds of other rarities. Please contact Heritage for a catalogue. Heritage will also have one of their Bullet Sales on January 10th. This sale contains over 700 lots of certified coins. There are better date Buffalo Nickels, Mercury Dimes, Walking Liberty Halves, Type Coins, Gold, and more Silver Dollars. This should be a nice addition to the Heritage Signature Sale.

EVERYONE CLAIMS THEY PAY YOU TOP DOLLAR...
BUT HERE'S PROOF THAT YOU GET THE MOST CASH FOR YOUR COINS FROM THE KING OF CASH

TOP BUYING POWER - THE ABILITY OF A FIRM TO BUY ALL OF YOUR COINS

It can be easy to sell one or two coins. It can be easy to sell your highest grade coins or your rare coins. It's a bit more complicated to sell all of your coins. The major mistake that most collectors make when disposing of their collection is they don't ask enough money for their great coins and they ask too much money for their mediocre coins. They usually sell their great coins immediately and are stuck with the bottom of the barrel. What makes sense is to sell to a firm who needs a broad base of coins. A firm that's comfortable buying a coin for $100,000 or $100. Here are some facts and figures that show that, besides being the top buyer in the country for rarities, Spectrum is also willing to buy virtually any U.S. coin.

In 1996, Spectrum spent a total of over $52,000,000 purchasing rare coins from both other dealers and the public. The largest amount they spent in one transaction was $2,448,630 at the Eliasberg sale. The smallest amount they spent in one transaction was $4 in purchasing a coin from a collector. Last year, Spectrum was willing to pay over $500,000 for a single coin and also as little as $4 for a single coin. Spectrum buys everything from million dollar 1913 Liberty nickels to common date Morgan dollars in low grade.

When you deal with Spectrum Numismatics, you can take comfort in the fact that you are selling to the absolute top buyer for rarities and someone who will buy all of your coins in all price ranges. But there's a lot more.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

When you sell your coins to Spectrum Numismatics you get the following benefits every time.

1. Absolute top dollar for your coins. This is not a shallow claim. The facts clearly show that Spectrum Numismatics is the number one buyer for rare coins.

2. Ultra fast payment. Spectrum Numismatics can pay you any way you choose...you can have a check, you can have a bank wire, you can deliver the coins, or you can mail them. Any way you want to handle the transaction is O.K. with Spectrum and will be handled as quickly as you desire.

3. Ultra efficient service aimed to make it as easy as possible for you to sell your coins. Spectrum has five full time buyers and offices in Southern California, New York, and Minnesota. If you would like a Spectrum buyer to visit you at your convenience, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect any weekday and you can immediately talk to one of our buyers. In fact, Spectrum is so desperate to buy your coins, they'll even pay the price of your shipping the coins, whether or not you decide to sell them to Spectrum.

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH THE KING OF CASH

Spectrum will buy all types of U.S. coins in all price ranges. It's incredibly easy to do a transaction with Spectrum. First, if you would like to ship your coins to Spectrum for a totally risk-free appraisal of your coins, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect at 714/955-1250 and tell them you'd like to speak to one of our buyers. After you describe your coins to the buyer, if they fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. Spectrum will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins (and your shipping expenses) in any form you desire. If, for any reason, you do not want to accept Spectrum's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses.

The second way to sell coins to Spectrum is if your holdings are a sufficient size, a Spectrum buyer can travel to view your coins. Again, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect any weekday.

Sight-Unseen Market Flat As Dealers Attend FUN Show Buying Opportunities Abound At Today's Bids

Judging by the number of Bid changes this week, you might think that the market for certified coins is in hibernation. It isn't, but with the large number of dealers headed for the FUN Show, the teletype systems have definitely been quiet for certified coins. In addition, most dealers have not replaced their Bids that they removed at the end of last year. This combination makes the sight-unseen market appear even quieter than it is.

Upon further reflection many dealers have discussed with us their skepticism as to market direction and are waiting to see what transpires during the FUN Show. They are not concerned about the material that they have a need for on their various want lists. They realize that most of these coins are not readily available and the market will remain steady to higher. What they are concerned about are the generic coins they have in inventory that seem to get cheaper every week because some wholesalers are willing to discount the very same dates and grades. This tends to pull the generic market lower and psychologically, the overall coin market along with it. As long as there is not a steady stream of fresh money coming into the market, willing to buy and remove the generics from dealer inventories, there is no way for the generic market to level off, let alone advance.

While contemplating the subject of generic issues, more than a few dealers feel that there seem to be some extraordinary opportunities in today's marketplace. If you look at last year's Bluesheet and compare prices to today's Bids, you could make a very good case for stockpiling some of the cheaper issues at today's levels. Even the customers with minimal budgets can afford to put away a sizable hoard. We have selected the Dollar series to list some worthy buying opportunities if you can find coins available at just over current Bid levels.

Consider the fact that it costs $10-$15 to have a Silver Dollar certified; also, when dealers send in a common issue to be graded, they are hopeful that it will be a high grade coin. If it comes back as an MS64 or lower, they have wasted their money. If you compare today's Bid of $24 for an 1885O, in MS64, the dealer would have been almost better off selling it raw when you consider the time it takes to have the certifying process completed. If the coin comes back as an MS63, the Bid is just $17. The following chart shows the current Bids of a few generic Dollars compared to last year at this time.

As you can see from this list, there are numerous issues, in other series also, that can be viewed as "opportunities". There are no guarantees that these issues will rebound, but they are definitely low-risk issues at, or just over today's Bid levels.

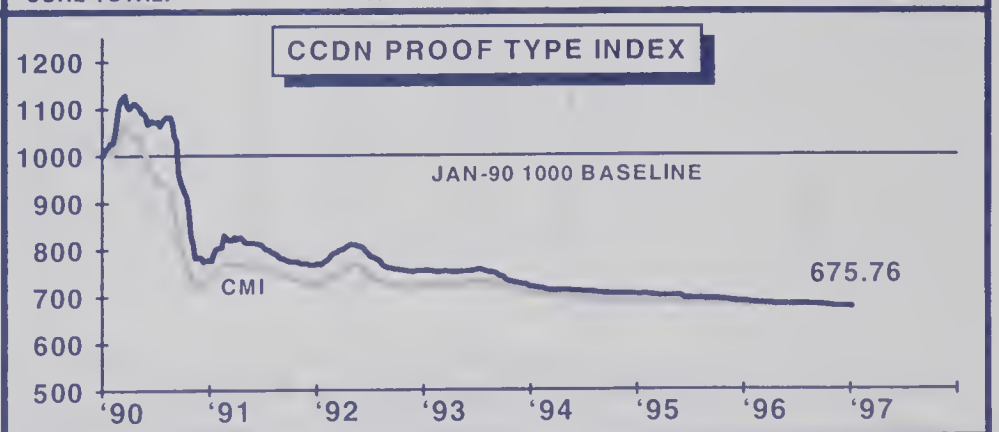

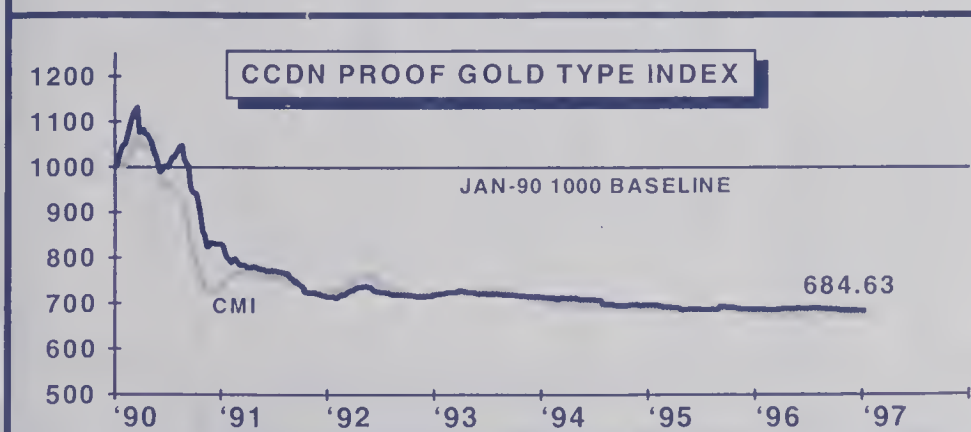

Next week Stack's will conduct their first sale of 1997 (Jan. 15 & 16). The Empire State Collection contains numerous certified rarities. The following list comprises just a few of the highlights. Please contact Stack's, in New York, for a catalogue.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

COMMEMORATIVES
Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albcit, on a sight basis.

The Four Components of the CoinAlysis™ System

- 1. Market Capitalization... An excellent way to compare coins of the same type and grade within the same category. Simply speaking, Market Capitalization is certified supply times the price.
- 2. Value Differential... Favorable ratings are given to coins that have a higher potential of increasing in price. This is based twofold... The first is the percentage difference in value between the coin price and the value of the coin in the next higher grade. Secondly the percentage difference in value between the coin's current market price and the value of the coin's all-time-high price.
- 3. Affordability & Supply... Coins with either very low or very high populations may receive an unfavorable supply rating or not be rated at all. Also coins that are very expensive may receive an unfavorable affordability rating.
- 4. Trading Activity & Popularity... Coins with excellent trading activity on the Certified Quote Service (CQS) or at trade conventions receive favorable ratings. Coins that have historically shown greater demand from the public and dealers receive a high popularity rating.

FUN Committee Treats Dealers To Profitable Show Florida Auctions Keep Dealers and Collectors Busy

What began with trepidation, gradually turned into a very interesting and profitable FUN Show for the majority of dealers. In the last year, we found many dealers at coin shows sitting and waiting for business to come to them. The FUN Show began somewhat the same way as dealers were hopeful that someone else would sound the charge. The first couple of days were quiet, but prescnted aggressive buyers with an opportunity to purchase coins at very reasonable levels. As the show progressed to the third day, a buzz began to fill the room. Many dealers quickly commented that this was a familiar sound that had been missing from previous shows.

The "buzz" brought with it very active coin trading. Dealers who purchased bargains at the beginning of the show soon found that they could make profits on a quick turnaround. If it wasn't for the coins having been ear-marked for their customers back home, they could have re-sold them at higher levels to other dealers. 1997 was underway and dealers were actually busy throughout the rest of the show. What we noticed that we thought was quite significant was the fact that most dealers were not just sitting at their tables waiting for business, they were out on the bourse floor creating trades. This, of course, exacerbated the activity as it increased rapidly throughout the show.

Even the generic market seemed to pick up considerably as we saw common date Morgan and Peace Dollars trading at and above our listed Bid levels. This was the case for MS61 through MS65 coins. The good news here is that there seem to be some major dealers gearing up for a retail blitz. At these levels it is no wonder that someone began to stockpile these coins. We confirmed one deal of over 4,000 MS64 Morgans changing hands at over the previous Bids.

We encountered some very interesting sales of Gem quality coins around the bourse room. One such sale reported that an 1895 Pr67 Morgan Dollar, graded by PCGS, changed hands at $42,500. An 1802 PCGS Pr65 Draped Bust Dollar, was purchased and then sold to a client at over $160,000. Another coin that would knock your socks off was an 1883 NGC Pr67 Trade Dollar, that sold to a dealer and then a customer for over $26,000. There were numerous sales that fall into this category; one dealer alone reported that they had sold at least 10-15 coins that were priced over the $20,000 figure, some over $100,000.

The three auctions during the FUN Show (actually four with the Currency Auctions of America Sale) produced a tremendous number of sales, thus bringing more coins onto the market. The first sale was conducted by Auctions by Bowers and Merena. This was a one session sale with 500 lots; prices realized was nearly $3 million. A few of the highlights follow:

DENOMINATION	GRADE	PRICE REALIZED
1855/54 Seated Half	NGC Pr64	$16,500
1920S Walker	PCGS65	$9,350
1921D Walker	PCGS65	$9,900

1868S $20 Liberty Gold	NGC62	$19,800
1907 St. $20 Ultra High Relief	PCGS-Pr67	$660,000

The Heritage Bullet Sale contained over 700 lots, of which over 400 sold.

Some highlights are listed below:

DENOMINATION	GRADE	PRICE REALIZED
1859 Indian Cent CN	PCGS Pr64	$2,035
1877S Seated Quarter	PCGS66	$3,630
1886 Seated Quarter	NGC Pr67	$3,520

1904 L&C Gold Commem	PCGS64	$2,393

The Heritage Fun Sale was filled with a myriad of collector delights. An 1889CC Morgan Dollar, in NGC63, brought way above sight-unseen Bid at $17,825; just a few lots later, an 1897O Morgan, in PCGS66, realized a whopping $54,625, also well above sight-unseen Bid. Dollar collectors must have had a field-day with all the high grade rarities in this sale.

Due to space limitations we will report other highlights from this important sale next week.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

YOU TELL US –

DO WE CONTINUE TO WORK ON THE CALIFORNIA SALES TAX NEXUS???

We've made tremendous progress; key CA legislators tell us that 1997 is the year to achieve our goals; we've got a great lobbyist. We know that other states (including Florida) are taking a close look at conventions right now. In fact, a recent court case in Florida would likely support our position. California is a key state whose example other states are likely to follow. BUT to re-start the Project, we must raise at least $25,000-30,000 by February 15; if funds are not raised, we cannot proceed. We know you're strapped. BUT, if you want us to continue, please donate. If you don't contribute, that's a "vote" too. All monies raised to date have been spent directly on the Project.

YES, WE NEED THE CALIFORNIA TAX PROBLEMS RESOLVED!
ENCLOSED IS MY DONATION OF $_____.

Auctions Maintain Grip On Market Share Peaceful Market Preserves Solid Pace

As we venture into 1997, we are finding that the auction scene continues to be of utmost importance. If you have a rare coin for sale, and you are not sure who the high buyer for that particular issue may be, it just might behoove you to place it with one of the important firms in the industry. By doing so, you receive tremendous marketing through the auction company with their full-color catalog, which is then mailed to all the major buyers in the industry. This is the kind of marketing that an individual cannot afford to buy. This is how the "big-name" coins have sold in the past and realized such high prices; rarities such as, the King of Siam Set, the 1913 Liberty Nickel, the 1804 Dollar, and numerous others.

The recent FUN Show auctions indicate that dealers and collectors enjoy the opportunity to mix and match purchases as they attend shows with auctions in conjunction with each other. As we reported last week, the Heritage Signature Sale contained so many highlights that we wanted to continue with some of the more important individual listings this week (see inset above).

As you check prices in this week's CCDN, you should note that there are several instances where the auction price is listed in the market column and it is considerably beneath the listed Bid price. In these cases, the market may be better defined at the lower prices. We will research the previous high buyers and determine if Bids for these coins need to drop further. For various issues, it may be that the auction buyer was able to acquire these specimens at very equitable numbers and the Bids will continue to hold firm. However, in other cases, an increase in population figures may mean that the coins are overpriced and the latest auction information is more in line with today's value. Further, if the previous high buyers are now sellers at current levels, this also could cause prices to falter.

Stack's conducted the Empire State Collection Sale on January 15th & 16th. There was a very fervent group of floor bidders in attendance along with a significant number of mail bidders. There were numerous uncertified rarities, although we will stick with the certified highlights here.

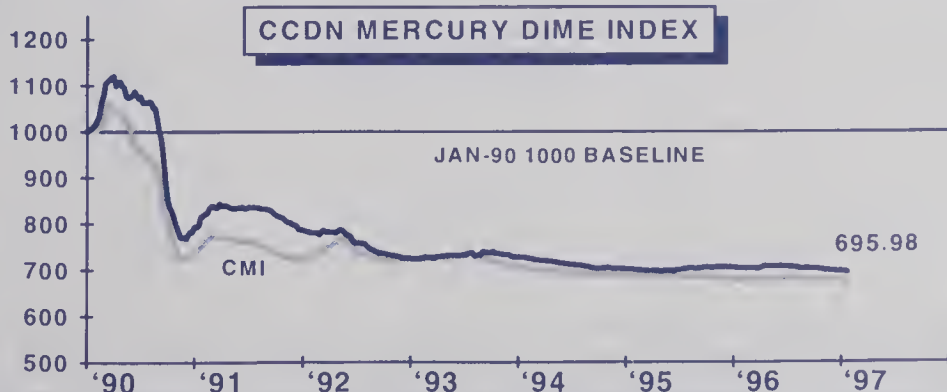

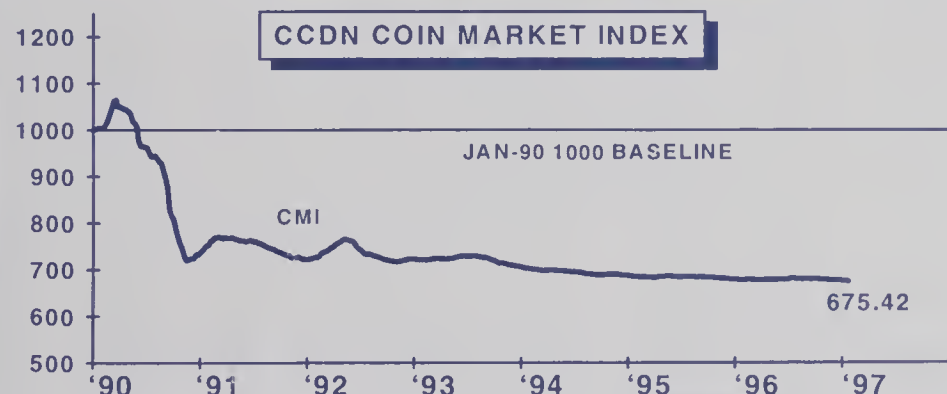

This week's sight-unseen Bidding activity still lacks the aggressiveness that we have become accustomed to seeing. While numerous teletype dealers have been attending the FUN Show and the San Jose Show to start the new year, we would think that by the fourth week of the new year, dealers would start revamping their Bids. At the other extreme, the number of discounted sellers does not appear to be on the rise. We are monitoring only occasional discounted coins as most dealers seek to maintain present levels. It seems that most dealers realize the negative impact that minus signs have on the overall market. We have heard of and seen several deals where the buyer and seller trade coins in lump sum transactions so the breakdown of prices will not be available to us in order to determine the actual sell price of individual coins.

So far this year, the major coin shows seem to be gaining some strength. Activity is on the upswing as collectors are very interested in purchasing coins at what they believe to be bargain levels. If you review some of the charts of various issues, you will find that the cycle points downward and Bid prices are resting at their lowest levels in many years.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder
In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

PCGS DMPL and NGC DPL Bids are for fully Deep Mirror Prooflike coins. Bids for PCGS PL and NGC PL dollars (semi-prooflike or one-sided PL) will be listed monthly in a supplemental insert. CDN (Greysheet) Bids have always represented fully deep mirror prooflike specimens.

CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at these Bid levels. Client or sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher levels in many cases.

"No serious coin investor can be successful without using the CoinAlysis Report."
Mark Yaffe
Nat'l Gold Exchange

"The CoinAlysis is the best guide available to identify undervalued coins, and is an easy to understand report."
Fred Weinberg

The Four Components of the CoinAlysis™ System

- 1. Market Capitalization... An excellent way to compare coins of the same type and grade within the same category. Simply speaking, Market Capitalization is certified supply times the price.
- 2. Value Differential... Favorable ratings are given to coins that have a higher potential of increasing in price. This is based twofold... The first is the percentage difference in value between the coin price and the value of the coin in the next higher grade. Secondly the percentage difference in value between the coin's current market price and the value of the coin's all-time-high price.
- 3. Affordability & Supply... Coins with either very low or very high populations may receive an unfavorable supply rating or not be rated at all. Also coins that are very expensive may receive an unfavorable affordability rating.
- 4. Trading Activity & Popularity... Coins with excellent trading activity on the Certified Quote Service (CQS) or at trade conventions receive favorable ratings. Coins that have historically shown greater demand from the public and dealers receive a high popularity rating.

All Coins Are Not Alike!

Common Coins Are Reasonably Priced; Better Coins May Be Bargains

Can you believe that we are into the new year one month already? Is business improving over last year? If you look at the generic issues in all series, you will find that they still tend to the downside. Why does this occur week after week? If you make proper use of the population reports of the various grading services, you will find the answer. Select a specific coin and grade; for instance, the 1885O Morgan Dollar in MS63, MS64, and MS65, all graded by PCGS and NGC for purposes of this study. There have been 27,062 coins graded MS63; 40,375 as MS64; and 14,005 as MS65. If you multiply these numbers by the current sight-unseen Bids, at first glance, you will come up with what may not seem like astronomical totals, but after careful consideration you will soon realize that these numbers represent the problem with dealers Bidding sight-unseen for coins.

All coins are not alike! However, if you are going to Bid sight-unseen for MS63 1885O Morgans, the capitalization for 27,062 @ $16 each, comes out to $432,992; in MS64, 40,375 @ $24 each, totals $969,000; and MS65 where there have been 14,005 coins graded, with a Bid of $77, this totals $1,078,385. When you add these numbers together, the total capitalization for the 1885O Morgan, in MS63, 64, & 65 is $2,480,377. Keep in mind that this is for PCGS and NGC coins only. When you add to this number the totals from ANACS and PCI, you soon realize that it would take several million dollars to buy up all of these issues. A further realization may stun you. This is but one date in a series that contains between 15 and 25 common dates depending on the specific grades. It is no wonder that these coins have fallen to their lowest Bids in many years.

Remember the first sentence in the last paragraph. It is the most important statement in all of numismatics. All coins are not alike! The reason dealers and collectors buy coins in the first place is because they like them. There are lots of common dates that sell to dealers at higher levels than the sight-unseen Bid of the specific coin. That is because the buyer likes the look of the coin. Granted, there are buyers of coins who want only those coins that are priced "right". They may not care what their coin looks like, they just want to fill a "price" need. This is a legitimate methodology in collecting coins— according to price. In fact, this is most likely the way many collectors begin their search for coins. But, it is not the way most sophisticated collectors purchase coins. They buy coins by eye-appeal first with price consideration a secondary issue. Collectors know what their budget will allow. They want to buy the best coin for their money. This is the way it has always been and this is the way it shall remain.

Sight-unseen Bidding for common coins is a wonderful theory if coins were to trade like stocks. Sight-unseen Bids will reveal a basal value, but it will not determine what a "nicer" coin is worth to a potential buyer. Sight-unseen Bids will reveal the capitalization for a particular issue in a specific grade. If that is what you want, that is what you get. What you do not get is a sight-unseen market, for common coins, that is likely to rise because more coins are added to the population figures every day and there is not a substantial increase in the number of collectors entering the coin market. If you take this one step further, and add up all the high pop issues for all the common coins, the total population will be into the millions and the capitalization will be hundreds of millions of dollars if not a billion dollars. There is no way that our industry can absorb all that value unless we increase our base of buyers. Thus, the same common issues rotate around the coin shops and bourse floors while prices decline more.

The point here is that the common issues are not a proper gauge of the rare coin market. When you remove all the common issues from the formula (the measure of the market), what you have remaining are the better-date and rare coins. These are the coins that truly represent the coin market. These are the specimens that every dealer and collector strives to own. These coins are not purchased sight-unseen; they are thoroughly examined, discussed, researched, purchased and then envied. While dealers and collectors are pursuing the better issues, the common issues should not be allowed to drag the overall market to psychological lows. Remember: common issues may be similar, but, all coins are not alike!

Superior Stamp & Coin is readying for its upcoming Gainsborough II Sale. It will take place on February 17th & 18th, in their Beverly Hills Gallery. Featured will be many outstanding certified rarities. A sampling is shown:

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

Not Everything Falls In The Sight-Unseen Market Careful Examination Reveals Low-Pop Bargains

Even though it may seem as if the whole market is crumbling around you, such is not the case. If you look at the various series in the weekly chart below, you will see that the overall market is quite steady. Now we know that some of you only see the negative side of the market. You see the common issues fall week after week. You tend to notice this more because these are the coins you deal with on a daily basis. Even some of the so-called better issues tend to fall once-in-a-while. Although, these typically decline because they are the low-end issues and they are sold at a discount to another dealer at a lower-than-usual sight-unseen Bid. These are coins that dealers do not want to sell to their customers because they do not want to buy them back at a later date. These are coins that are better suited to have been certified at one grade lower, or, not at all.

These low-end coins are the ones that have created the negative atmosphere in the marketplace. Why would you place a strong competitive Bid for a coin, where the populations are significantly high and you might be forced to purchase one of these low-end issues? Most dealers do not want to buy the "ugly" coins; that is why you do not see as many sight-unseen Bids in the marketplace any longer. That is why the sight-unseen market is suffering; from an overpopulation of low-end coins. These are not the coins dealers are willing to pay high Bids for; these are not the coins customers want to buy and put away for many years. These are the coins that all dealers would like to sell to other dealers, or, to the customers who envision themselves as pseudo-dealers that think they can squeeze full-time dealers and buy coins for Bid.

These low-end coins are at reasonable levels because there will always be collectors who buy according to price, not just quality. Many of these coins were eight to ten times higher in value in the last ten years. When prices were going crazy in the early '80s, even the low-end coins brought "big dollars". Charts will show that these coins are at their lowest point in many years. There are people who believe in charts and will buy accordingly. When upper-end quality coins take-off, it will carry the low-end coins with them. It is inevitable!

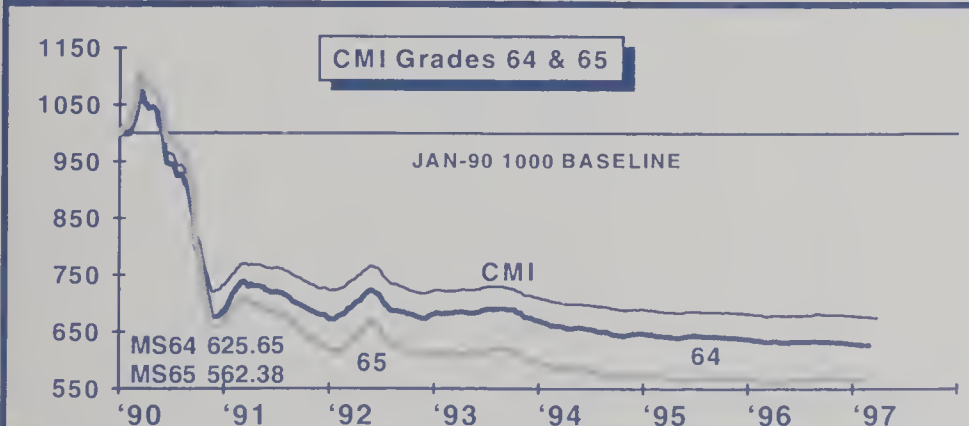

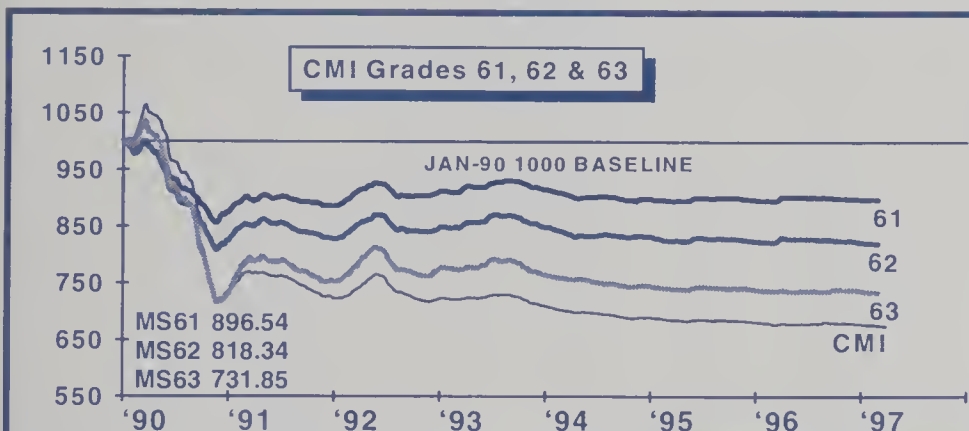

There are two ways to sell coins in our humble opinion. One, is to sell the coin for what it is, based on price. Give the buyer value for the purchase price; make sure they know what it is and that a more eye-appealing coin may cost significantly more. Secondly, you can sell coins based on quality. Now quality comes in many states. It can have eye-appeal; it can be rare (low mintage); it can be rare (low population); it can have eye-appeal and be rare. This is what every dealer and collector wants; but not all can afford. Do you want price, or, do you want quality? You must decide!

The point we are trying to make here is that the current condition of the sight-unseen market is not near as important to the nature of buying coins as one might think. Nice eye-appealing coins and rare coins (sight-seen) will sell for above Bid levels according to what they are really worth. Low-end coins will bring sight-unseen levels. This is also what they are worth. There are buyers for all types of coins. The dealer and collector have to decide what he is trying to accomplish. If neither knows, it becomes a most difficult proposition. It is almost impossible to sell an expensive pair of shoes to a one-legged blind person.

The weakness in sight-unseen Bidding activity seems to be related primarily to the fact that dealers are concerned about the quality of coin they might receive. If they knew they were not going to get "slammed" with a dark ugly coin, they have said they would Bid higher. However, some issues just drift lower because of the lack of Bids due to very limited trading activity. In many cases, it is just a matter of dealers posting higher bids instead of ignoring various issues. Prices would rise, yet the new bids would not actually create any marked increase in sales because these bids are still too low. Typically, when coins rise, potential sellers will ask more than the Bid anyway. Normally, sellers do not discount into rising markets, only falling markets. Of course, this exacerbates the downward trend further.

There are many examples of this situation throughout the various series. Many dealers feel that it does not behoove them to offer sight-unseen Bids, that it is just a waste of their time. Therefore, many issues sit idly, at low levels, when the majority of coins cannot be bought at these unrealistic prices. If dealers had the time to study the population reports of the grading services, it would be an enlightening examination of the potential of the hundreds of issues that could be elevated to higher levels without buying all that many coins.

History Is No Guarantee Of Future Performance It Can Sure Help To Have A Complete Set Of Tools

If you believe that history has a habit of repeating itself, then you believe that numismatics should be in for quite a treat. History may not guarantee future performance, but it sure helps to know whence prices came. Past performance can be a beneficial guide when used in a properly supervised program along with other professional tools. We have been doing some research lately of price performance over the last several years. When you study prices for the sight-unseen market, previous Bids are of little or no use unless you have knowledge of all other factors that went into the development of the prices at the time being used for comparison. You also need to know the condition of the marketplace and the populations of the coins being studied.

We decided to do a comparison of the Proof 65 Type market from January 5, 1990, to February 14, 1997. Believe it or not, there are actually five issues that have increased since 1990. However, as you may have surmised, the bulk of Proof 65 issues are down markedly. Numerous issues have fallen well over 70% from the highs of this date. Furthermore, many of these issues had been higher in mid 1989, but that is another study. The overall market in January 1990, was mixed with a myriad of plus and minus signs throughout the CCDN. This sounds fairly positive since the certified sight-unseen market had fallen from its all-time highs in June of 1989. At least there were issues with plus signs. The previous chart shows some of the performance figures of Proof 65 Type in the last seven years.

You will notice that the first four issues indicate nice profits over this time frame. Back in 1990, these four issues had a total of zero population. Today, there are fifteen coins certified; this does not take into account any coins that may have been certified twice. At the other end of the spectrum, you will find that all of the coins listed in our chart have sizable increases in their respective populations. This is just one more element to include in the equation when you try to determine the proper price level at which you decide to purchase these coins.

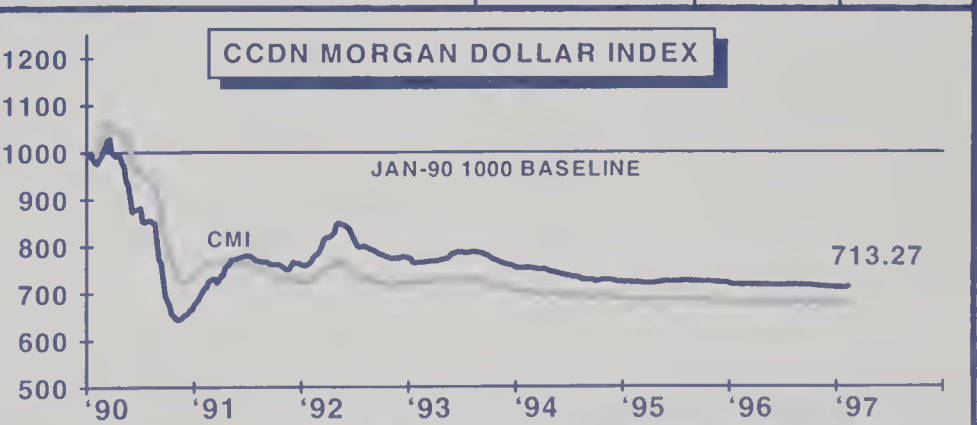

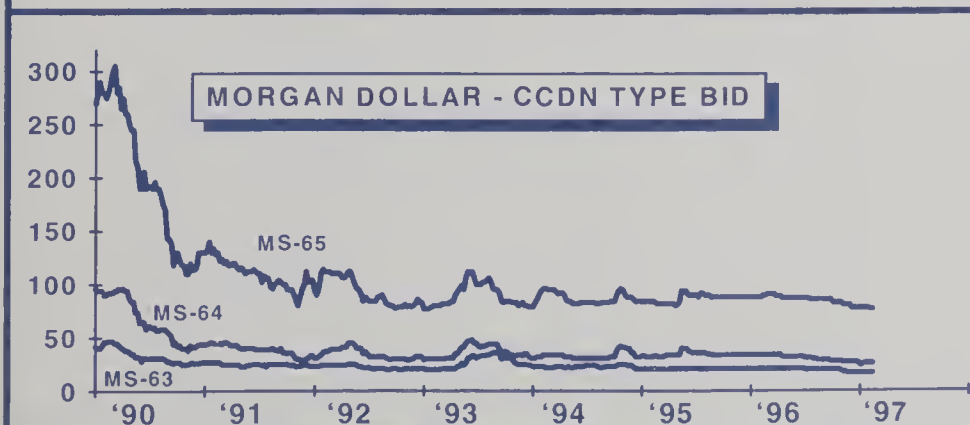

What have we learned here? First, nearly all of the issues listed are sitting at levels that are just a fraction of their 1990 highs. In most cases, they were even higher a few months earlier. Second, you must take into consideration the increase in the populations of these issues. Where you find deep discounts and a nominal increase in the population, such as the Liberty Seated Dime, Arrows (1873-1874), PCGS 12 ~ 22, and NGC 11 ~ 17, you may find that these may represent reasonable purchases at this time. Third, the condition of the market today seems quite lethargic to most dealers. This does not mean the market is terrible. There are lots of astute dealers and collectors buying coins today and putting them away because they feel that they are at such reasonable levels that they will eventually come out way ahead.

By lethargic we mean that the multitude of dealers and collectors are just trying to survive in a market that has too few buyers to satisfy all the coin proprietorships in the country. The market psychology is negative and many dealers are trying to sell common coins to collectors who already own all the common coins they need. This is like trying to sell ice to Eskimos. Yet, by presenting various methods to study previous price performance, all dealers will be better equipped to determine which coins they think are the best buys for the future. Moreover, rather than waiting for business to improve, dealers can use studies like the one above to go out and create additional business.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

ATTENTION ALL COIN DEALERS... WHEELER DEALERS... AND COLLECTORS, TOO!

THERE'S SOME MONEY WAITING FOR YOU IN CALIFORNIA

Spectrum Numismatics, the number one buyer of rare coins in this country, desperately needs your coins. Spectrum will do anything within reason to acquire those coins including:

Cash On The Spot! Last year we spent $63,287,952 purchasing rare coins from dealers and collectors. A lot of people claim to pay top prices but Spectrum puts its money where its mouth is and we offer immediate payment.

Finder's Fees. If you bump into a deal and don't want to get involved, you can still make money by helping Spectrum purchase the deal. We pay extremely generous finder's fees to anyone who helps us buy coins. In 1996, Spectrum paid $760,033.27 in finder's fees and commissions to other dealers.

Trades. We're willing to consider any reasonable trade that allows us to acquire the coins we need to satisfy our coin-hungry clients. If you'd like to trade your rare coins for bullion, other rare coins, or just about anything, there's a high probability that we can arrange a transaction that meets your needs.

Financing. Spectrum has money and needs coins. If you have coins and need money, Spectrum has numerous financing packages to help you.

Long Beach Expo To Attract Nation's Top Dealers Down, Up, Down; Does Swiveling Gold Influence Market?

The Long Beach Expo is about to begin as we go to press. The majority of the nation's top dealers will be in attendance to see if Gold has any lingering influence on the certified coin market. What seems like fifty years ago, but is really only fifteen, the price of Gold moving up and down could change the attitude of the coin market even if the principle coins trading were copper, nickel, and silver. I am sure that if the price of Gold advanced dramatically, we would see renewed interest in all coins because of the overflow effect. Whenever people make profits in Gold, they tend to transfer some of those profits to numismatic coins, over and above the Gold coins they had purchased.

So, the movements of Gold, in the past, have had a tremendous psychological effect on the attitudes of coin buyers and sellers. Over the last five years, this tendency has been less of an influence mainly because Gold has not performed all that well. The exception would be a year ago around the Long Beach Show when Gold actually rose to over $415 an ounce. Everybody became a buyer and all coins were in demand. However, the past year has seen Gold steadily drop to its current level of $345. While most dealers feel that this downward tendency has little to do with the certified market, they all realize that an upward reversal would be quite helpful.

Most dealers feel that the reason the overall certified market appears to be drifting aimlessly is because of the tremendous increase in the number of coins that have been graded for many of the more common issues. We have seen numerous high grade (MS67 & Pr 67) common date coins that were Bid over $2,000, that are now well under $1,000 because for a long while the population was under five. As months turn into years, these populations have increased to 25, 50 and even higher. This obviously places more supplies on the market and if the demand is not sufficient, prices will fall.

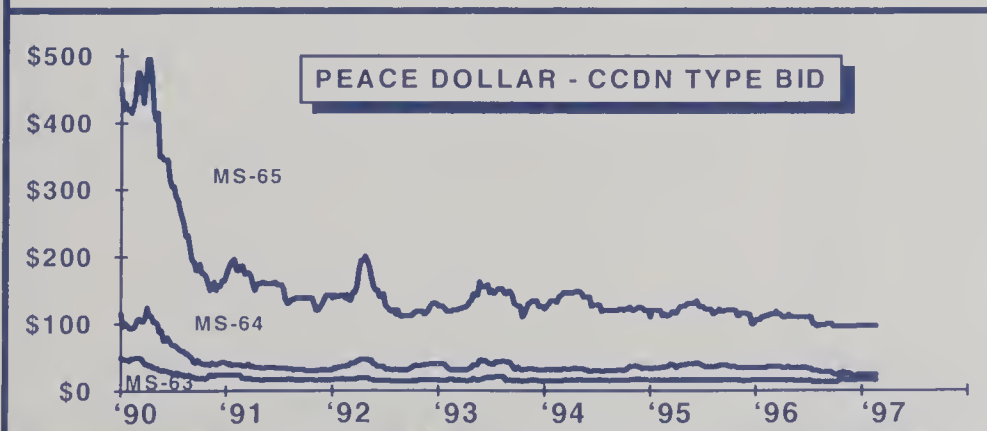

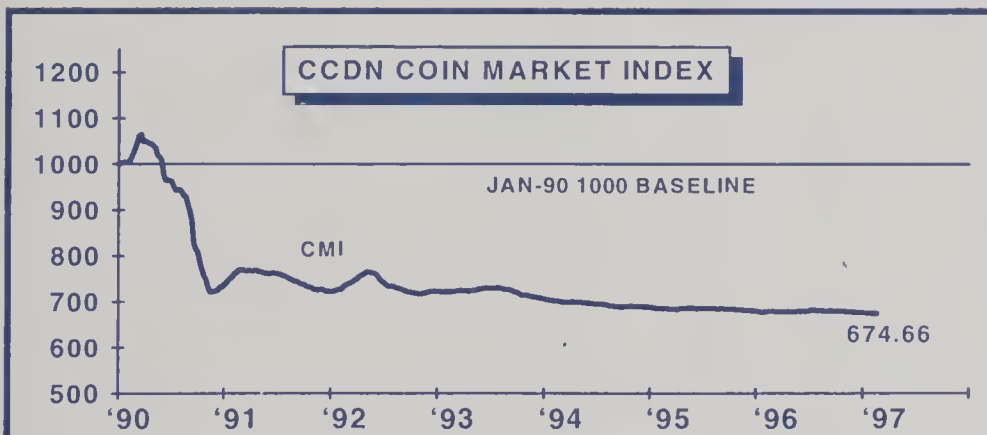

To counteract this situation, more dealers are doing research in numismatics. They are studying pricing charts of past performance, and selecting coins that have a fairly stable population base. They recommend these issues to their customers, and in many cases, astute buyers are taking advantage of the opportunities that make the most sense to them. If a dealer presents his customer with a selection of ten nice coins with individual pricing histories and calculated population figures, that coincide with the current price, the customer is compelled to select those issues that best meet his/her criteria. Numerous dealers have related success stories with this approach.

The answer to our original question is that a rising Gold market can put a positive spin on the certified market, although, a lethargic Gold market can create a myriad of opportunities for those buyers who have the discretionary income to take advantage of today's lower prices. The main difference being that with Gold rising, there are more buyers who are willing to jump into the market. With Gold being erratic, the total of potential buyers with the available money to organize their numismatic futures is markedly less in number.

Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., is conducting a 1400+ lot Bullet Sale this week at the Long Beach Expo. Among the highlights will be the following selections:

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

The World's Most Important Coins Are Consistently Graded By NGC

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the Eliasberg-Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, the world's most famous (and most valuable!) coin. Or, the two PF-68 Extremely High Relief $20 St. Gaudens gold pieces. The magnificent 1822 half eagle. Not to mention many of the most important coins from the Byron Reed, Eliasberg, and Trompeter Collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is just to name a few examples.

While we are grading many of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, an average of more than 33,000 coins per month in 1996. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently and impartially.

This is why NGC has been endorsed by the ANA and is the grading service of choice for the world's finest collections, the world's finest coins and more of your coins. It's also why we now have the largest dealer network at 1,200-plus (and growing) member dealers.

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the profession. NGC was first to offer World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, an Economy tier, and the Doctor: "It is my pleasure to most highly recommend Mr. Richard Nachbar as a person of the greatest integrity, honesty and courtesy of anyone with whom I have ever dealt... He did it with alacrity and honesty - more than anyone in my previous experience. He was quick, decisive and extremely knowledgeable. I cannot recommend him strongly enough." M.B.

Trust Banker: "We received a bid of $201,540 from the top regional firm, a bid of $223,322 from the top national firm, and the high bid of $282,155 from Mr. Nachbar. The high bid was 26% over the next highest bid... I found them to be extremely professional, friendly and easy to work with. I highly recommend their services..." D.M.B.

Lawyer: *"... I sold my entire collection to Jack Hunt Rare Coins... Having been an attorney for over 20 years and having negotiated numerous deals on behalf of clients, it was refreshing to have the opportunity to deal with a totally honest and ethical firm for my own account. Mr. Nachbar offered the absolute top dollar for my collection... I can only say that I wish everyone with whom I dealt were as knowledgeable, honest, and reasonable as Mr. Nachbar and his company. Market Shows Improvement At Long Beach Expo Superior Sale Loaded With Rarities

From the reports we received at the Long Beach Expo, you would think dealers just completed their ninth straight successful coin show. Not that the dealer community is abuzz with excitement, but it is a worthy achievement that dealers can adjust their attitudes very quickly. The market is not budding with enthusiasm, but dealers are enjoying the improvement they see in the marketplace over last year's final quarter. Beginning with the FUN Show and continuing with Long Beach, most dealers are finding an increase in activity at shows; it also helps that want lists are expanding as their regular customers are trying to take advantage of today's more reasonable price levels.

The next few shows should have a considerable impact on the state of the coin market. The Baltimore-Washington Show starts off March and the ANA Early Spring Show in Cleveland, rounds out the month. April will bring the dealer community to Indianapolis for the Central States Show. This is always an active time of the year and draws from numerous states. With the potential of these major shows, it would be nice if we had a little mini-rally in Gold also. However, even without Gold rising, the expanded want lists should play an important role in numismatics for the next couple of months.

Dealers continue to report that their customers have been encouraged over the fact that Bid levels allow them to purchase coins today at mere fractions of their highs from a few years ago. At the Long Beach Show, we had several opportunities to view transactions between dealers and their customers. The dealers seem to be spending more time in an effort to educate the customers and the customers, if they are not already numismatists, are trying to learn more about the coins they are buying. We even heard a couple of non-dealers explain that they were quite interested in spending large sums of money for coins over the next few years, but they are going to work with the dealers who are willing to help educate them. This is what the coin business needs, better educated collectors. And dealers who are willing to invest the time for their future.

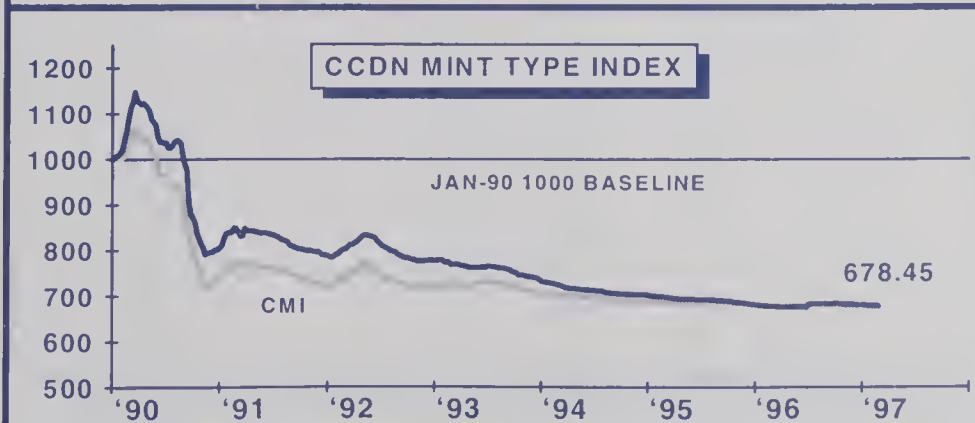

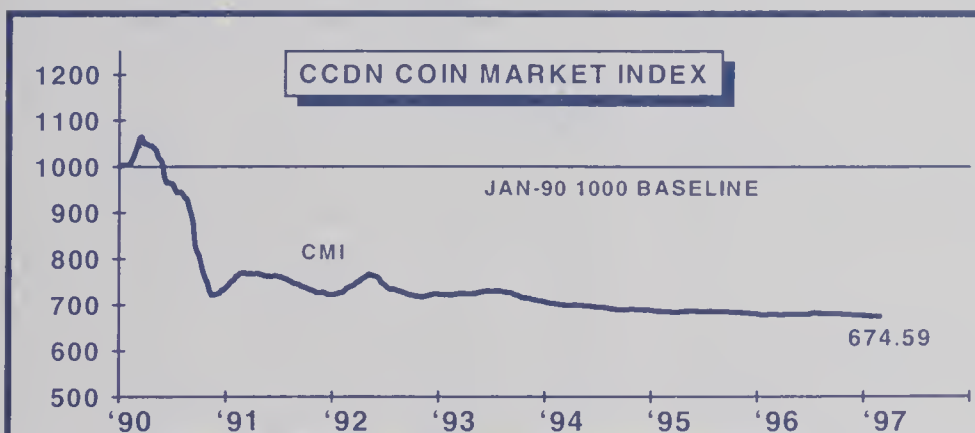

A few dealers have asked us lately, "If the FUN Show and other coin shows have been successful (and they have been), why is the certified market continuing to decline?" This seems like an easy question to answer, but sometimes these innocent questions wind up being the most difficult. Suffice to say that the coin shows have shown improvement, business at coin shops also appears to be on the rise, auctions continue strong and rare-date/better-date coins are displaying much promise. However, the sight-unseen market for common issues continues to be lackluster. Occasionally, we will find marketmakers who are willing to take a stand and support various areas of the generic market, but, there is not enough fresh money to take large quantities of this material off the market. What is supported one week, becomes discounted the next. Until the generic issues are removed from the marketplace in abundant quantities, they will remain a protuberance overhanging the market.

Last week's Superior Stamp & Coin Gainsborough II Sale was one of their best in a very long time. According to one of their representatives, they had more bidders (including mail bidders) competing for these rarities than they had expected. The final results produced over $4.2 million in prices realized. Among the highlights are: (see inset)

There were many other rarities that brought high prices; some were not as yet certified, but soon should be.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.

Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important we use the following timing symbols: 'w' - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); 'm' - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); 't' - Trade during the most recent month; 'lm' - Lowest asking price appearing last month; 'lt' - Trade appearing last month; 'ot' - Trade older than 2 months; ' ' - a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; 'a' - for auction transactions; 'oa' - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

$100,000 EVERY 3 HOURS & 38 MINUTES!

THAT'S HOW MUCH MONEY THE KING OF CASH SPENT IN 1996! DID YOU GET YOUR SHARE?

Spectrum Numismatics International, the buyers of the 1913 Liberty Nickel and the King of Siam Proof Set, spent $54,806,629 purchasing rare coins in 1996.

As you can see, Spectrum has a huge appetite for rare coins. There were 248 working days in 1996. If you figure a work day at 8 hours, that means, Spectrum spent $100,000 every 3 hours and 38 minutes! Spectrum needs to buy your coins and is willing to pay absolute top dollar.

IF YOU WANT TO GET THE MOST MONEY FOR YOUR COINS...
GO DIRECTLY TO THE SOURCE.

The amazing thing about the $54,806,629 worth of rare coins that Spectrum purchased in 1996, is that only $2,185,155 were purchased directly from the public. If you want to sell coins to the ultimate buyer, if you want to get as much money as possible for your coins, then shouldn't you go directly to the source? Shouldn't you go directly to the King of Cash?

WHAT KIND OF COINS CAN YOU SELL TO THE KING OF CASH?

Spectrum paid $962,500 for the 1913 Liberty Nickel. And we paid $1,815,000 for the King of Siam Proof Set. But the facts are that 90% of Spectrum's purchases are for coins less than $5,000. And 18% of Spectrum's purchases are for coins less than $200.

While Spectrum is the nation's top dollar buyer of ultra rare United States coins, Spectrum is also the major buyer for moderately priced United States numismatic coins. Here's a short list of some of the items that King of Cash is currently interested in buying: Original BU bags of Morgan Peace dollars, BU rolls of Walking Liberty 50C and Mercury dimes, ALL BU gold coins, pre-1916 Type coins in all grades, pre-1943 Proof coins and sets, and especially COMPLETE COLLECTIONS!

HOW TO CASH IN

If you've decided that you want to trade all or some of your coins for cash, you should know that it's really easy to do business with Spectrum. If you have rare coins for sale and you want to sell them for as much money as possible, then all you have to do is pick up the phone any weekday between 9:00 am and 5:00 pm California time and call the Spectrum cash line 714-955-1250 collect. Ask for Greg or Thad and tell them you have coins for sale. TELL THEM YOU WANT TO TALK TO THE KING OF CASH.

Market Growth Continues In Specialized Areas High Population Coins Overhang Marketplace

Mark 1997 on your calendar as the year that "market specialization" began to take a firm stand within numismatics. The true collector is alive and doing remarkably well. You may not see it in these pages, but what do you expect? Numismatics is the study and collecting of rare and not-so-rare coins. Collecting coins is performed on a sight-seen basis. It is not likely that the sight-unseen market can support such a positive outlook of numismatics. Considering the fact that sight-unseen Bids were originally intended to be for nice coins that were properly graded, we found that the more coins were graded, the lower the sight-unseen Bids became.

As the populations rise, the distance between the high-end and the low-end coins within a specific date and grade becomes very wide. As consistent as the grading services try to be, when you certify thousands of coins in one grade category, there appears quite a difference between the best and the worst within that grade. There is a direct correlation between the number of coins graded and the sight-unseen Bid. As you can see from today's rare issues, when you have less than ten coins graded, dealers have a better opportunity to keep track of the quality of those ten coins. They know the variance from the high-end to the low-end. When there are thousands of coins within the same grade category, dealers are less confident of the overall quality that they may receive for their sight-unseen Bids.

Another factor thrown into the sight-unseen Bidding formula is the color of the coin; that is, the toning. Some dealers like toning, some don't. Some toning is pretty, some is ugly. Collectors will not buy ugly coins. So it is difficult to Bid for coins sight-unseen, when you know you might receive an ugly looking coin for your Bid. Therefore, many dealers will not Bid sight-unseen for common coins (rare ones either). That, of course, reduces the amount of money that dealers appear to offer for various coins. In fact, that may not be the entire picture.

As we have seen with legitimate sight-seen Bids, many dealers have customers who fully understand the coin market and the vagaries of grading. Collectors want coins that they can be satisfied in knowing that many dealers would want to buy them back at a later date. Dealers are finding that collectors are becoming more sophisticated today, and they want better value for their money. This is why the overall market is better than the sight-unseen market may reveal. As long as the thousands of common graded coins overhang the marketplace, it will be difficult for the sight-unseen market to appear positive.

Further, many dealers and their collector customers are reaffirming the fact that you get what you pay for. If you pay a cheap price for a sight-unseen coin, you are not as likely to receive as pleasing a coin as when you pay a little more and get the opportunity to view the coin before laying down your hard-earned money. Besides, only dealers buy coins sight-unseen; collectors don't.

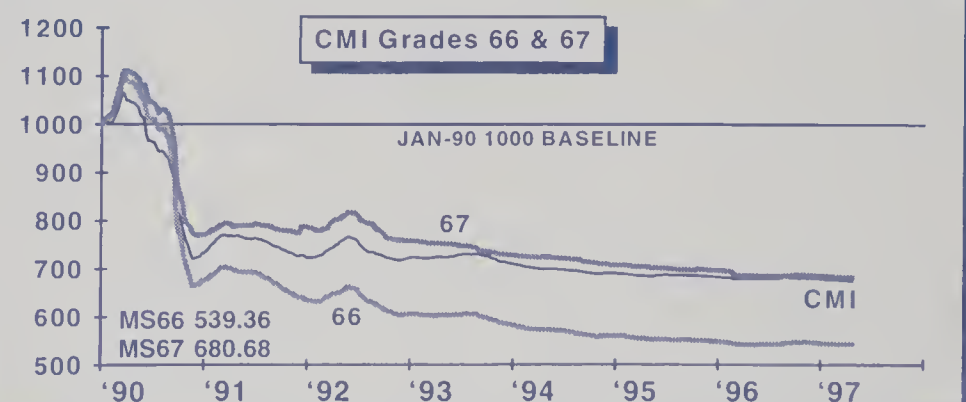

Where does that leave the marketplace for sight-unseen Bids in the Bluesheet? They should be used as a point to begin negotiations. They are representative of basal value for the most common coins within a particular grade. If you want to purchase a coin within a grade and do not care what it looks like, then a price around the Bid level is generally appropriate. If you are looking for a nice coin, and you know what a low-end coin might cost, then you can determine what you would be willing to pay for the nicer coin. This is how the market has been developing for the last two years. It is only now becoming more apparent to a bigger majority of the dealers in the marketplace.

Every week we monitor transactions where the sight-unseen Bid is listed at just half of the price of the sale. It all depends on the rarity of the coin, the overall appearance within the grading spectrum, and the market demand (as often readily seen at auctions). However, for this to occur, it takes two knowledgeable people. One is the dealer who knows what he paid for the coin and what it will bring from the next buyer; the other is the collector who needs the coin and realizes its value. If either of these parties is unknowledgeable, at least one of them will probably not be satisfied at a later date. This is not an appropriate situation for the long term nature of the coin business. Education is the watch word for the future. It will bring more collectors to the forefront for a longer, more enjoyable experience.

Watch for auction highlights in the next couple of weeks as we report on the two most recent sales. This week Auctions by Bowers & Merena, Inc., is conducting a sale in conjunction with the Washington/Baltimore Coin Show. We will report some highlights in the next issue. Stack's holds their latest sale on March 12 & 13, in New York City. Both sales should attract a large gathering.

Would You Spend 30 Minutes Watching A VIDEO That Could Save You Thousands Of Dollars?

*Have You Questioned Why You Own Rare Coins And If They Are Accomplishing The Goals You Expected?
If Your Answer Is YES, Then This Video Is For You!*

Recently, newsletter publisher, author, and numismatic expert Nick Grovich was featured on the nationally acclaimed financial program, "Windows on Wall Street," along with moderator Robert Chesney and other coin collectors and investors. The entire special report is dedicated to rare coins and the opportunities that are present in today's numismatic market.

In this revealing segment, which is Nick's first public interview since being featured in Dr. Gary North's insightful tape series entitled "Firestorm Chat's," you will learn how people just like yourself have managed to make profits in rare coins, while many rare coin investors and collectors have done nothing but lose money for the past 16 years. More importantly, you will find out which options are available to you to accomplish the investment or hedge you were looking for when you originally purchased rare coins.

- Are you tired of only hearing from dealers when they want to sell you something?
- Are you wondering why no one ever advises you to sell coins and take profits?
- Do you feel like your dealer is always giving a great story about rare coins, but is probably only emptying out his safe of excess inventory?

If so, this video is for you! It is not only for seasoned investors, but also vitally important if you own coins and feel confused and lost...or wonder why you have them in the first place. This tape is for you if your rare coins have not achieved your goals, or if you are questioning whether you actually need to own rare coins at all.

Please don't wait until it's too late to evaluate what you have now. Many people have a tendency to ignore or forget about what they perceive as a bad investment. Don't make that same mistake. For the small investment of only $9.95, you can immediately obtain your no obligation, 30-minute video of this breakthrough program. Call 1-800-221-7694 to reserve your copy, or mail your check and order form to: American Federal, 14602 North Cave Creek Road, Suite C, Phoenix, AZ 85022

We Will Not Deposit Your Check For a Full 14 Days!

That's right! If you're not completely satisfied, then we aren't either. Within 14 days of receiving the video, if you do not feel that the information will help you make money in rare coins, simply send your video back to us and we will return your uncashed check to you. No questions asked and no hassles either.

Yes Nick! Please send me the Windows on Wall Street video dedicated to teaching me about the opportunities that are present in today's rare coin market. I've enclosed a check for $9.95 and understand that if I am not completely satisfied for any reason, I may return the video within 14 days of receiving it and you will return my uncashed check to me.

Washington/Baltimore Show Perpetuates Market Vigor

Bowers & Merena Sale Shows Strength In Copper

Not every dealer in the country can be successful at the same time. However, there are times when it seems as if every dealer goes through a bad period when profits are not as large as they should be. Over the last several years, there have been many times when dealers have questioned why they are in business. For the last couple of months, more dealers are once again making more profits from increased sales. The ones that have increased their sales over this period of time, feel they have done so because they have made a concerted effort to improve their service to their customers. Along with service, they are helping to further the education of their customers.

Every week we hear more dealers refer to an improved relationship with their customers. The customers appreciate the extra effort and are more likely to understand the difference between wholesale and retail prices when you take the time to educate them. Collectors cannot expect dealers to go out and find the nicest coins available for want lists and then offer these coins at wholesale levels. It would be nice if we all could buy at wholesale levels; especially a Mercedes, or even a Rolex.

As for the Washington/Baltimore Show, results indicate that most dealers were quite satisfied with activity. Every show seems to improve as more dealers and collectors attend. We received several calls from dealers who reported that this is among the best run shows in the country. It also helps that the show promoters make every effort to attract new collectors with their "handful of coins" giveaway, to kids who show an interest in numismatics. Obviously, these kids bring their parents with them. In the long run, this should increase the number of serious collectors enjoying our hobby.

As for the major sale conducted at this show, Auctions by Bowers & Merena, Inc., was the host. They put together another one of their masterpieces as a whole slew of dealers and collectors were in attendance. The lot viewing was quite busy much of the time, as potential buyers had to wait for a seating. The sale itself, realized over $2.6 million. We have listed several of the highlights from this sale.

The ANA National Money Show takes place March 20-22, in Cleveland. Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., is the host auction company conducting one of their signature sales. This outstanding sale contains over 2,000 lots. Included among the highlights are Type Coins, Rare Gold, Dollars, 20th Century collector coins, and Commems. A few highlights follow:

The overall certified market appears to be steady at current levels. Most dealers have extensive want lists that include better material. The one ingredient missing from most want lists is the common date material. These are the issues that have high populations and infrequent demand. However, some of this material has reached levels that is conducive to creating more active markets. Therefore, we will keep an open mind and continue to watch the generic market over the next few weeks to see if anything more positive develops.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

ATTENTION ALL A.N.A. MEMBERS!

Now You Can Submit Your Coins Directly To The Coin Industry's Number One Coin Grading Service

Nearly all coins sold today are certified by a third party grading service. For the past decade, buyers have insisted on independent verification of a coin's grade before making a purchasing decision. Just a visit to any major coin show will verify that 80% of rare coins sold today are graded by a third party grading service.

If you want...

- an independent opinion of the grade of your coins,
- your coins to have the highest degree of liquidity,
- your coins to be as attractive as possible to potential buyers, then choose third party grading.

Among third party grading services, one stands out from all the rest as the grading service of choice for the rare coin industry. Since 1986, the Professional Coin Grading Service (PCGS) has graded 4,707,238 coins with a declared value of $6,408,102,824. That's more coins than all the other grading services combined. More dealers use PCGS for grading than any other grading service. These professionals know that PCGS coins are worth more than coins graded by other grading services, so PCGS coins are easier to sell. If the professionals choose PCGS for their coin grading, shouldn't you?

Today, submitting coins to PCGS is even easier than ever. All A.N.A. Members now can submit coins directly to PCGS for grading. That's right...directly to PCGS. It's easy, it's affordable, and it takes less than 30 days. To submit your coins to PCGS, call 800-447-8848 and ask for an ANA Submission Kit or return this coupon today.

Do you want professional assistance in determining which coins should be submitted to a third party grading service? You can depend on the PCGS Authorized Dealer network. MARKET STRENGTH CONTINUES BUYERS FOCUS ON AUCTIONS & "BIG-TICKETS"

by Kevin Kelly

The collectible paper money market continues to be a bright spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention house was a sell-out. The house for Native Paper money, February 24-26 Chicago Paper Money Exposition sold out in early December, and has a waiting list of 15 dealers waiting space. One market barometer, seldom commented upon is the relative ease (or difficulty) convention sponsors have in filling their house areas. While coin shows have tended to shrink in size over the past five years (some quite considerably), this has not been the case for the paper money area. Not only are established dealers continuing to return, but newcomers are also supporting the paper money specialty events.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As I mentioned here in the past, it is not unusual to see individuals reluctant to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction actually pay more for a comparable item at auction. Because of the inherent subjectivity of grading, and the fact that grading opinions and abilities vary widely even among recognized graders, many buyers seem to need the assurance of bids provided by the auction process. This is the auction assistance of knowing that someone else, the party they are bidding against, shares their opinion of an item's value. That the winning bid of $2,000 seemed a little high to someone else who felt it was not enough to be worth $1,500. In a private transaction, without the other buyers present in the auction arena, this additional confirmation of value is lacking, the fear then is that the $2,000 item may only be worth perhaps $1,000 to the next buyer.

This general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and just as timidly in private transactions, has resulted in a two-tiered market. The same material, more often than not, will sell for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material offered at auction is far more liquid and typically sells, rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal in Currency Auctions of America, this is a process I constantly note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

This is one of the strongest areas in numismatics and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all conditions of material from VG to Gem. In addition, buyers are seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes, those rare pieces typically selling above $10,000, are especially strong. A whole new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past two to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin, and dealers were often frustrated that interest here remains in the specialty areas (i.e., Star Notes, rare blocks, miles, etc.). Buyers are attracted by the fact that a bit of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The difference between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a prefix letter in the serial number or a single digit in a bank plate number. Students of small type will often have greater knowledge of these nuances than a willing dealer and may often "cherry-pick" a bargain as a result. Prices of this material remain quite stable and can be expected to do so because of large quantities available.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Interest here remains in the specialty areas (i.e., Star Notes, rare blocks, miles, etc.). Buyers are attracted by the fact that a bit of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The difference between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a prefix letter in the serial number or a single digit in a bank plate number. Students of small type will often have greater knowledge of these nuances than a willing dealer and may often "cherry-pick" a bargain as a result. Prices of this material remain quite stable and can be expected to do so because of large quantities available.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

The Martin Lang, Inc. Collection, the only complete regular issue fractional collection yet formed, is being offered for sale in January 1995 in Orlando, Florida, by Currency Auctions of America. The collection contains numerous premium condition and ultra scarce, in-mint rare pieces. Its sale will redefine current values for fractional currency.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Like the Large Type market, National Bank Notes are attracting a growing body of collectors not afraid to spend serious money to acquire items needed for their collections. This attraction offered by National Bank Notes is the considerable challenge presented by the task of turning a distinguished collection. The surviving population of notes from many banks constitutes only a very handful of pieces, with some banks still awaiting the appearance of a discovery piece. Despite this rarity, notes on bank that exist in tiny quantities can be typically acquired for a few hundred dollars at most, and in many instances for less than $1,000. These dual factors, the challenge of acquisition and relatively low prices in relation to rarity, can be expected to continue to stimulate interest in National Bank Notes.

MISCELLANEOUS

Stocks and Bonds, 1860s Notes and Confederate material continue to enjoy the same strong demand as in the recent past.

AUCTIONS

Buyers will have much to choose from in the coming months. Currency Auctions of America will hold a 2,500s lot sale in Orlando in January. R. M. Senter and Company will hold a significant Stock and Bond sale in conjunction with its Lancaster, Pennsylvania stock and bond convention later that month. Lyn Knight will hold a major sale February 25-26 in conjunction with the inaugural Chicago Paper Money Exposition.

The Greensheet reports the national currency market on a monthly basis.

EVERYONE CLAIMS THEY PAY YOU TOP DOLLAR...
BUT HERE'S PROOF THAT YOU GET THE MOST CASH FOR

TOP BUYING POWER - THE ABILITY OF A FIRM TO BUY ALL OF YOUR COINS

It can be easy to sell one or two coins. It can be easy to sell your highest grade coins or your rare coins. It's a bit more complicated to sell all of your coins. The major mistake that most collectors make when disposing of their collection is they don't ask enough money for their great coins and they ask too much money for their mediocre coins. They usually sell their great coins immediately and are stuck with the bottom of the barrel. What makes sense is to sell to a firm who needs a broad base of coins. A firm that's comfortable buying a coin for $100,000 or $100. Here are some facts and figures that show that, besides being the top buyer in the country for rarities, Spectrum is also willing to buy virtually any U.S. coin.

In 1996, Spectrum spent a total of over $54,000,000 purchasing rare coins from both other dealers and the public. The largest amount they spent in one transaction was $2,448,630 at the Eliasberg sale. The smallest amount they spent in one transaction was $4 in purchasing a coin from a collector. Last year, Spectrum was willing to pay over $500,000 for a single coin and also as little as $4 for a single coin. Spectrum buys everything from million dollar 1913 Liberty nickels to common date Morgan dollars in low grade.

When you deal with Spectrum Numismatics, you can take comfort in the fact that you are selling to the absolute top buyer for rarities and someone who will buy all of your coins in all price ranges. But there's a lot more.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

When you sell your coins to Spectrum Numismatics you get the following benefits every time.

1. Absolute top dollar for your coins. This is not a shallow claim. The facts clearly show that Spectrum Numismatics is the number one buyer for rare coins.

2. Ultra fast payment. Spectrum Numismatics can pay you any way you choose...you can have a check, you can have a bank wire, you can deliver the coins, or you can mail them. Any way you want to handle the transaction is O.K. with Spectrum and will be handled as quickly as you desire.

3. Ultra efficient service aimed to make it as easy as possible for you to sell your coins. Spectrum has five full time buyers and offices in Southern California, and New York. If you would like a Spectrum buyer to visit you at your convenience, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect any weekday and you can immediately talk to one of our buyers. In fact, Spectrum is so desperate to buy your coins, they'll even pay the price of your shipping the coins, whether or not you decide to sell them to Spectrum.

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH THE KING OF CASH

Spectrum will buy all types of U.S. coins in all price ranges. It's incredibly easy to do a transaction with Spectrum. First, if you would like to ship your coins to Spectrum for a totally risk-free appraisal of your coins, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect at 714/955-1250 and tell them you'd like to speak to one of our buyers. After you describe your coins to the buyer, if they fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. Spectrum will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins (and your shipping expenses) in any form you desire. If, for any reason, you do not want to accept Spectrum's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses.

The second way to sell coins to Spectrum is if your holdings are a sufficient size, a Spectrum buyer can travel to view your coins. Again, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect any weekday.

Market Much Better Than Sight-Unseen Reports Cleveland ANA Underway With Enthusiastic Dealers

Various dealers have volunteered their opinions of the coin market recently and we have summarized them for you.

1. The overall market is much better than it appears.
2. Better date, rare date, low-pop coins are very active at this time.
3. More interest has been created in numismatics, thus bringing new collectors into the marketplace.
4. The serious, or astute collector as we like to call them, is buying up the better material as long as the asking price is appropriate for the grade.
5. Dealers with common date material in inventory will continue to have a difficult time surviving.
6. A more professional approach to selling coins to collector clients seems to be paying off in additional sales.

A more detailed analysis of some of these main points is in order here. Many dealers are making the effort to focus on material that is better than common issues. They feel that high population coins are partially responsible for the negative impact that sight-unseen trading has on the certified market. We contend that the overall market is steady, if not slightly better than steady. Yet, dissenters point to the CCDN Coin Market Index, which tends to the downside because of discounted sales for generic coins. At some point, it would seem as if generic issues would stop falling and maintain a suitable level. In the meantime, many respected dealers are planning for a new business philosophy for today, tomorrow, and the next century.

Many dealers continue to report very active want lists for collector coins. If you gathered all the want lists across the nation, you would be amazed at the conglomeration of coins that are in demand. However, one element will be consistent with all the want lists: there will be many of the same coins in demand by numerous dealers with the significance being that there are few if any available at current levels. For many of these coins, only higher Bid prices will make them available on the marketplace. Yet, these are the coins that dealers are unwilling to Bid for on a sight-unseen basis. This is why the market is stronger than it appears.

Generic coins become more common every day. Without a markedly massive influx of new collectors entering the market, these common issues remain a burden to the market. It is easy to understand why some dealers are suffering as their inventories are cluttered with these common issues. As more generic coins are graded and the populations rise, the sight-unseen Bidder has more supplies to choose from so his Bids tend to be lowered. Just look at what has occurred in the Walker series with the common issues of 1941, '42, & '43. A couple of years ago, they were Bid $150+ each in MS66. Now, they are Bid $95-$110, based on the date and whether it is PCGS or NGC. The combined populations have increased 30%, 42%, and 36%, respectively. Lower prices are an economic fact when supplies are increased substantially without an increase in demand.

It may seem like we have been harping on the premise of better education over the last several weeks. However, we have received a considerable amount of response from dealers who feel that this is the ultimate answer to increased sales over the next several years. The better educated a collector becomes, the better customer he becomes. The more he studies the market and understands the rare coin business, the more likely he is to spend the extra money for the nicer coin for his collection. As the time spent with astute collectors increases, and sales increase, profits tend to increase. This means that dealers have less time to spend with customers who frankly just waste their time trying to buy coins at levels less than the dealer is willing to pay. This is simply a case of time management.

Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., will conduct two sales this week at the ANA National Money Show in Cleveland. Their now famous Bullet Sale will consist of over 800 lots of certified coins with nearly the entire market represented in some manner. From Half Cents to Twenty Dollar Gold, there is sure to be something for everyone. As we reported last week, the signature sale is called the ANA National Money Sale. With over 2000 lots, there are numerous high-grade rarities that should attract some very competitive bidding.

Last week, Stack's conducted the sale of the David Queller and Family Collection. Most of the lots were not certified; however, we have listed some of the lots that were.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

THE BIGGEST INNOVATION IN RARE COIN SALES SINCE THE INTRODUCTION OF THIRD-PARTY GRADING LIQUIDITY REVOLUTIONIZES THE MARKETPLACE THE GAME HAS BEEN CHANGED FOREVER

1 Jay Parrino's The Mint, LLC revolutionizes the industry with a numismatic first - The Mint Repurchase Program. The concept is simple yet elegant. Offer only the very best numismatic material and be so sure of your product that you are willing to repurchase it at any time, for 90% of its value as determined by the CCDN index. In summary, liquidity and certainty. No unpleasant surprises, no commissions, no waiting for auction checks and no excuses when it comes time to sell. It is the 10% solution. It eliminates the common risks associated with overgraded coins, overpriced coins, ugly coins, "who cares" coins.

2 The Mint is willing to put its money where its mouth is. Jay Parrino, owner and Chief Executive Officer of Jay Parrino's The Mint, LLC, is one of the largest rare coins investors in the world. He strongly believes rare coins offer the ultimate combination of intrinsic value, portability, privacy, and a proven track record of price appreciation. He is so convinced of the future of RARE COINS that he is willing to work on a razor thin 10% profit margin.

3 Only PCGS or NGC certified coins, which have then been hand selected and approved by Jay, are eligible for The Mint Repurchase Program. The grading services guarantee authenticity and grade, while we assure eye appeal, saleability and liquidity. The coins, which shall be of only the highest quality, must meet all four prongs of our strict acquisition criteria. Each rare coin must be in Gem condition, truly rare, subject to strong demand and have superior eye appeal. Additionally, only preferred dates, varieties and types will be available. All coins for The Mint Repurchase Program will be selected at the sole discretion of The Mint with the proviso that purchasers can indicate their preference for eligible market segments such as 20th century type, Proof Gold, or classic rarities for example.

4 We agree to repurchase any coin we sell for the original sale price less ten percent (10%) subject to adjustment for fluctuating market conditions, if any. Specifically, the repurchase price may then be adjusted up or down depending on whether the "Index" has risen or fallen. The "Index" shall be defined as the Certified Coin Dealer Newsletter CCDN Coin Market Index. The Certified Coin Dealer Newsletter is an independent trade publisher not affiliated with Jay Parrino's The Mint, LLC.

5 The Repurchase Program allows you to track your rare coins' value with almost the same degree of certainty you could track a stock or bond. You also have the comfort of knowing that if you decide to sell, you can liquidate your coins and receive payment in full within 30 days. In addition, The Mint Repurchase Program doesn't require that you sell the coins back to us, but it does mean you always have a ready, willing and able buyer. The decision on how and where to sell is yours and yours alone, but isn't it nice to know you have a safety net?

6 We can't insulate you from market risk but we can eliminate the risk of buying overgraded coins, overpriced coins or buying the right coin in the wrong grade.

7 If you purchased a $10,000 coin from us today and were to sell it back to us tomorrow or five years from now, assuming the market remained unchanged, you would be able to cash out anytime for $9,000.00. Your money is liquid. Your downside is limited to 10%. Your upside is, however, unlimited.

Repurchase Terms and Conditions

1. All coins selected for The Mint Repurchase Program are selected by The Mint in its sole discretion.
2. In the event you elect to exercise the repurchase option, you must notify The Mint, in writing, requesting the repurchase, along with your coin(s).
3. All coins to be repurchased must be shipped, fully insured, by Federal Express, U.S. Post Office Express Mail or Registered Mail to The Mint.
4. Coins must be returned undamaged and in their original NGC or PCGS holders.
5. No coin under $1,000 will be eligible for The Mint Repurchase Program.
6. Coins must not have deteriorated due to improper storage or environmental damage.
7. The Mint Repurchase Program is not transferable from original purchaser.
8. If CCDN stops publishing its index, The Mint has the right to substitute a similar coin market index.

Education Continues To Prosper Numismatists Heritage's Two Cleveland Sales Top $3.2 Million

It is difficult to report sight-unseen information for certified coins when you return from a major coin show. The fact is that activity at coin shows is frankly, sight-seen. Further, it appears that more and more dealers and their customers are turning to sight-seen trading as they (referring to the astute collector) are demanding high-end coins and will not accept low-end coins. Moreover, many dealers have been reporting to us that their customers are realizing that, in order to obtain these high-end coins, they have to pay in excess of the low-end sight-unseen Bids; in fact, sometimes, they may have to pay well in advance of these Bids.

The Cleveland ANA Money Show was quite interesting. Every dealer we met with, revealed long want lists with very diverse material on them. The dealers who brought either exceptional quality coins or rarities to sell, had an easy time of it initially. These coins were sold to dealers who were trying to fill their want lists as best they could. However, after this initial gush of activity, the show settled down and the hard work began. Dealers had to work the floor to try to fill some of those needs, as others were trying to sell coins from their inventory. There was an enormous dealer presence, but the expected public attendance was not near enough.

The overall market appears to be quite steadfast at this time. Since the beginning of the year (FUN), activity has been progressively better with each major show. There is not a barrage of plus signs to report, but the number of retail sales has increased substantially as discussed with numerous dealers. Bear in mind, that the term retail does not mean that the collectors are paying way over what the coins are worth. A retail buyer of a 1970 Proof Set at $10 or $12 is not the same as a retail buyer of a 1927D Peace Dollar in MS67.

The so-called retail buyer of a rarity may be another dealer who happens to collect, or a non-dealer who collects. Either way, they sure as heck better know what they are buying. The point here is that more non-dealers are working diligently at understanding the intricacies of the coin market. They are willing to invest, not only their hard-earned money, but their time as well. This seems to be paying off as the market for quality coins and or rarities is rock-solid at this moment. Many collectors are buying for the future as they believe that the value for this particular area of the market will eventually explode.

As you may witness from the various auctions over the past few years, whenever nice "fresh" coins come onto the market, dealers and collectors are willing to spend just a little more than the next bidder to obtain them. Speaking of "fresh" material, the Eliasberg Sale will take place in New York, April 6-8. We have been told by many dealers that there is standing room only crowds trying to view the auction lots at the offices of Bowers & Merena. Most dealers we have spoken with feel that the bidding will be particularly aggressive. This should make for an interesting Central States Show, in Indianapolis, April 10-13.

Heritage conducted two sales at the Cleveland ANA. The first was a Bullet Sale, which realized $480,282. The following highlights reveal some excellent prices:

The Heritage Signature Sale was extremely active as it realized over $2.7 million. From what we heard and saw, many dealers were getting "blown out of the water" as their bids failed to bring down the hammer. It appeared that nearly every dealer and collector did their homework in viewing lots prior to the sale and when the time came for the lots they had interest in, they were prepared to pay whatever they had to in order to be the last bidder standing.

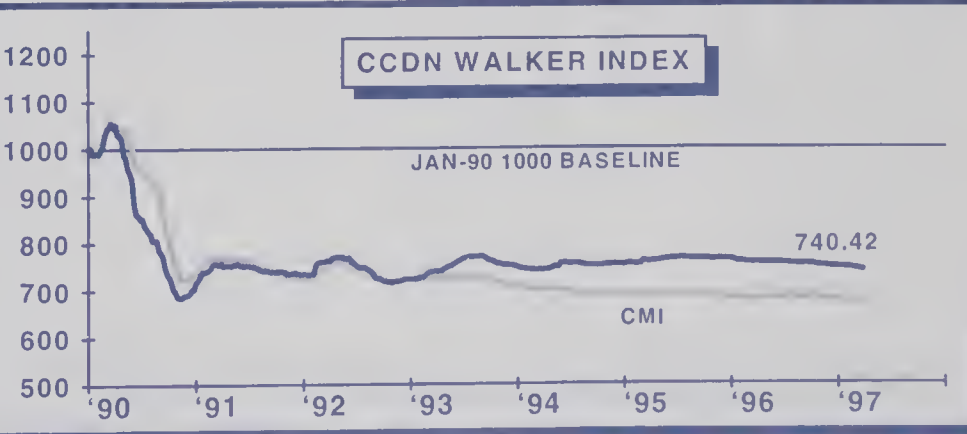

There were a considerable number of exceptional highlights, so you will have to contact Heritage for a complete list of prices realized. Here are some of the more memorable ones:

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks. sell lists. com shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis

Central States Commences On Heels Of Eliasberg Sale Dealers Feel Affects Of Vastly Improved Market

Various dealers have reported a significant improvement in their coin businesses of late. They have seen an increase in the number of customers who are seriously interested in purchasing coins at the current levels. Of course, the more astute customers realize that they cannot buy "nice" coins at these levels; they must pay the sight-seen price, in addition to the dealer's profit if they are going to participate in this upswing. An abundant number of collectors has waited on the sidelines for a very long time, anticipating the very instant that the market would reach a bottom and then knock on their door with this important announcement.

Did you hear it? There's the doorbell now! Whether or not we have actually reached a market bottom, or it has already silently turned upward, remains to be seen. Many dealers and their customers are certain that there is not as much risk in beginning to buy coins now compared to the much higher levels from whence they have drifted over the last five years. Of course, there have been some dealers and their clients ahead of the market for the last year. They have been, not so quietly, purchasing some of the rarer coins from dealer inventories and major auctions. This head start has probably helped fuel the current upswing as others do not want to be left out, if this is in fact, the outskirts of the next "bull" market.

While the coins from the upcoming Eliasberg Sale (April 6-8) have not been certified at this time, it would be negligent not to mention this tremendous event. The sale will take place in New York, and will be conducted by Auctions by Bowers & Merena, Inc. There are over one thousand lots in this last sale from the Eliasberg Collection. These coins were consigned by Richard Eliasberg and he is quoted as saying, "We hope these coins bring the winning bidders as much pleasure as they did my father." As you know, it will not be too long before these coins are encapsulated by the grading services.

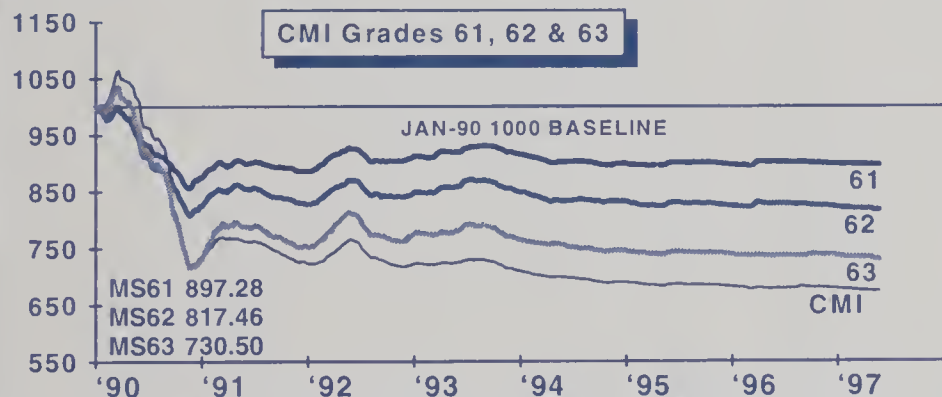

While speaking with a key executive at Bowers & Merena, it was mentioned how much extra publicity they have been receiving from sources apart from mainstream numismatics. The more sales like this that occur, the more likely that the numismatic field will entice new players into the market. While today's market price levels rekindle memories for all numismatists of the mid 1970s, prices which we all thought would never be as depressed again, this offers everyone a brand new opportunity to buy coins at today's advantageous levels and enjoy the fruits of tomorrow's potential achievements.

Following on the heels of this sale will be the Central States Convention, in Indianapolis (April 10-13). Many dealers will have their "new" Eliasberg coins catalogued and labeled for new homes. This is typically a very strong gathering of dealers from all over the United States and draws well from all the surrounding states. The Central States Numismatic Society has demonstrated in the past that they will go to great lengths to create a dealer-friendly atmosphere and attempt to draw a large public attendance. With the market showing weekly signs of growth, this should be another positive coin show and an additional step toward enhanced marketing of numismatics.

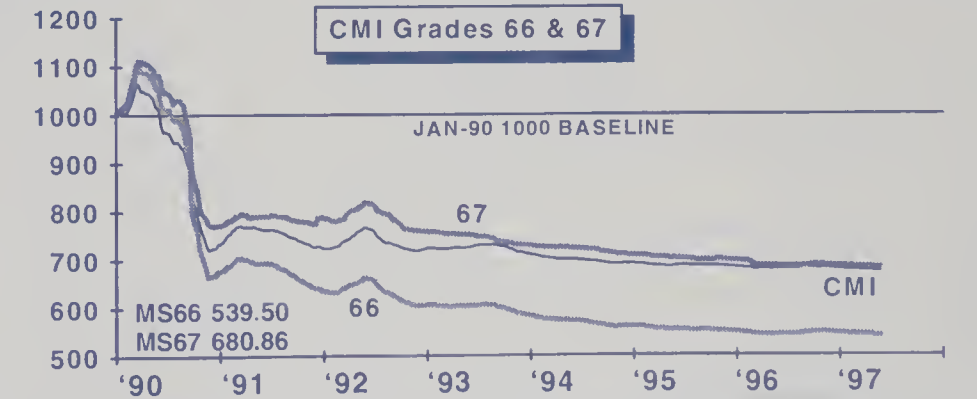

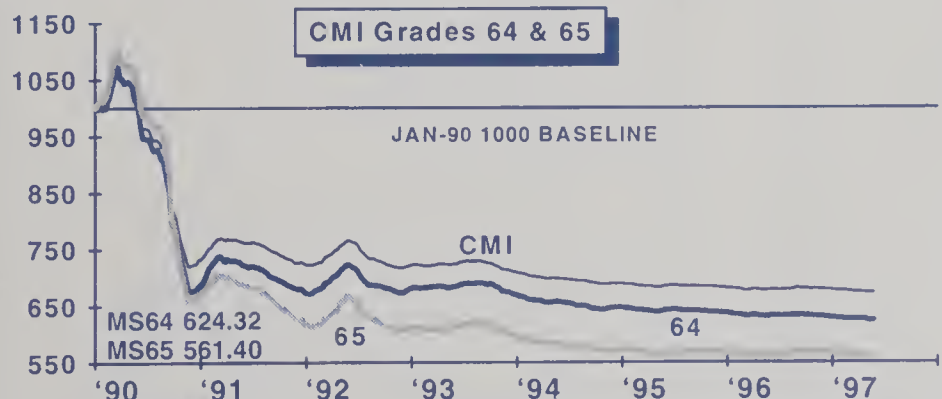

Even though we have not seen a major improvement in the number of plus signs for sight-unseen Bidding recently, there does seem to be an increase in the overall Bidding activity at or near the posted Bids. The number of competitive buyers has risen and it seems as if it is easier to sell coins to other dealers if they are priced at these levels. However, if you want to sell high-end coins at premium levels, these have to be shown to the sight-seen buyers and if price is commensurate with the quality, a transaction will usually take place.

We might mention here that dealers who are familiar with other dealers' grading criteria, will typically have better luck in selling coins to these dealers than when they are trying to take "shots" at dealers who are just trying to support levels with requirements that are so stringent that even Eliasberg coins would not be satisfactory. Dealers who try to support markets without actually buying coins are well known to the other dealers and they will not even bother offering them coins. This is not a major problem within the industry because this type of news travels very quickly among dealers.

The last several weeks, we have reported how the sight-seen market has improved immensely. Dealers have undertaken the task of helping to educate their customers very seriously and this seems to please the customers. They have increased their spending as their expertise improves. At the same time, an improved overall market entices more dealers to Bid sight-unseen for some of the generic issues just because they are Bid at attractive levels; as they do more buying and selling, the pressure of forcing sales for generics is dismissed slightly and this area stiffens. In the long run, a solid sight-seen market, will also help to improve the generic sight-unseen areas of numismatics.

The World's Most Important Coins Are Consistently Graded By NGC

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the Eliasberg-Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, the world's most famous (and most valuable!) coin. Or, the two PF-68 Extremely High Relief $20 St. Gaudens gold pieces. The magnificent 1822 half eagle. Not to mention many of the most important coins from the Byron Reed, Eliasberg, and Trompeter Collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is just to name a few examples.

While we are grading many of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, an average of more than 33,000 coins per month in 1996. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently and impartially.

This is why NGC has been endorsed by the ANA and is the grading service of choice for the world's finest collections, the world's finest coins and more of your coins. It's also why we now have the largest dealer network at 1,200-plus (and growing) member dealers.

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the profession. NGC was first to offer World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, an Economy tier, and the

Florida ICTA

*Florida Industry Council for Tangible Assets
The Florida Coin, currency and bullion dealers association*

Could this happen to you?

For years coins were exempt from state sales tax in Florida; in 1992 we lost that exemption. Since then Florida has lost a great number of dealers and over 35 shows. Millions of dollars in bullion sales have been lost to other states, or in many cases people who want to invest in medals turn to stock brokers who will generally recommend stocks in gold companies etc. With each person doing that the chance of selling collector or investor coins is lost, perhaps forever.

Many things have happened in the state since the passage of the sales tax law. For example, the State of Florida is auditing every coin dealer and I can think of only one reason. The State cannot believe how little they have collected from the tax in comparison to the volume done in the industry.

Is your state next? You can bet on it, and the only hope is that we are successful in getting an exemption in Florida. Why? Because we were once exempt, and the State took away our exemption; we lost our business. By providing this information to your state you will be able to build a case for exemption of the sales tax on coins.

Our exemption is for $500. Once the sale reaches $500 the entire sale is tax exempt. It is my belief, but not necessarily the belief of all Florida ICTA dealers, that this is fair. The exemption is for investments made in coins not the hobby. Most states that have a dollar amount exemption picked $1000. The Florida legislators picked the lower exemption of $500 so as not to discriminate against the small investor. It is my belief we need this exemption in all 50 states and we need to help each other to get this done.

Here are two ways you can help.

Please write our Governor. Inform him about your visits to Florida and how the sales tax has changed your travel plans to states with friendly business practices. State how many shows and how much you spend on a 3 or 4 day show to Florida. It's OK to tell him how few shows are in Florida and this is one reason you do not come here for shows.

The second thing is the hardest to do. Pull out your check book and write a check to Florida ICTA.

I would like to thank you for your support, and if you write the Governor send me a copy too. Nick Hauser, Florida ICTA, President.

Bowers & Merena Records History In New York

Another Million Dollar Coin Crosses The Block

Which coin is it? What was the grade? Who bought it? These are all good questions, however, this is the Certified Coin Dealer Newsletter. So, the first questions might be, when will it be encapsulated? Which company will certify it? And what will the certified grade be? Enough with the speculation; the coin was and is the Stickney 1804 Dollar. It sold in the Eliasberg Sale for $1,815,000. Auctions by Bowers & Merena, Inc., graded it a Proof-63. For those of you who are not quite sure how the coin market is doing, you might want to check out the prices realized from this wonderful sale. In fact, you can probably view some of the highlights at Central States, in Indianapolis this week and at future shows.

When you have the opportunity to see coins from the Eliasberg Sale, you will probably be amazed at how original these coins appear. Many look as though they were hand selected right from the particular mint from which they came. Many of them were. These coins are a special representation of how near-perfect, original coins appeared when first minted. You cannot expect all coins to have these characteristics. Many of these coins were presentation pieces and never mixed or banged against any other coins. Many of the coins you buy today were originally minted for circulation. The fact that they did not circulate and their quality of preservation makes the value difference from one coin to another.

When you compare the price of the coins that sold in the Eliasberg Sale to the coins bought and sold on an everyday basis, you will find that the Eliasberg coins have commanded quite a premium. The combination of pedigree and quality make collectors quite ecstatic. These are coins that become available once-in-a-lifetime to the potential buyers. A missed opportunity here could mean that you will never have another occasion for purchasing one of these most desirable coins. This is truly a numismatic bonanza.

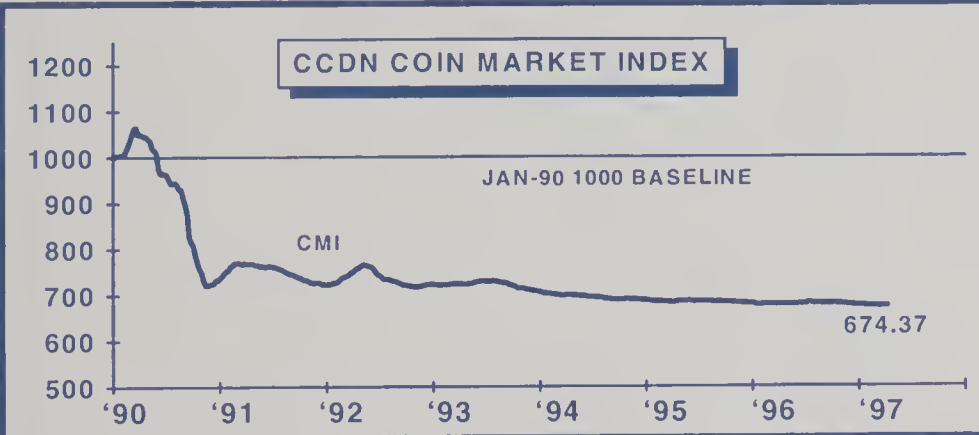

Apart from the 1804 Dollar, there were many other highlights that produced substantial bids. While these wonderful coins have not been certified as of yet, we will list just a few of the more notable ones. The 1796 Draped Bust Quarter sold for $176,000, in MS65/66; an 1870CC Liberty Seated Quarter brought $187,000, in MS64; a 1796 Bust Half Dollar (15 Stars) realized $110,000, in MS63 Prooflike; a 1796 Bust Half Dollar (16 Stars) commanded $143,000, in MS63

Prooflike; an 1838O Bust Half Dollar sold at $121,000, in Proof 60+; a 1795 Draped Bust Dollar achieved a price of $308,000, in MS67 Prooflike; the 1884 Trade Dollar closed bids at $396,000, in Proof 66+; and the 1885 Trade Dollar (our personal favorite) accomplished a winning bid of $907,500, in Proof 65.

Many of these coins could be the cornerstone of a major museum-like collection. It is obvious that most of these rarities will eventually be housed in specialty collections. The prices paid are way more than one might expect. Then again, what can you expect from coins that are one-of-a-kind. What would you pay for a superb Van Gogh? The new "custodians" will treasure these delightful coins for a lifetime. Then, they will again be treasured by someone else, also for a lifetime. No, these are not certified coins; but the new owners know what they possess. Yet, certification will serve to document the pedigree, the grade and protect these historical gems.

Now, for the certified coin market. For the last several weeks the tendency has been for plus signs to outnumber minus signs. This has been a subtle transition that may have gone unnoticed, but it is of significance since it has been many months, if not years, that the market has tended to the upside. With this change in direction comes confidence that the certified coin market can actually show improvement. All we need is buyers that are willing to take a position in various areas of the market. Moreover, we are hearing reports from dealers that they are in fact selling these coins to their customers. It sounds as if the customers are taking positions and removing additional coins from the marketplace. If this tendency continues, the specific areas will foster healthy improvement in the overall market.

The Dollar market has been showing signs of life for quite some time now. However, it is mostly noticeable in the Greysheet as most buyers will Bid sight-seen. Nevertheless, we are seeing quite a few higher sight-unseen Bids for both Morgan and Peace Dollars. Some of the marketmakers we have spoken with recently, tell us that they are having a difficult time in maintaining an adequate inventory. If more dealers begin to Bid for coins to fill their numismatic requirements, we just might see a rise in other areas of the market also.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Eliasberg, Central States, and Taxes

Market Upswing Continues as Events Highlighted

Where did all the money go? That was the question asked at the just completed Central States Convention, in Indianapolis. The answer to this question is found in the headline. However, it was, strictly speaking, more of a rhetorical question. All the dealers knew where the money went. Bowers & Merena, Inc., just completed the last Eliasberg Sale in New York; prices realized generated over $20 million. Any money that was left would be headed to the government to pay the April 15th taxes. Right? This assumption is partially correct, but not wholly.

The Central States Numismatic Society put on a very good show. The majority of mainstream dealers were in attendance and the public showed up in force. It did appear that dealers and collectors were a little reluctant to spend excessively because of taxes. However, the show was quite busy throughout. Most dealers we spoke with were satisfied with the results (not ecstatic) and felt that CSNS attracted a good crowd. Some dealers felt that it could have been better; some thought it could have been much worse. Then again, the dealers who did not do as well, usually do not have much of an inventory.

The talk of the show was, quite expectedly, the Eliasberg Sale. Many dealers were waiting for their newly purchased "pedigrees" to return from one of the certification services. As near as we could estimate, it appeared that the majority of these coins were already promised to customers. The more coins that are already sold out of this sale and removed from the marketplace, the healthier it is for the market. If these coins remained in dealer inventories, it would deplete the amount of available cash to conduct everyday business.

One of the most important factors to note in this week's CCDN is the number of increases in rare date Dollar Bids. In many cases, Bids are exceptionally low, not because of a lack of demand, because there are no coins available. Most dealers figure, "Why Bid for coins that don't exist, or are not available?" With all the high-grade, rare date Dollars that were in the Eliasberg Sale, many Dollar specialists have jumped on the bandwagon and have expressed their need for various issues and grades. After speaking with these dealers in Indianapolis, we can expect more information in the next several weeks. Some of them are waiting for grading service results so they know what actual grades may be available. However, this additional information may also be a mute point if all these coins wind up off the market in strong collector hands.

The Eliasberg Sale brings up various other cogent points concerning the overall coin market. One specifically, in the Dollar market, to our knowledge, there are numerous collectors trying to put together "finest known" sets. When these coins are certified and the population reveals one or two known, that unquestionably limits the number of collectors that can actually obtain these coins. As these collectors become more aggressive, and they certainly have in the last year or so, the price they are willing to pay progresses to multiples of the sight-unseen Bids.

The main point here being that these coins do not trade on a sight-unseen basis. The Bids reported here are only a beacon for these rarities. In most cases, the end-buyer does not know what he will actually pay until he sees the coin he knows will fit into his collection. Common coins can be traded sight-unseen; rare coins cannot. Period. End of discussion.

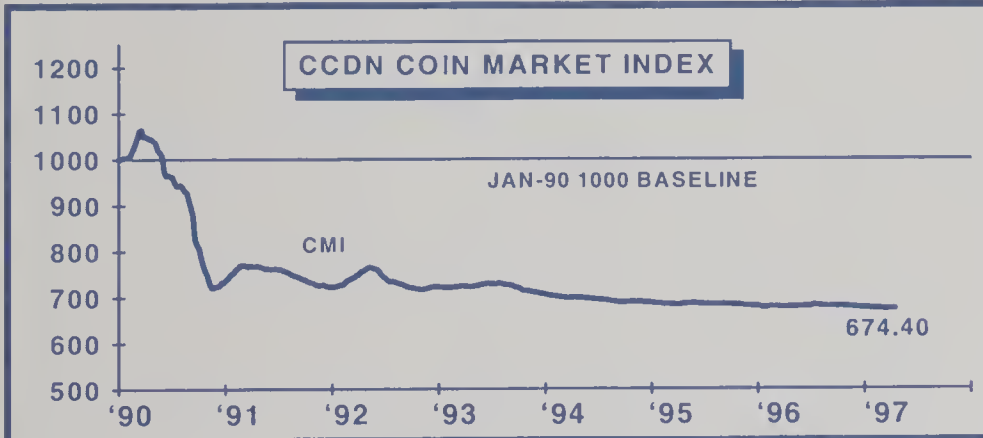

If your customers are astute collectors, they will understand how the value of rarities may be substantially above the sight-unseen Bids. If they are novice collectors, it may be quite difficult to comprehend the fact that not all coins look alike. You cannot gain this type of knowledge overnight. It takes experience and a keen eye. The dealers who have been taking the time to educate their new customers, will make these customers better collectors in the long run.

While we have explained to you that the overall coin market is definitely on an upward trend, you will not see a lot of plus signs in this week's newsletter. The majority of the nation's most active dealers have been out of town (at the Eliasberg Sale and Central States), and it is not unusual for them to withdraw their Bids from the teletype systems while they are away. At the same time, we have seen very little discounting, especially at Indianapolis.

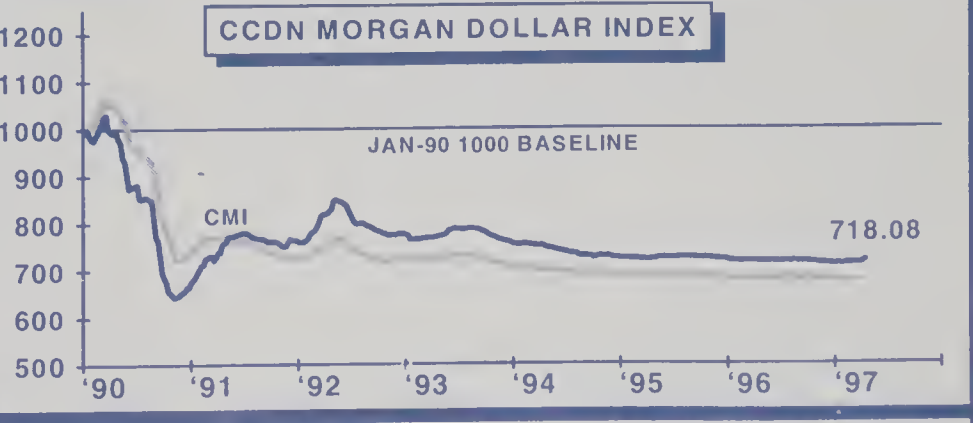

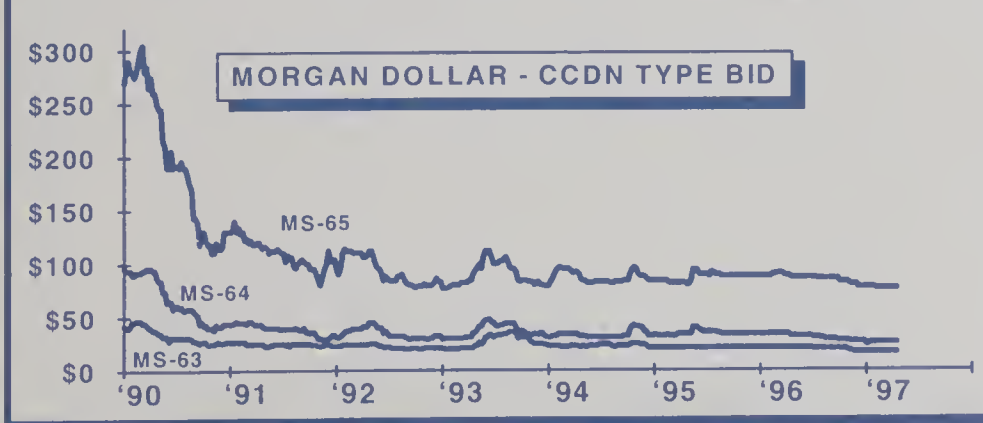

Prices appear firm and most dealers adjust their Ask prices slightly higher when the market shows steady improvement.

Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., held a Bullet Sale at Indianapolis, with over 700 lots available. Some of the highlights are listed within.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

VarietyPlus

Your variety coins deserve NGC grading and attribution, like this exceedingly rare overdate half dollar.

NGC, the leader in grading the world's finest coins, is now the leader in variety attribution and grading with its new VarietyPlus grading tier. Most major varieties are attributed (see list at right), like this extremely rare 1817/4 Overton-102a half dollar. WE WANT TO GIVE YOU MONEY!

EVERYONE CLAIMS THEY PAY YOU TOP DOLLAR...
BUT HERE'S PROOF THAT YOU GET THE MOST CASH FOR YOUR COINS FROM THE *KING OF CASH

TOP BUYING POWER - THE ABILITY OF A FIRM TO BUY ALL OF YOUR COINS

It can be easy to sell one or two coins. It can be easy to sell your highest grade coins or your rare coins. It's a bit more complicated to sell all of your coins. The major mistake that most collectors make when disposing of their collection is they don't ask enough money for their great coins and they ask too much money for their mediocre coins. They usually sell their great coins immediately and are stuck with the bottom of the barrel. What makes sense is to sell to a firm who needs a broad base of coins. A firm that's comfortable buying a coin for $100,000 or $100. Here are some facts and figures that show that, besides being the top buyer in the country for rarities, Spectrum is also willing to buy virtually any U.S. coin.

In 1996, Spectrum spent a total of over $54,000,000 purchasing rare coins from both other dealers and the public. The largest amount they spent in one transaction was $2,448,630 at the Eliasberg sale. The smallest amount they spent in one transaction was $4 in purchasing a coin from a collector. Last year, Spectrum was willing to pay over $500,000 for a single coin and also as little as $4 for a single coin. Spectrum buys everything from million dollar 1913 Liberty nickels to common date Morgan dollars in low grade.

When you deal with Spectrum Numismatics, you can take comfort in the fact that you are selling to the absolute top buyer for rarities and someone who will buy all of your coins in all price ranges. But there's a lot more.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

When you sell your coins to Spectrum Numismatics you get the following benefits every time.

1. Absolute top dollar for your coins. This is not a shallow claim. The facts clearly show that Spectrum Numismatics is the number one buyer for rare coins.

2. Ultra fast payment. Spectrum Numismatics can pay you any way you choose...you can have a check, you can have a bank wire, you can deliver the coins, or you can mail them. Any way you want to handle the transaction is O.K. with Spectrum and will be handled as quickly as you desire.

3. Ultra efficient service aimed to make it as easy as possible for you to sell your coins. Spectrum has five full time buyers and offices in Southern California, and New York. If you would like a Spectrum buyer to visit you at your convenience, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect any weekday and you can immediately talk to one of our buyers. In fact, Spectrum is so desperate to buy your coins, they'll even pay the price of your shipping the coins, whether or not you decide to sell them to Spectrum.

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH THE KING OF CASH

Spectrum will buy all types of U.S. coins in all price ranges. It's incredibly easy to do a transaction with Spectrum. First, if you would like to ship your coins to Spectrum for a totally risk-free appraisal of your coins, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect at 714/955-1250 and tell them you'd like to speak to one of our buyers. After you describe your coins to the buyer, if they fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. Spectrum will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins (and your shipping expenses) in any form you desire. If, for any reason, you do not want to accept Spectrum's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses.

The second way to sell coins to Spectrum is if your holdings are a sufficient size, a Spectrum buyer can travel to view your coins. Again, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect any weekday.

IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOUR COINS FOR ABSOLUTE TOP DOLLAR, PICK UP THE PHONE NOW AND CALL 714/955-1250. CALL COLLECT AND TELL THEM YOU WANT TO TALK TO THE KING OF CASH.

Dealers Take Pro-Active Role In Price Reporting Rare Date Dollars Respond To Higher Bids

In the last couple of weeks some dealers have begun to adopt a more enthusiastic posture of making markets in their areas of expertise. This may or may not be obvious in the number of Bid increases depending on the percentage of current Bids that they will offer to pay—90%, 100%, or, 110% and higher. The increase in Bidding comes in many forms: The most likely method is the teletype. Here, dealer Bid prices are broadcast to every other dealer who has access to it. Another method has seen widespread increased usage in the last few years; it is the Fax Machine. Dealers can direct their buys and sells to specific areas of the market without wasting their efforts to dealers who may not be interested. This is more direct marketing than the usual "shot-gun" approach.

Coin shows are one of the most important venues for the more aggressive dealers. They can get their message across very quickly and there are hundreds of other dealers in attendance to readily consummate transactions. Auctions are frequently run in conjunction (but not always, e.g., the Eliasberg Sale by Bowers & Merena) with coin shows; depending on the strength and quality of the auction, Bid prices may require adjustments.

When the coin market is in a down cycle, as it had been for the last several years, dealers are not as eager to reveal their discounted sales as they may be reflected in lower Bid levels. However, when the market turns to the upside, as it appears to have done, dealers are more than willing to make their higher Bids quite visible; they want to have these new buy prices represented with "plus" signs in the CCDN. They do not want anybody to miss the fact that the market is higher. Well, they should.

As we stated earlier, Bidding activity has increased substantially. When and how this activity will actually show up as Bid increases may depend on how successful dealers are in buying these want list items. If they can purchase enough material, at current levels, to satisfy their needs, Bids will be active but steady. If potential sellers are not willing to trade coins from their inventories at these Bids, then the buyers will have to increase their Bids to entice the sellers. From what dealers have been reporting to us, it appears as if they are not able to buy enough material at their current Bids to create the transactions that their current needs require. If this continues, pressure may come to bear on prices.

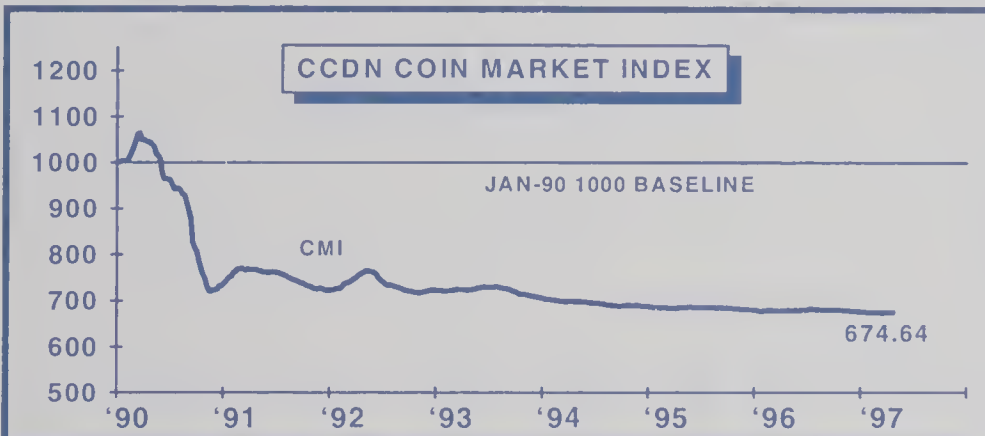

One of the areas of most interest is Silver Dollars. We have been hearing reports of more collector interest than in the past. Now, Silver Dollars have always had a strong following. However, many collectors will buy the one-hundred or so dates to "fill the holes," but generally slow down considerably after that. There seems to be a new focus on completing their sets; the ones who can afford to accomplish this difficult task are "stepping up to the plate" and taking their best shots at acquiring the best coins available. We have spoken with several dealers who are trying to fill the needs of their best clients. Competition is becoming quite fierce.

One of the original certified coin marketmakers has re-entered the rare-date Dollar market in a big way. Not that he has been away, he has just been making markets rather quietly for the last several years. He has begun his very own Bidding war in an effort to re-establish his presence as one of the premier Dollar dealers in the country. If you look at some of the advances in the Morgan Dollar chart this week, you will be amazed at how much some of these issues have increased. After seeing what high-quality, rare Dollars will bring when they are offered at auction, we believe it is about time for someone to step forward and actually offer competitive Bids for these rare dates. Not that we think the higher Bid prices will actually bring out any more coins, but a more realistic reflection of the relationship between Bid prices and actual value should be examined by dealers and made available for their collector customers.

When there are hundreds or thousands of coins certified in a particular grade, it is fairly easy to determine the Bid (relative to value). These coins trade on a regular basis and if one does not trade today, one will surely trade tomorrow. This is certainly not the case for rare coins where the populations are so limited in a specific grade that one may not be offered for sale but every five years or so. Where the population is just one, potential buyers may never get another chance to add this "jewel" to their collection. Since coins in these rare states are not frequently offered, most dealers do not wish to waste their time making Bids. Therefore, many rare issues languish at unrealistic levels only to emerge and command multiples of Bid when they do come to a major auction.

This has been the case recently, as the Eliasberg Sale revealed. Value is what a buyer is willing to pay a seller for a particular coin. How many dealers (collectors) were bidding for the 1804 Dollar (Eliasberg) between $500,000 and $1,000,000? Yet, at the end, there were only two players willing to pay the same amount; and then, just one. How much more would they have really paid?

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence presently there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guarantee or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: w – Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); m – Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); 1 – Trade during the most recent month; 1m – Lowest asking price appearing last month; 1t – Trade appearing last month; ot – Trade older than 2 months; - a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; a for auction transactions; oa – auction older than 1 month.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

Solid Bids Support Dealers In Maintaining Positive Outlook Low-Population Rarities Leading Active Market

Market strength continues to increase as many dealers try to fill specific needs of their customers. One of the areas that is always popular with the advanced collector as well as the beginner is U.S. Gold. When the market is in the doldrums, collectors will try to take advantage of low prices; when the market is "hot", everyone is a buyer as they try to jump on the bandwagon prior to further escalating prices. One of the more popular ways of selling Gold coins to the beginning collector is as a type set. The beginner usually starts with the less expensive grades and if their income allows, advances to the high-priced better grades.

One of the impediments to improving grades is that some of the issues become quite expensive. One of the most actively Bid Gold coins in Mint State is the Type II One Dollar Gold. There is a plethora of buyers trying to fill the needs of their customers. They are in demand in all Mint State grades. The number of coins available dwindles as the quality increases. A look at recent population reports from NGC and PCGS reveals that there are 434-MS61s; 517-MS62s; 317-MS63s; 248-MS64s; 42-MS65s; 17-MS66s; and 3-MS67s. Considering that many coins are sent to the grading services multiple times, you must factor in that there are really less than the numbers reported actually available to satisfy collector needs. For each particular grade, only that number of collectors can actually purchase one for his or her set. That, in a nutshell, is why these coins have remained so popular for all these years. There are always coins on want lists somewhere, and supplies are noticeably thin.

We recently discussed a transition in the marketplace of how dealers go about bidding for coins. The old traditional ways of teletype bidding have been giving way to a more modern approach of specialized buying for several years now. The old ways (prior to incorporating finite grading in the early 1980s) were much easier as buyers placed their messages on one of the various teletype systems and anyone with access would be made aware of these buy prices. The same could be said for dealers who were offering coins for sale to other dealers. CDN Publications have always used any and all legitimate sources to gather Bid and Ask information in our efforts to bring you the most accurate, up-to-date prices in the marketplace. For many years, the teletype systems were the primary source, though not our only sources.

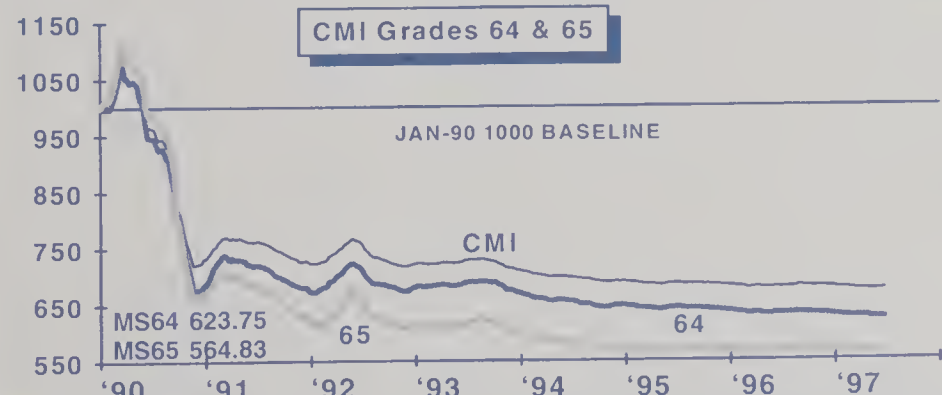

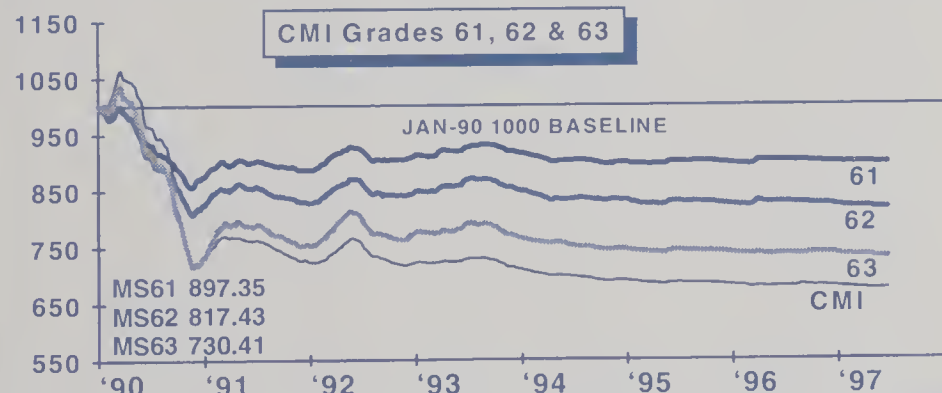

Nowadays, most dealers support the buying methods in which they have the greatest success. The methods that produce the best results are utilized over and over again. The more enterprising dealers will generate their own fax lists of buys and sells and send them to the other dealers with whom they continually do business. They may use these same lists when they attend coin shows as their most active markets are conveniently at hand. Other dealers may make use of want lists, thus keeping their actual buy prices somewhat concealed until they locate the coins they wish to purchase.

Of course, the last few years have seen auctions as a major source of acquiring fresh rarities. Don't get me wrong, here, auctions have always been a good source for fresh coins and rarities; however, for the last ten years, dealers are not encountering near as many "fresh" deals as they had in the past. The majority of these deals seem to find their way to the auction houses more often than not. Whether the collector or his agent dealer is bringing them to the auction house is not the point, it is that very few major collections wind up being broken up at coin shows any longer.

Since most dealers have changed their buying and selling strategies over the last few years, many have moved away from using the teletypes as their main source of doing business. Many dealers feel that the teletypes are fine for buying and selling Proof and Mint Sets, bullion (gold, silver, & scrap), BU rolls, common material where it is not specifically mandatory for grade and price to intersect. However, most dealers feel that when you are buying and selling the kind of coins listed in the CCDN, teletype transactions are a very minor percentage of their overall business. Therefore, much of the Bidding activity dealers see on the teletypes is just bargain-hunting. If they are really serious about specific certified needs, they will typically contact other dealers who understand their grading criteria and are capable of satisfying these specific needs. This additional information, which has become of primary importance, is what we take into consideration along with all the previously mentioned sources that result in producing accurate, timely prices for our dealers.

We should have plenty to report next week from the Arizona Expo as we have spoken with numerous dealers who are headed to this up and coming show. Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., will conduct one of their traditional Bullet Sales, in which many dealers always participate. There are over 800 lots in this sale; dealers will find coins for under a hundred dollars, on up to thousands of dollars. Sometimes there are some real bargains found depending on the variety of dealers and collectors in attendance. For this reason, the prices realized may or may not define the Bid price listed within these pages.

Certified Coin Market Continues To Develop Stack's Sale Realizes Over $2.5 Million

The certified market for sight-unseen coins began this year much as it ended last year. There did not seem to be much direction and prices continued to drift lower for many of the more common issues. The dwindling prices were exacerbated by the fact that many dealers were lowering their Bids because they did not wish to purchase (read—be stuck with) the low-end coins in a particular grade category. While the low-end coins still continue to perpetrate damage to sight-unseen Bidding activity, the overall coin market seems to have improved enough that the amount of increased sales helps to compensate for the low-end coins that overhang the marketplace. If a dealer ends up buying an occasional ugly coin with their sight-unseen Bid, the number of decent coins purchased will more than make up for it.

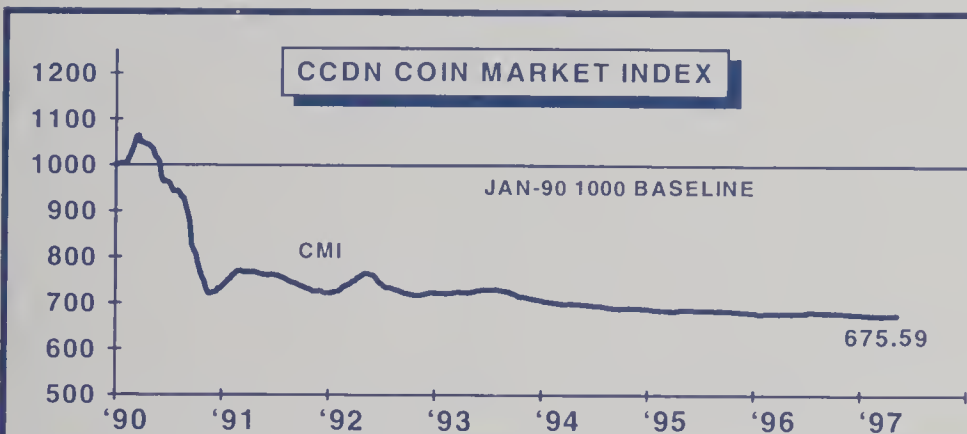

As dealers find improvement in the overall market, more specifically, their own businesses, they tend to make more competitive Bids for the coins in which they make markets. They are still concerned about the low-end coins they may buy, but with the increase in business, they feel that these coins will eventually go away to buyers who are "price" collectors only. We have seen dealers at coin shows offer a customer two coins of the same grade, one a high-end coin and the other a low-end; sometimes the price difference may be as much as 100%. The customer then must decide whether he is buying quality or just filling a slot. Most collectors begin with a very price conscious attitude, but that usually changes as his/her interest increases with education and additional experience.

At the beginning of the year, the number of plus signs in the "Bluesheet" were a bare minimum each week. Most weeks would find less than fifty advances as dealers were more interested in selling coins than buying. The number of decreases far outnumbered the increases; some weeks as many as 400 minus signs appeared. As business began to show improvement, plus signs began to increase in early February. Since March, the number of advances became more consistent and improved to between 150 and 200, several times in the last seven weeks. As you might expect, the increase in plus signs creates a more positive atmosphere in the market and the number of declines seems more like "just a modest shred of fine tuning" rather than the negative outcome that they usually have when there are not many plus signs to report.

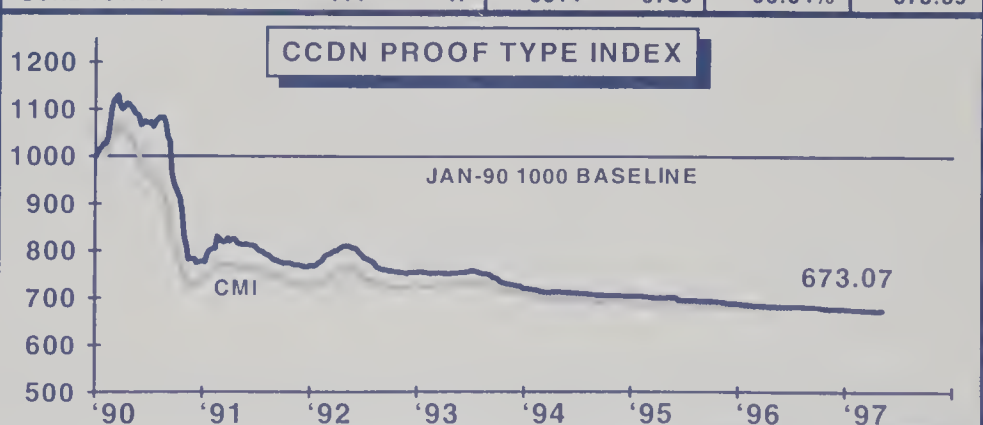

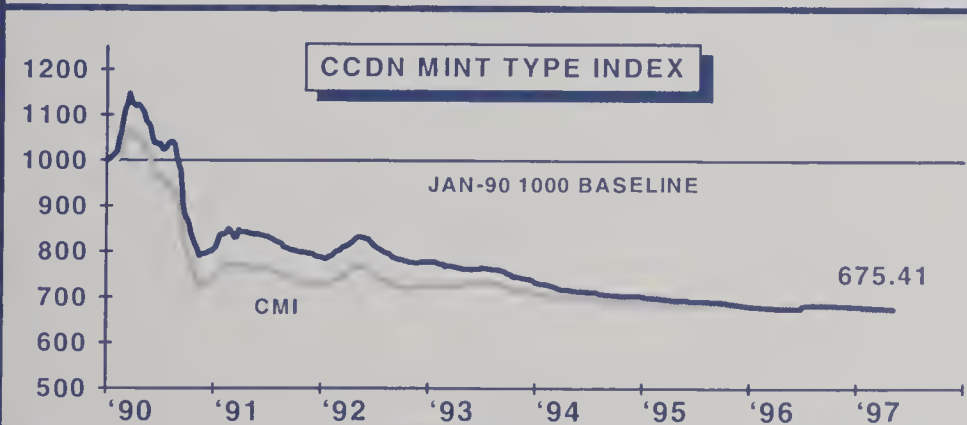

It is quite obvious to those of us who have been in this business for several decades, that a developing market causes dealers to spend more money and pay more competitive prices for the coins they buy. Of course, this leads to an expansion of Bidding activity among more dealers that also produces healthier competition which tends to create further increases in Bid levels. Wow! This sounds like a coin market with which we all could live. Now, if we could just exhort our fellow collectors to entice their friends, we might soon experience a coin market that many have envisioned for the last ten or so years.

Stack's just completed an important sale in New York; the total sale realized upwards of $2,500,000. This sale covered quite a variety of numismatics; included were Paper Money, Colonials, and raw coins, as well as some "slabbed" specimens. We have listed some of the highlights below:

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

THE LEGEND GROWS!

In the recent Eliasberg sale we spent over $1,000,000.00 to cherry pick coins that we felt were the "cream" of the collection. Our only disappointment was we weren't able to buy more coins! Some highlights of our purchases include:

At Legend Numismatics, we believe there is no substitution for quality. The coins in the Eliasberg sale were clearly above and beyond anything we have ever seen. Since we knew these pieces could not be duplicated our goal was to be major players from the start. Will your dealer really step up and pay for the finest? We did, and we are proud of it!

MARKET STRENGTH CONTINUES BUYERS FOCUS ON AUCTIONS & "BIG-TICKETS"

by Kevin Foley

The collectible paper money market continues to be a bright spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention was a sell-out. The House of Representatives, February 24-26 Chicago Paper Money Exposition sold out nearly December, and has a waiting list of 15 dealers waiting space. One market balancer seldom commented upon is the relative ease for difficulty convention sponsors have in filling their bourse areas. While coin shows have tended to shrink in size over the past five years (some quite considerably), this has not been the case in the paper money arena. Not only are established dealers continuing to return, but new entrants are also supporting the paper money specialty events.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As mentioned here in the past, it is not unusual to see individuals reluctant to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction actually pay more for a comparable item at auction. Because of the inherent subjectivity of grading, and the fact that grading opinions and abilities vary widely even among recognized professionals, many buyers seem to need the assurance of a sale provided by the auction process. That is the auction assurance, of knowing that someone else, the party they are bidding against, shares their opinion of an item's value. That the winning bid of $2,000 received from someone else who felt it was more than enough to be worth $1,950. In a private transaction, this additional confirmation of value is lacking. The fact here is that the $2,000 item may only be worth perhaps $1,000 to the next buyer.

This general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and just as timidly in private transactions, has resulted in a two-tiered market. The same material, more often than not, will sell for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material offered at auction is far more liquid and typically sells rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal in Currency Auctions of America, this is a process I constantly note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES
This is one of the strongest areas in numismatics and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all denominations. The most expensive notes, those seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes, those rate pieces typically selling above $10,000 are especially strong. A whole new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past two to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin, and dealers were often frustrated that an item which might be worth more based on its rarity would sell for a disappointingly low number — simply because there were so few buyers for such rarities. That situation has been completely reversed today. In a growing number of buyers, such resources to match their interests have entered the field. These buyers realize that if they miss a note to one of their competitors, such an item may not become available to them again for years.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES
Interest here remains in the specialty areas — the Star Notes, rarer backs, makes etc. Buyers are attracted by the fact that a bit of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The difference between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a digit in the serial number or a single digit in a back plate number. Students of Small Type will often have greater knowledge of these nuances than a selling dealer and may often charge a premium as a result. Types of type material remain quite stable and can be expected to do so because of large quantities available.

Low-Pop Dollars Continue To Surge Ahead

Bids Stable As Overall Trading Activity Intensifies

Since The Eliasberg Sale, the amount of Bidding activity for better-date Dollars has been on the rise. There are several dealers who continue to make their buy prices highly visible just in case any of these rarities come onto the market. In most cases, it is not likely that the current owners of any of these dates are likely to sell, but there is always the chance that a new coin could be located and certified by one of the major services. Therefore, even though some of the Bids may seem like a waste of time, a potential seller would know right where to go when and if the opportunity presents itself.

One of the main reasons that rare-date Dollars exemplifies such a buyer's market is that the populations of these issues are quite minuscule. For example, the 1893O Morgan has a total of only thirty-three coins in MS64 and higher certified by NGC and PCGS. Twenty-nine of those are MS64; presumably, there are just four coins in MS65 and higher (these four happen to be MS65s) if none have been counted twice in the census reports. Therefore, only four different collectors can have one of these specimens in their collections. Furthermore, nobody has one (certified, that is) any better than a 65. Theoretically, someone can Bid as high as they want for MS66 or 67s since there are no coins certified better than 65. Yet, if, perchance, a coin is certified either of these illustrious grades, there seem to be enough well-heeled collectors standing in line to pay even more than the new higher Bids.

How does the current market for rarities influence the overall market for everyday coins? As we have seen lately and reported for at least the last year, rare coins are attracting buyers at levels unheard of in the previous six years. In the coin market heyday, just pick one of the hot cycles, 1964, 1979-80, 1989 (especially), there were lots of coins selling at extravagant prices. However, not all of these expensive coins were actually that rare. They may have seemed like it at the time, and they may have seemed like a bargain because they were continually going up and supplies were thin. Yet, markets like these in the past are just an indication that some people (sometimes lots of people) have more money than insight.

Why do people buy coins when they are "hot" at the end of a cycle, when the only consequence may be an evaporation of assets? Why don't people buy coins when they are at the bottom of the cycle so they can make profits for a change? Well, that appears to be changing. Every coin dealer that reads the Bluesheet knows how their business has been improving over the last year. Most dealers are even aware of how other dealers are doing. Just as importantly, we have some sort of contact with just about every dealer in the country and we have received so much market input in the last six months that our work load has practically doubled.

What this information is telling us is that, while the market for rarities is obviously robust, the overall market has picked up considerably also. Now, not every coin dealer sees the same thing. Individual dealerships may still be suffering from a lack of customers, diversified inventory, capital, marketing, among various other obstacles. However, with all the input we are receiving on a regular basis, we can assure you that the market is looking rather healthy at this time.

So how does the market for the classic rarities influence the rest of the market? It actually allows the rest of the market to take advantage of the notoriety that has befallen on these rarities. The entire market may not be in an upswing, but, it appears that coins in every series and grade are salable at this time. Some issues may require discounts from Bid, while others will bring premiums over Bid. This is the information that we procure from all parts of the country and reveal to our readers within these pages.

While the sight-unseen market may be quite different from the "real" coin market, sight-unseen Bids do divulge a bottom-line price for coins in your inventory. Remember, the low Bids for some issues are caused by the fact that there may be some ugly coins certified that dealers just do not want to buy. However, the same issue and grade may be an easy seller to a sight-seen buyer (over the sight-unseen Bid) if it is just an average coin for the grade. Very few dealers are willing to buy ugly coins. Even the collectors, who are price conscious, are not likely to accept the ugly coins.

Coin buyers are more intelligent today than they have been in the past. They have become better educated; they have more sources from which to learn. The number of books in the marketplace that can be used for reference, along with the census reports, makes for better decision-making. This may be another reason why many dealers feel that business is better, although it may not be obvious to everyone. Education of the collector takes time and energy. It does not come overnight. The better educated a collector becomes, the more likely he/she is to spend more money for the "right" coin.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Dollars Maintain Their Leadership As Most Popular Series Active Wholesale Market Lacks Widespread Participation

While we have been extolling the strength of the coin market over the last few weeks, we have been reminded that the sight-unseen market is a separate dimension of the overall market. In fact, at times, the sight-unseen market is so far removed from the "real" market that sight-unseen Bids may be just half of what various coins will actually trade for on a sight-seen basis. Further, in numerous cases, you may not even be able to locate a dealer who will Bid on some coins sight-unseen. The only way dealers will buy them is after a thorough examination.

The common dated issues are the coins that receive the majority of competitive sight-unseen Bidding. As long as dealers know that there are several other Bidders just beneath them, within a very small percentage of their Bids, they know they can always sell the ugly, low-end coins to the next Bidder in line if they wish to reduce their inventory. This protects their Bids and their inventories, especially if they are looking to buy large quantities for a customer. On issues where you see a very small number of buyers (meaning little sight-unseen competition), you will usually find that the Bid is not very reflective of the true value of the coin.

As active as we have reported the coin market the last several weeks, not all coin dealers are enjoying this new found strength in the marketplace. The coin business has been "sluggish" for so long that many retail coin shops are barely managing to survive. Some dealers have told us they feel undercapitalized and underinventoried; when they do have new customers venture into their store with an interest in coins, their lack of diversity is readily apparent. It is quite difficult to sell something to someone when you do not have that for which they are looking.

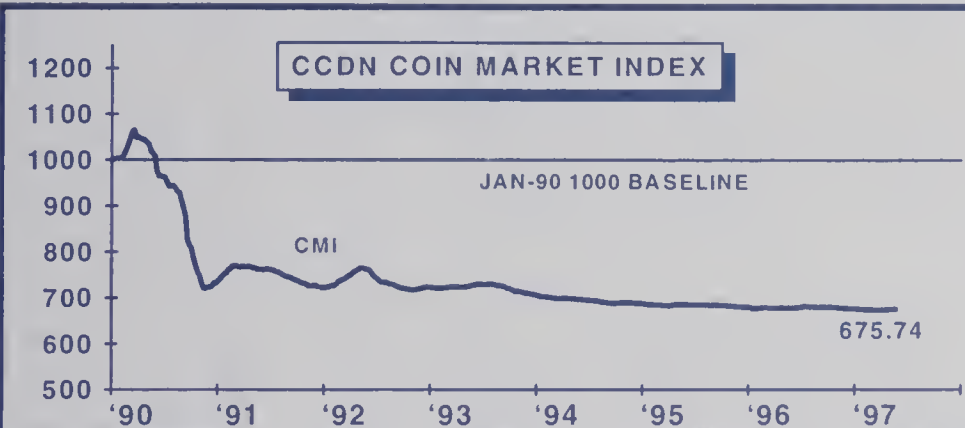

The solutions for these varied problems are quite simple: More cash; more inventory. This is an age-old problem. One dealer, with a small retail coin shop, has revealed his formula for trying to participate in this potentially profitable market. He reminds us that, "It takes money to make money. If you don't have the capital to maintain a varied inventory that has depth, at least try to offer as wide a variety of coins for as many types of buyers as you possibly can. If a potential customer has enough interest, and I have done my job properly, I can always obtain other coins for him. This can be the beginning of a positive relationship."

As we all know, building a successful business takes time and effort. We have lost many coin shops over the last several years; at the same time, there are some new ones opening up. The new ones may not be any better capitalized than the familiar established ones, but their attitudes may be a lot more positive. Being positive may be the most important ingredient in today's market. We have witnessed a decline in the coin market for the last several years. Still, prices are at all time lows for certified coins. Now, it is up to all dealers to stress the positive aspects of today's prices and start new customers on the road to education so they can be the astute collectors of tomorrow.

We continue to find more buyers for Dollars than any other series. Not only will some dealers buy them sight-unseen, but several will buy the better-to-rare dates at even higher prices if they fit into their grading criteria. Common date Dollars, both Morgan and Peace, have constant buyers in MS61 all the way to MS67. In the lower grades, the marketmakers will usually take quantities, but they do not find many sellers at today's levels. Quantity sellers will typically want 5% to 10% more than the buyers are Bidding. When dealers Bid for Dollars that are just a little better than common, they will usually find just a coin or two at their Bids. Most sellers still try to hold out for a fair Ask price.

With the better date Dollars, we have found any number of dealers who are trying to fill the needs of their best customers. The problem here is that there are only so many coins in these elusive grades and the availability is even more restrictive. When a specific coin is available and it is in the price range of the astute collector, it doesn't take too long for the coin to be examined, negotiated, and then placed in the lock-box for another generation or so. In most cases, for the collector who can afford to purchase these types of coins, the money is not the main concern; locating the coins that meet their grading criteria is the primary obstacle to overcome.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks. sell lists coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" - Trade appearing last month; "ot" - Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the Eliasberg-Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, the world's most famous (and most valuable!) coin. Or, the two PF-68 Extremely High Relief $20 St. Gaudens gold pieces. The magnificent 1822 half eagle. Not to mention many of the most important coins from the Byron Reed, Eliasberg, and Trompeter Collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is just to name a few examples.

While we are grading many of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, an average of more than 33,000 coins per month in 1996. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin

Market Activity, Sight-Unseen Bids Increase

Dollars Continue To Lead The Way

An increase in the overall market activity has translated into more wholesale and retail transactions taking place, according to dealers. In turn, there has been some higher sight-unseen Bidding activity, especially noticeable with Morgan Dollars.

Buyers are particular. Coins that are dull or below average for the grade, those "just" coins continue to be the slowest movers. However, dealers are out there actively seeking coins that possess nice eye appeal, show pizzazz, are more scarce than the most common dates and have the fewest number of problems. Of course, these are the coins that are most salable to their customers and the most difficult for dealers to locate. So if an opportunity presents itself with a coin that represents excellent value, the dealer is quick to add this coin to inventory because these coins are the easiest to market to collectors.

As collector demand for coins increases, dealers become more interested in maintaining their inventories with coins their customers want. Unfortunately, coins offering good value aren't always available in the quantities necessary to satisfy their customer want lists. This kind of demand puts an even greater upward pressure on price. That's why dealers feel it is important to plan ahead and maintain an inventory sufficient to satisfy customer needs, anticipating not only their needs but the market as well.

Premium quality coins continue very much in demand. Many dealers are quick to recognize the type of coin that meets their standard within a specific grading category. Often, dealers can price these premium quality coins above what otherwise would be considered a fair price for the grade. These are the coins selling in today's market. Remember, what is considered to be a premium quality coin at one grade level may only be a low-end coin at the next highest grade level. But collectors just wanting "stuff" (larger quantities of coins) are still satisfied receiving those PCGS and NGC certified coins at current, attractive sight-unseen levels.

Dealers have lists of customers wanting to purchase BU MS-61 through MS-63 Morgan Dollars. Mainly, they are looking for dates that are slightly better than the most common for the series. They seem to prefer the semi-key, scarce dates. Consequently, prices have strengthened significantly for those dates, which are experiencing the majority of the demand. A sampling of this demand includes the tough Morgan Dollar semi-key dates such as 1886-S, 1892, 1892-O, 1893, 1893-O, 1894-S, and 1895-S. These dates are desirable in circulated and uncirculated condition. Still, collectors are picky about their coins, wanting examples that are brilliant white examples having nice eye appeal or those attractive rainbow toned Dollars.

The common date Morgan Dollars have also experienced some of this demand but buyers are much more selective before purchasing these available coins. Dealers maintain that there are a lot of "ugly" coins out there and these coins are receiving the weakest Bids. However, a significant increase in demand for BU Morgan Dollar rolls has helped to increase the Bid levels for Morgan Dollar singles.

Peace Dollars are also realizing some of this collector demand, albeit not as strong as the Morgan Dollar series. Still, the tough to locate dates of the series such as 1927-S and 1934-S continue to be requested in all grades by collectors. Dealers are having a difficult time maintaining their inventory levels with these key dates.

While the Dollar market has been hot, the Gold market has only experienced lackluster activity. For one reason the price of Gold bullion, as of this writing is still trading below the $350 level causing continued downward pressure for common date Gold coins. This is especially true of the Liberty and Indian $10 and Liberty and Saint-Gaudens $20 denominations. However, another more important reason why Gold coins are soft is due to a quantity of "ugly" coins on the marketplace in the MS-61 and MS-62 grades. These low-end coins are holding down Bid levels.

Still, there are some bright spots among Gold coins. The $20 Saint-Gaudens are experiencing strong demand in MS-65 condition. This demand seems to have dried-up the number of MS-65 Saints available on the market. The sight-unseen market for MS-65 Saints is also strong. Most MS-65 Saints come nice, according to some dealers but there seems to be an insufficient quantity of the them to satisfy current demand.

According to some dealers, there have been some "ugly" MS-62 Saint's and $20 Liberty's that have become a drag on gold coin prices, along with generic gold coins. Conversely, decent looking generic gold coins are being purchased at current levels and in fact, realizing stronger Bids. Also, better date gold coins of all denominations are still very much in demand.

The better date coins include the Charlotte, Dahlonega, New Orleans and Carson City Mints. There are also many tough Philadelphia Mint issues that are surprisingly scarce in XF 45 and better grades. Finally, strike is an important aspect of a buyer's decision with Charlotte and Dahlonega Mint Gold. They want well-struck coins understanding that even well struck examples can't compare to their Philadelphia Mint counterparts.

Dealers continue to perceive Bid levels to be too cheap for MS-61 to MS-63 Type coins. However, some dealers have said the reason for this perception is reflective of a quantity of lesser quality Type coins.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity, including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are new or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

IF YOU HAVE COINS TO SELL...

WHETHER IT'S A $2,000,000 1804 DOLLAR...

OR $30 COMMON DATE MORGAN DOLLAR...

The only strategy that makes sense...is to call the King of Cash before you actually sell your coins.

The King of Cash Meter

Nobody spends more money buying U.S. coins from collectors and investors like yourself than Spectrum Numismatics! And the nice thing about Spectrum is we desperately need to buy all of your coins. That's why our name is Spectrum...we buy it all.

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH SPECTRUM

Spectrum Numismatics desperately needs your coins. Its coin-hungry clients have a huge appetite for pre-1950 U.S. coins. Spectrum has no choice. They must buy your coins or lose their clients. That's why 67% of all Spectrum purchases are from coin dealers. The professionals, the people in the know, the people who make their money buying and selling coins, sell them to Spectrum. Nobody pays more...nobody pays faster...and nobody makes it easier for you to sell your coins.

Spectrum is so desperate for your coins that all you have to do is call the King of Cash and tell us what you have for sale. If your coins fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. The King of Cash will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the King of Cash's offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins along with a check for your shipping expenses. If, for some reason, you do not want to accept the King of Cash's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses. In other words, you now have a totally risk-free way of receiving an outrageous offer for your coins... an offer that you're free to accept or decline.

SPECTRUM IS DESPERATE FOR YOUR COINS

NOBODY PAYS
THAN THE
KING OF CASH

Pictured above is the Eliasberg specimen of the famous 1804 Silver Dollar. At the Eliasberg sale, this 1804 Silver Dollar set a new world record for the sale of a single U.S. coin at public auction, when it brought $1,815,000! The purchaser of this record setting coin was Spectrum Numismatics. The third and final portion of the Louis Eliasberg collection of United States coins, was sold at public auction by Bowers and Merena in New York City on April 6 through 8, 1997. The sale brought a record $20,892,783. Spectrum purchased $4,302,544 at the sale. In other words, Spectrum bought 20.6% of the entire sale!

It is not an unusual occurrence for the King of Cash to be the #1 buyer at most major sales. The firm spending the most money to acquire coins is Spectrum Numismatics. Nobody pays more for coin at auction. Nobody will pay more for your coins.

The best time to sell is when you have a willing buyer. And nobody is more willing than Spectrum to trade some cold hard cash for your coins. Our customers are screaming for coins. We estimate that we need to spend $80,000,000 this year to satisfy the needs of our clients. Check out Spectrum's "King of Cash meter." So far this year, we've spent $22,457,430. We need your help in order for us to be able to satisfy our clients and purchase the necessary $80,000,000 worth of coins this year. If you have any pre-1950 U.S. coins for sale, there's only one strategy that makes sense. Before you sell any coins, call Spectrum. You can contact the Spectrum buyers any weekday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. California time. Just tell them you want to talk to the King of Cash.

Market For Sight-Unseen Coins Steady

Interest Strong For Morgan Dollar Keys

Compared to last week, there has been less activity and increases in Bid and Ask levels for the sight-unseen certified coin market. Don't be mislead, because this week still demonstrated positive momentum that we have seen over the last several weeks. This positive momentum has been especially significant when you consider that the market usually slows down at this time of year with the Long Beach Expo and rare coin auctions in progress.

Monitoring the number of market Bids and Asks helps us to determine current market strength. This can be measured by observing the number of plus signs we've been recording, as well as checking the number of Bids which have supported prices at current levels. There has been a lot of activity taking place in the market at or slightly above and below current levels.

In all, this information indicates a sight-unseen market that remains steady with some increasing prices continuing at current levels. That's because demand for coins remains strong. How do we know this? The fact that there is not a lot of discounted selling going on proves that the market is being supported at the current levels.

Why has demand for coins remained so strong? One reason may point to the fact that collectors want coins that are difficult for dealers to locate. Collectors are very selective, demanding specific dates in specific grades. Dealers understand their customer needs and are trying to buy coins that won't be returned.

Dealers continue to maintain customer want lists and are actively trying to fill these needs. Dealers understand that being hesitant when it comes to a purchase of a semi-key or key date means, "I'm sorry, that coin is already out for a look-see." or, "Sorry, that coin is sold." The opportunity to purchase a scarce date for a client is a priority many dealers try to maintain. So, they must act quickly when a special date becomes available.

Similarly, we have seen an increase in competitive Bidding in the sight-seen market. Dealers that ask to see a coin and like what they see are willing to pay over sight-unseen Bid levels to acquire it. This is especially true of those premium quality coins for the grade. These are the coins that have nice eye appeal coupled with few distractions in the coin's primary focal area. Scratches or unsightly marks in this area seem to affect the coin's grade the most and consequently, its price and marketability to customers.

The sight-unseen market for Morgan Dollars continues to be strong. Buyers are out there paying current Bid levels and above to acquire many better date Dollars. However, the most common dates of the series are only experiencing some demand with Bids generally holding recent levels.

Bid levels increased in some Morgan Dollar key dates grading MS-66 and MS-67. Some dates benefiting from these strong Bids include 1883-S, 1886-O, 1887/6-O, 1888-S, 1889-O, 1892, 1893-O and 1894-O. Availability of these dates in high-grade is so thin that dealers should expect heavy competition for accurately graded examples. Brilliant white coins are desirable but attractively toned examples can also command a premium.

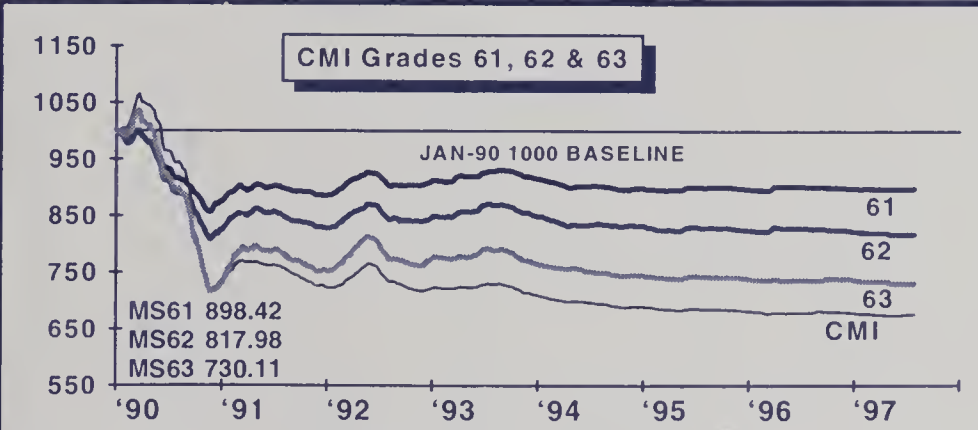

The sight-unseen market for the 20th century collector series is also stable. Dealer Bid and Ask levels are supported this week for Buffalo Nickels, Mercury Dimes and Walking Liberty Half Dollars. The Type sight-unseen market also remained stable.

A good indication of the current market can be seen by the nearly $2 million realized during the May 30-31 public auction of The Collections of Edgar M. Rossi & R. Sloan Wilson, M.D. The sale was conducted by Auctions by Bowers and Merena, Inc., Wolfeboro, N.H., consisting of approximately 1,800 lots of United States coins. There were also a few Canadian coins in the auction.

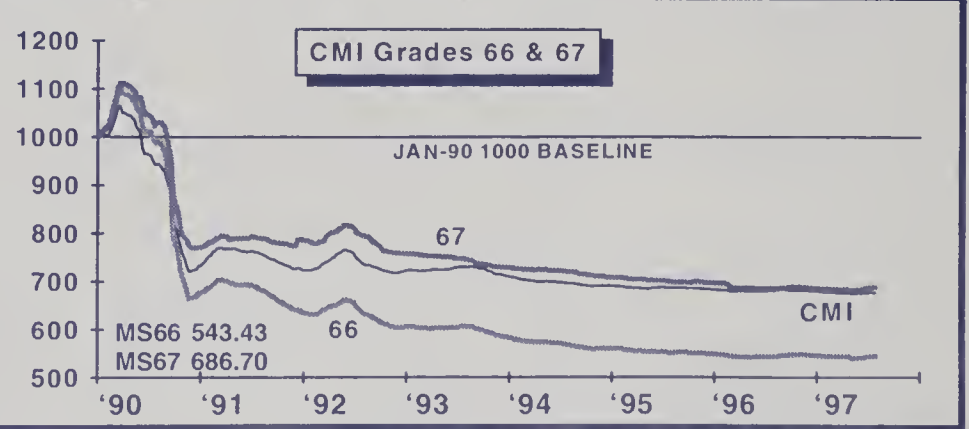

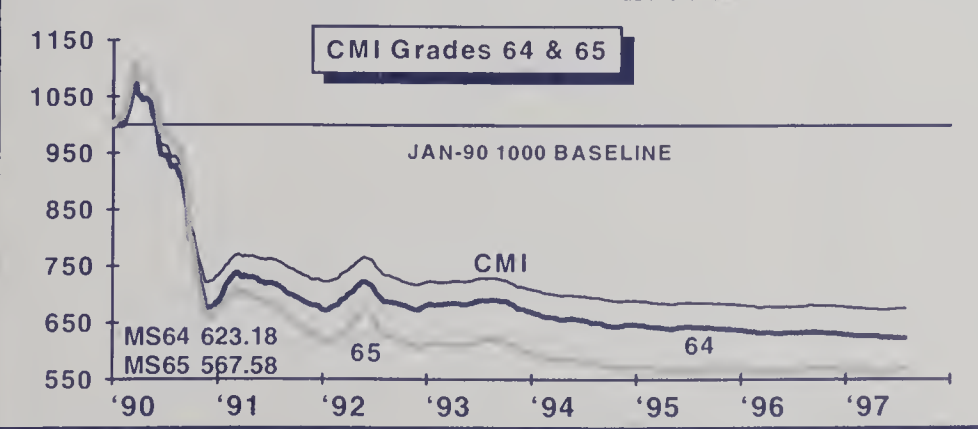

According to a Bowers and Merena representative, Bidding was positive but not runaway prices. However, there was a lot of genuine collector interest with competition for better date coins for their collections. This was evident by the large number of mail Bidders actively seeking to fill holes in their collection. A nice run of high-grade Mercury Dimes brought spirited Bidding. Some interesting prices realized are as follows:

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

- ☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.
- ☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic". We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.
- ☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).
- ☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.
- ☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!
- ☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service...guaranteed!!

IN MEMORY
RONNIE DOWNING

Thank you for the many years of friendship, trust, loyalty, and integrity.

You were one of the good guys. You were loved and you will be missed.

For those who did not know you, they missed an opportunity to know a real person. For those who did, they will never forget. Your memory will live on forever.

Thank you for the time you were here. You still are.

I wish your family the best;

John Albanese

Activity In Morgan Dollars Continues

Type Coins And DMPL Dollars Solid

Transactions are occurring at present levels. The sight-unseen market continues to maintain its momentum. Bids continue to be steady with strength seen for selected issues within the Morgan Dollar series and Type coins. Supplies are sufficient to meet the demand for most common dates. However, scarce, low-population semi-key and key dates can and do command higher Bids.

According to some dealers attending the June 5-8 Long Beach Expo, the sight-unseen market is doing "just fine." This is the case for most typical coins. Typical coins are not the coins that are viewed as premium quality coins. These PQ coins, high-end for the grade, can and usually command prices above those Bids normally posted.

Typical coins are also not coins that are considered to be "ugly," or unattractive for the grade. These coins usually sell at substantial discounts from their reported grade level. Typical coins are those average for the grade; those that you would expect to find at each grade level. Dealers see a lot of these coins on a daily basis and frequently buy and sell this material.

Average sight-unseen coins are selling at current Bid levels. According to some dealers that trade these coins on a regular basis, the market is steady with some increasing Bids being generated. Transactions are taking place.

Still, many transactions go uncompleted. Too often, buyers of sight-unseen coins are looking for coins that can be cracked-out for up-grades. It's one thing to expect solid coins for the grade but another to hope for something-for-nothing.

Today's dealers are quality conscious, looking for attractive coins no matter what the grade level. The coin is more desirable if it possesses nice eye appeal but, transactions for average eye appeal coins continue to take place.

Dealers are buying Type coins at current sight-unseen levels but there are conditions. Dealers want brilliant, white Type coins. Of course original, attractively toned coins may result in a transaction as well. When it comes to toned coins, dealers are careful. Toned coins that are unattractive, such as mottled or spotted examples are discounted or just not purchased. Artificially toned coins are usually not desired at any price.

Morgan Dollars have been a continued target of demand for the sight-unseen market for the last few months. There have been many Bids supporting the current prices. The strongest Bids are at the MS-61 to MS-65 grades. However, the Deep Mirror Prooflike coins are receiving considerable attention. The DMPL's are extremely popular with collectors. That's why dealers are finding it difficult to fill their customer want lists with these coins.

Some MS-65 DMPL dates experiencing demand include 1880-CC, 1881-CC, 1882-S, 1884 and 1890-CC. While these DMPL's are realizing increased Bidding activity, so are some semi-key dates such as 1886-O and 1887/6-O. Bids have been strongest for semi-key and key date Morgan Dollars from MS64-67.

Dealers want no-problem coins at each grade level. These are the most salable to collectors. Unfortunately for many dealers, Morgan Dollar and Peace Dollar key and semi-key dates are unavailable in the supplies needed to satisfy their customer want lists.

Superior Stamp & Coin's June 2-3rd, auction of The Margene Heathgate Collection of U.S. Coins realized strong prices for U.S. gold and Type coins. Some highlights from the 1,622 lot sale depict strong Bids for certified coins. Additional price information can be acquired by contacting Superior in Beverly Hills, CA.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

VarietyPlus

Your variety coins deserve NGC grading and attribution, like this exceedingly rare overdate half dollar.

NGC, the leader in grading the world's finest coins, is now the leader in variety attribution and grading with its new VarietyPlus grading tier. Most major varieties are attributed (see list at right), like this extremely rare 1817/4 Overton-102a half dollar. It's one more example of how the most important variety coins are now submitted to VarietyPlus by NGC.

The cost is $20 per coin with a turnaround of 21 working days. For coins worth more than $1,000, or for quicker turnaround, use our higher grading tiers for VarietyPlus attribution and add $5 to the tier price. It's easy to submit coins to VarietyPlus through our 1200-plus NGC member dealers nationwide. Or, if you're an ANA member, you can submit to NGC through the ANA.

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflike. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

Do You Know Which Highly Touted $20 Saint Gaudens EXPERIENCED A WHOPPING 800%

Population Explosion From July 1996 - January 1997?

We do ... and you should! Unfortunately, many other dealers are not able or willing to disclose this information to prospective buyers. However, Silvano DiGenova is eager to share this crucial data with you! And who is better qualified? For the past 18 years, Mr. DiGenova has demonstrated a remarkable measure of knowledge and an uncanny sense of market timing, as one of the most successful rare coin traders of all time! He makes his money in the rare coin business every day by trading coins with the foremost experts in the field ... and invariably he wins!

- In February 1980, while the coin market was “smoking” hot and the “experts” were buying with reckless abandon... he liquidated his entire inventory! Just two short months later, the coin market collapsed!
- In the summer of ‘86, he “shorted” 1,000 MS64 Morgan dollars to one of the “leading” experts at $300 each! By the time he had to deliver them, the market had dropped, and he was buying them for just $175 each!
- In April 1989, he sold his entire inventory to Kidder-Peabody’s American Rare Coin Fund! That was at the same time the “experts” had a severe case of Wall Street fever. Little more than a month later ... the coin market crashed!

Coincidence, or just a lucky guess? Absolutely not! These amazing examples are proof-positive of the extraordinary knowledge and sense of market timing Mr. DiGenova possesses.

- Do you know which Morgan dollar (valued today at $3,000) could easily drop below $1,000?
- Do you know which silver dollars have increased in supply by 921%, 1,206% and 1,415%?

You will find the answers to these questions and much more in THE INSIDER’S ADVANTAGE, because Mr. DiGenova is eager to share his expertise and unique insights with you through the pages of the most dynamic and insightful rare coin newsletter on the market today!

IF YOU HAVE COINS TO SELL...

WHETHER IT'S A $2,000,000 1804 DOLLAR...

OR $30 COMMON DATE MORGAN DOLLAR...

The only strategy that makes sense...is to call the King of Cash before you actually sell your coins.

The King of Cash Meter

Nobody spends more money buying U.S. coins from collectors and investors like yourself than Spectrum Numismatics! And the nice thing about Spectrum is we desperately need to buy all of your coins. That's why our name is Spectrum...we buy it all.

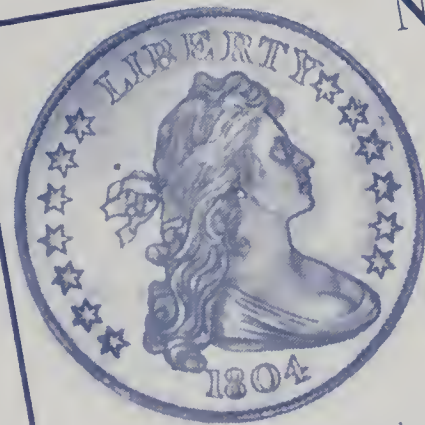

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH SPECTRUM

Spectrum Numismatics desperately needs your coins. Its coin-hungry clients have a huge appetite for pre-1950 U.S. coins. Spectrum has no choice. They must buy your coins or lose their clients. That's why 67% of all Spectrum purchases are from coin dealers. The professionals, the people in the know, the people who make their money buying and selling coins, sell them to Spectrum. Nobody pays more...nobody pays faster...and nobody makes it easier for you to sell your coins.

Spectrum is so desperate for your coins that all you have to do is call the King of Cash and tell us what you have for sale. If your coins fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. The King of Cash will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the King of Cash's offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins along with a check for your shipping expenses. If, for some reason, you do not want to accept the King of Cash's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses. In other words, you now have a totally risk-free way of receiving an outrageous offer for your coins... an offer that you're free to accept or decline.

SPECTRUM IS DESPERATE FOR YOUR COINS

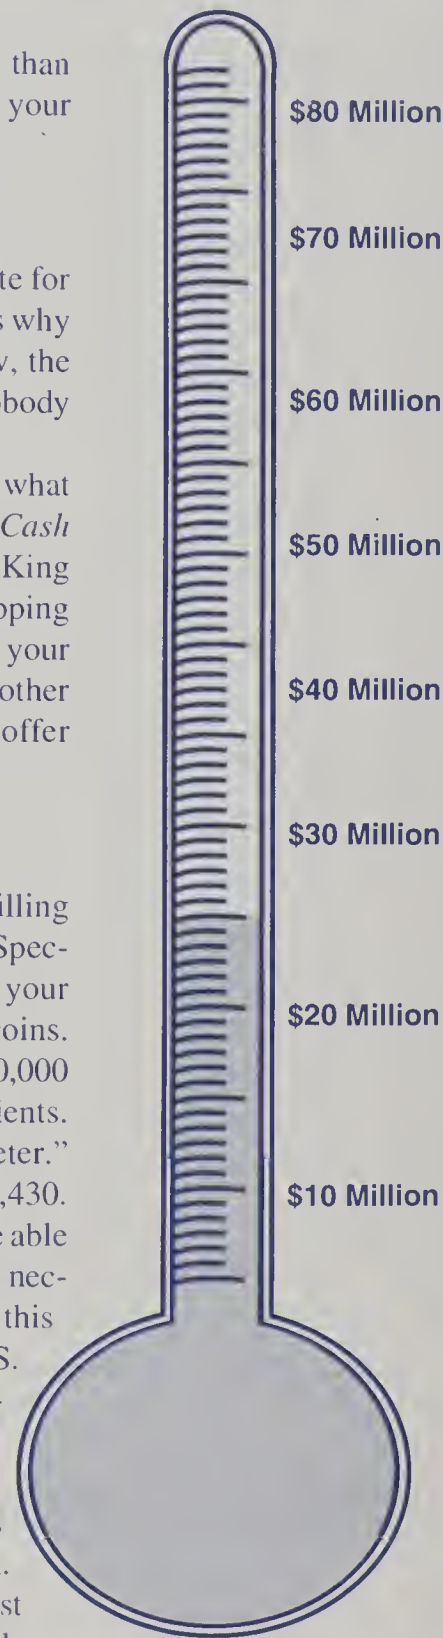

NOBODY PAYS
THAN THE
KING OF CASH

Pictured above is the Eliasberg specimen of the famous 1804 Silver Dollar. At the Eliasberg sale, this 1804 Silver Dollar set a new world record for the sale of a single U.S. coin at public auction, when it brought $1,815,000! The purchaser of this record setting coin was Spectrum Numismatics. The third and final portion of the Louis Eliasberg collection of United States coins, was sold at public auction by Bowers and Merena in New York City on April 6 through 8, 1997. The sale brought a record $20,892,783. Spectrum purchased $4,302,544 at the sale. In other words, Spectrum bought 20.6% of the entire sale!

It is not an unusual occurrence for the King of Cash to be the #1 buyer at most major sales. The firm spending the most money to acquire coins is Spectrum Numismatics. Nobody pays more for coins at auction. Nobody will pay more for your coins.

The best time to sell is when you have a willing buyer. And nobody is more willing than Spectrum to trade some cold hard cash for your coins. Our customers are screaming for coins. We estimate that we need to spend $80,000,000 this year to satisfy the needs of our clients. Check out Spectrum's "King of Cash meter." So far this year, we've spent $22,457,430. We need your help in order for us to be able to satisfy our clients and purchase the necessary $80,000,000 worth of coins this year. If you have any pre-1950 U.S. coins for sale, there's only one strategy that makes sense. Before you sell any coins, call Spectrum. You can contact the Spectrum buyers any weekday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. California time. Just tell them you want to talk to the King of Cash.

Demand Keeps Bids Solid Dollars Continue to Impress

Just like the sight-seen market, the sight-unseen market is fairly active with some plus signs for the week. This trend has gained momentum over the past several months. The demand for coins has increased generally and dealers need to acquire material at an increasing rate if they are to maintain their good customer service.

However, we have noticed a few significant companies posting strong, market-supporting Bids for rare coins of all types, while others continue to post Bids that are destined for failure. Why? Not only are these ridiculously below current market Bids not fooling anyone, but actually, they are wasting the time of dealers anxiously trying to complete transactions.

The big question, why continue this masquerade? Coin dealers are very knowledgeable about their business and astute when it comes to the many nuances of the coin market. They understand that some coins are low-end for the grade, while others with eye appeal receive a PQ designation. They know that all coins have their own individuality and consequently, price is just a function of these variables.

The dealer community understands that the vast number of common dates and/or slightly better date coins, are not that price sensitive within each grade range. Yet, there is a significant market out there for these coins and the quickest, most economical way to meet customer demand is via the sight-unseen market. We have also heard many a success story about customers more than pleased with their purchases made in this market.

Dealers trying to support the coin hobby are to be congratulated for their efforts, but is this necessary? The numismatic marketplace is powerful enough on its own, with strong collector demand for rare coins as a solid base, often outstripping the available supply. Yet, there are many wholesale coin companies posting sight-unseen Bids somewhere in this coin marketplace. We repeat. Certainly, they are to be commended for these Bids, but it shouldn't have to be this way. These coin companies post Bids so they are visible to a major segment of the overall dealer community. However, they aren't necessary to support the levels. Demand will take care of itself.

Other Bidders continue to be unproductive. We believe about 80 percent of those Bidding dealers are just spinning-their-wheels, because as we already mentioned, their Bids bear no resemblance to the real market. The real market is where actual transactions are consummated, after the buyer and seller agree with the quality and price of the coin.

We just can't figure out why some dealers feel they must waste their time, and others, issuing these useless Bids. Isn't it more practical to Bid in an effort to actually buy coins? In many cases, dealers are Bidding for their customers. The demand for many items is so strong, that dealers are willing to even advance or support the current Bids.

This has been the case for the last several months in the Morgan Dollar market. One major dealer continues to post sight-unseen Bids for dates that are somewhat better than common. This Bidding also includes some semi-key and key dates as well. They need Dollars in MS-61 through MS-64 condition and are willing to maintain prices at the current level.

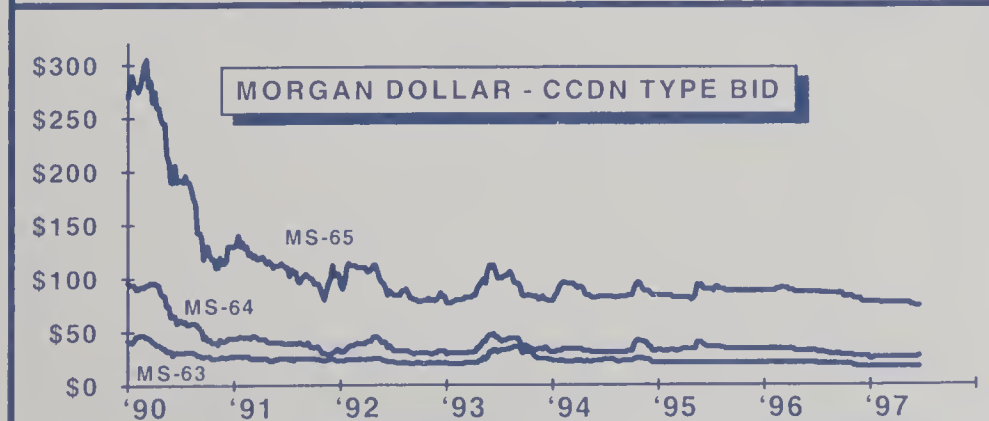

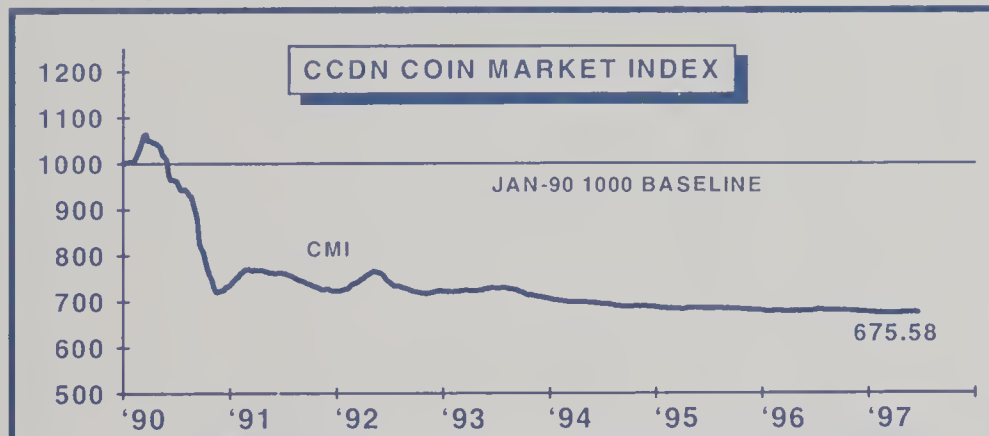

We have noticed an increase in demand for Prooflike and Deep Mirror Prooflike Morgan Dollars. Apparently, dealers are having little problem selling these attractive and popular cartwheels to their customers. The real problem stems from locating nice, choice examples.

Another major dealer has been posting Bids for rare-date Dollars in high grades. This dealer is actively pursuing those low-population issues. The published NGC and PCGS population reports offer dealers an opportunity to analyze each date by condition. They are looking for coins that have been overlooked for their true scarcity. Bargains are out there waiting for those dealers that have done their homework.

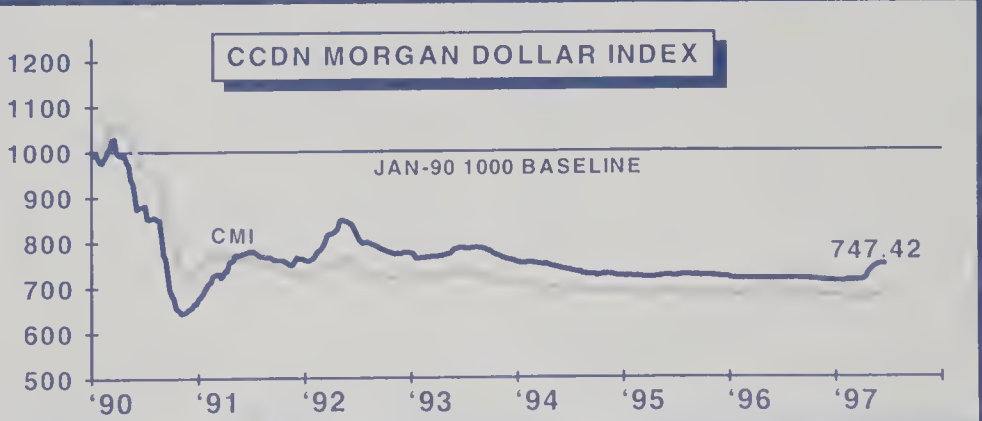

Dealers have many coins to locate and purchase. Once found, these coins will be immediately sold to a collector. In fact, many dealers wish they could find several examples of each date. That's because, if one of their customers passes on a particular scarce date, they have another waiting in the wings and eager to buy. All this makes for a steady to higher sight-unseen market and generally stronger rare coin market.

During a June 11th, Stack's public auction, strong prices were realized for certified rare coins. Type coins and selected scarce date coins brought competitive

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET STRENGTH CONTINUES BUYERS FOCUS ON AUCTIONS & "BIG-TICKETS"

ACTIVITY

by Kevin Bailey

The collectible paper money market continues to be a tight spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention course was well met. The buying for January Publications, February 1995 Chicago Paper Money Exposition is sold out in early December and has a waiting list of 15 dealers waiting space. One market barometer seldom commented upon is the relative ease in difficult collection specimens have in filling their house areas. While collectors have tended to shrink in size over the past few years, some quite understandable this has not been the case in the paper money area. Not only are established dealers continuing to return but new entrants are also supporting the paper money specialty.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As commented here in the past, it is not unusual to see individuals reluctant to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction actually pay more for a comparable item at auction. Because of the inherent subjectivity of grading, and the fact that grading companies and abilities vary widely even among the signed professionals, many buyers seem to need the assurance of a sale provided by the auction process. This is the auction assurance of knowing that someone else (the party they are bidding against) shares their opinion as to item value. That the winning bid of $2,000,000 of a note from someone else who felt it was one enough to be worth $1,950,000 in a private transaction, without the other buyers present in the auction arena, the additional confirmation of value is lacking. The fact then is that the $2,000,000 may only be worth perhaps $1,900,000 in the private market.

The general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and just as timidly in private transactions has resulted in a two-tiered market. The same material, more often than not, will sell for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material offered at auction is far more liquid and typically sells rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal of currency auctions of America, this is a process I constantly note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

This is one of the strongest areas in numismatics and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all conditions of material from VG to Gem. In addition, buyers are seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes, those rare prices typically selling above $10,000 are especially strong. A whole new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past two to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin and dealers were often frustrated that in turn it had brought in the collection-based collectors would see it as a disappointing low number. Simply because there were so few buyers for such rarities. This situation has been completely reversed today, as a growing number of buyers are seeking to match their interests. Sellers are in the field. These buyers realize that if they want a note from their collection, such an item may not become available to them again if it is sold.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Interest here remains in the specialty areas of Series 96a Notes and Series 96b Notes. Buyers are attracted by the fact that it is a study and knowledge in its own right, and is somewhat overlooked. The distinction between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a group letter in the serial number or a single digit in a back plate number. Most of the small type will show greater knowledge of these nuances than a selling dealer and may offer a better pick a bargain at a cost. Prices of type material remain quite stable and are expected to do so because of large quantities available.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

The Martin Company Collection, the only complete regular issue fractional collection yet formed, is being offered for sale in January in Orlando, Florida, by Currency Auctions of America. The collection contains numerous premium condition and ultra scarce to outright rare pieces. Its sale will redefine current values for fractional currency.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Like the Large Type market, National Bank Notes are attracting a growing body of collectors not afraid to spend serious money to acquire items needed for their collections. One attraction offered by National Bank Notes is the insatiable challenge presented by the task of turning a single issued collector. The surviving population of notes from many banks constitute only a tiny handful of pieces with some banks still awaiting the appearance of a discovery piece. Despite the rarity, notes on banks that exist in tiny quantities are typically acquired (new found) for a few thousand dollars at most, and in many instances for less than $1,000. These dual factors, the challenge of acquisition and relatively low prices in relation to rarity, can be expected to continue to stimulate interest in National Bank Notes.

MISCELLANEOUS

Stocks and Bonds, Obsolete Notes and Confederate material continue to enjoy the same strong demand as in the recent past.

AUCTIONS

Buyers will have much to choose from in the coming months. Currency Auctions of America will hold a 25th Anniversary sale in January. R.M. Smythe and Company will hold a significant Stock and Bond convention in later that month. Lyn Knight will hold a major sale February 25-26 in conjunction with the inaugural Chicago Paper Money Exposition.

The Greensheet reports the national currency market on a monthly basis.

IF YOU HAVE COINS TO SELL...

WHETHER IT'S A $2,000,000 1804 DOLLAR...

OR $30 COMMON DATE MORGAN DOLLAR...

The only strategy that makes sense...is to call the King of Cash before you actually sell your coins.

The King of Cash Meter

Nobody spends more money buying U.S. coins from collectors and investors like yourself than Spectrum Numismatics! And the nice thing about Spectrum is we desperately need to buy all of your coins. That's why our name is Spectrum...we buy it all.

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH SPECTRUM

Spectrum Numismatics desperately needs your coins. Its coin-hungry clients have a huge appetite for pre-1950 U.S. coins. Spectrum has no choice. They must buy your coins or lose their clients. That's why 67% of all Spectrum purchases are from coin dealers. The professionals, the people in the know, the people who make their money buying and selling coins, sell them to Spectrum. Nobody pays more...nobody pays faster...and nobody makes it easier for you to sell your coins.

Spectrum is so desperate for your coins that all you have to do is call the King of Cash and tell us what you have for sale. If your coins fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. The King of Cash will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the King of Cash's offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins along with a check for your shipping expenses. If, for some reason, you do not want to accept the King of Cash's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses. In other words, you now have a totally risk-free way of receiving an outrageous offer for your coins... an offer that you're free to accept or decline.

SPECTRUM IS DESPERATE FOR YOUR COINS

NOBODY PAYS
THAN THE
KING OF CASH

Pictured above is the Eliasberg specimen of the famous 1804 Silver Dollar. At the Eliasberg sale, this 1804 Silver Dollar set a new world record for the sale of a single U.S. coin at public auction, when it brought $1,815,000! The purchaser of this record setting coin was Spectrum Numismatics. The third and final portion of the Louis Eliasberg collection of United States coins, was sold at public auction by Bowers and Merena in New York City on April 6 through 8, 1997. The sale brought a record $20,892,783. Spectrum purchased $4,302,544 at the sale. In other words, Spectrum bought 20.6% of the entire sale!

It is not an unusual occurrence for the King of Cash to be the #1 buyer at most major sales. The firm spending the most money to acquire coins is Spectrum Numismatics. Nobody pays more for coins at auction. Nobody will pay more for your coins.

The best time to sell is when you have a willing buyer. And nobody is more willing than Spectrum to trade some cold hard cash for your coins. Our customers are screaming for coins. We estimate that we need to spend $80,000,000 this year to satisfy the needs of our clients. Check out Spectrum's "King of Cash meter." So far this year, we've spent $22,457,430. We need your help in order for us to be able to satisfy our clients and purchase the necessary $80,000,000 worth of coins this year. If you have any pre-1950 U.S. coins for sale, there's only one strategy that makes sense. Before you sell any coins, call Spectrum. You can contact the Spectrum buyers any weekday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. California time. Just tell them you want to talk to the King of Cash.

Sight-Unseen Market Continues To Be Firm Key Date Dollars Are Still In Demand

The market for certified rare coins, sight-unseen, has been in a steady and generally stable mode over the past few months. This is good news for those dealers actively buying and selling in this market. The predictability of this type of market allows dealers to enter Bids, without spending too much time figuring any dramatic changes that may have taken place within the past week.

Market activity has been strong due to a large quantity of coins available and a large number of dealers actively working on filling their customer want lists. These lists contain a large number of specific coins immediately wanted by collectors and investors. Their demands are specific to date, denomination and grade. However, dealers also buy coins to add to their inventory. If the coin is reasonably priced and has some general popularity, dealers usually purchase it to sell at a later date.

Customers have become extremely fussy in the 1990s. The quality of a particular coin is of utmost importance. This is true at each grade level. Every coin considered by the customer is checked carefully for eye appeal, excessive bag marks, strike and overall appeal.

Dealers know how important condition is to their customers and buy coins accordingly. They are always looking for coins that represent excellent value at each grade level. However, when it comes to some very scarce dates, a dealer will sacrifice some of the condition demands in order to obtain a rare date. Dealers do this because they know their customer is also willing to make this sacrifice. Rare coins are not readily available and the opportunity to purchase a tough date may be as rare as the date itself.

Leading the way in the sight-unseen market is the Morgan Dollar series. This series has garnered the attention of a few major players in the Dollar market. Obviously, demand from collectors and investors is very much alive. The Morgan Dollar is still a very popular coin with collectors and a relatively easy market pitch to the potential investor. Comparisons can quickly point out how high the price used to be in 1989, and what a bargain it appears to be at today's levels.

The Bidding for Dollars continues to be strongest for the many key and semi-key dates that abound in the Morgan Dollar series. Bidding for Dollars is strong throughout the circulated and Uncirculated grades. However, dealers are Bidding strongest for key date coins in MS-64 and higher condition. The hard part is locating a key date in MS-64 or better condition. There are a lot of collectors working on completing Uncirculated sets of Dollars. For most of them, the key dates in gem condition are the most sought-after Morgans.

Bids continue solid for the scarce Carson City, New Orleans and San Francisco Mints. These seem to be the Mints that are most popular with collectors and those that investors look to purchase as well. Some examples of the needed New Orleans key and semi-key dates include 1886-O, 1887-O, 1887/6-O, 1889-O, 1893-O, 1894-O, 1895-O, 1896-O, 1897-O, 1899-O and 1903-O.

One form of verification for the sight-unseen market is the public auction market. Recent public auctions have been very strong. There have been a number of auctions held around the United States realizing very good results. This is especially true for certified coins that have changed hands via public auction. Bidding for better date, certified coins have proven to be the strongest area.

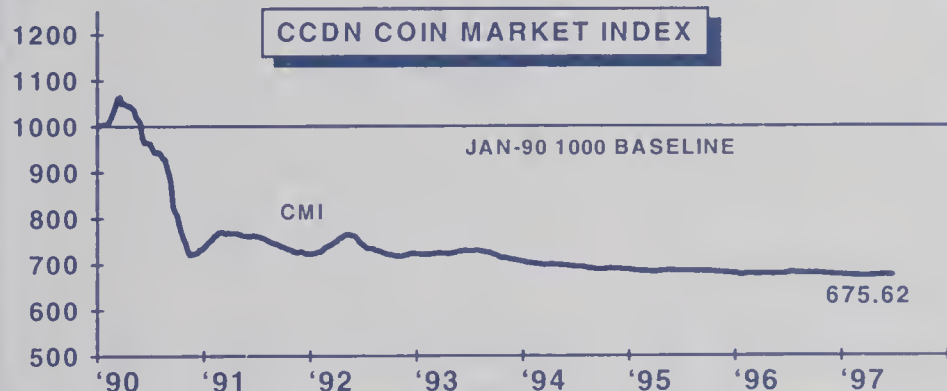

The auction market is the major supplier of rare dates to dealers. Many scarce dates appear after years of being off the market. Of course when more than one Bidder decides to buy the lot beyond its current Bid price, that's when the price can jump to record levels. We noticed a number of increased Bids for coins offered on the auction block.

Let's examine how the current Bid was squashed by the availability of an attractive, sight-seen rare date at public auction. During a June 2-3, Superior auction, a key date, 1916-D Mercury Dime graded by the Numismatic Guaranty Corporation of America as MS-65 Full Band sold for $17,325.

This winning Bid was much stronger than the current sight-unseen Bid of $12,250. This coin was obviously exceptional for the grade, if not a potential upgrade. Key date Mercury Dimes are in demand and the 1916-D is the number one Mercury Dime when it comes to popularity with collectors. It certainly ranks among the rarest Mercury Dimes as well. This kind of auction activity indicates to us the true strength of the coin market, and the demand for quality, key date coins.

We've also seen some scattered weakness in the sight-unseen market. Unfortunately, there continue to be some "ugly" coins offered to potential buyers at Bid. Of course, these coins are quickly returned and not with a polite thank you. These coins are responsible for wasting time and costing dealer's money just to ship back the coins.

These "ugly" coins often anger dealers. Dealers usually have a ready customer for the coin, but not if the coin doesn't measure up to be of reasonable quality for the grade. It is also quite frustrating for the dealer to return the coin because a quick sale and a happy customer are quickly erased.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists coin shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder
In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis

The World's Most Important Coins Are Consistently Graded By NGC

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the Eliasberg-Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, the world's most famous (and most valuable!) coin. Or, the two PF-68 Extremely High Relief $20 St. Gaudens gold pieces. The magnificent 1822 half eagle. Not to mention many of the most important coins from the Byron Reed, Eliasberg, and Trompeter Collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is just to name a few examples.

While we are grading many of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, an average of more than 33,000 coins per month in 1996. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently and impartially.

This is why NGC has been endorsed by the ANA and is the grading service of choice for the world's finest collections, the world's finest coins and more of your coins. It's also why we now have the largest dealer network at 1,200-plus (and growing) member dealers.

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the profession. NGC was first to offer World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, an Economy tier, and the

Sight-Unseen Market Activity Upbeat Early Gold And Type Represent Opportunity

The sight-unseen market continues to trade in a narrow, but fairly active range. Not to worry, the rare coin market generally slows down at this time of year but it has retained more strength than in past years. The greatest portion of the dealer demand continues to be active Bids for scarce semi-key and key date Morgan Dollars, Type coins and almost any scarce date among the popular series. One change of considerable note is the increased number of sight-unseen Bids we are seeing for early Gold coins. This is mainly for the early Quarter Eagles, Half Eagles and Eagles.

The dealer's demand for early Gold has forced Bids to increase above current levels and sometimes those increases are quite considerable. A major dealer we spoke to believes that demand is especially strongest for attractive, problem-free early Gold coins. The customer, the end consumer of the rare coin has the final word before any transaction is completed. These collector/investors are willing to pay the 'big bucks' but, they want coins which have eye appeal and haven't been cosmetically enhanced to bring out nice surfaces that are not really there to begin with.

Dealers believe that Type coins are very attractively priced at the present time. They are actively looking to purchase Type coins because they believe the current levels represent an excellent opportunity for their customers. They're also aware that their customers demand very attractive Type coins. If a coin is dull or "ugly" for the grade, it becomes a real difficult coin to sell. Coins like these tend to sit in dealers' inventories for a longer period of time. These coins become unproductive assets for the dealer and decrease liquidity. Type coins that have dark toning or are black in appearance become an extremely difficult item to sell. Dealers understand that today's collectors are looking for attractively toned coins. However, many also prefer brilliant, white specimens. They want white coins that haven't been overdipped, losing much of their original, mint luster.

There is considerable demand for Bust, Barber and Seated Type coins. This demand is for Proof and Mint State coins. However, the collector is very aware of the current population reports. The importance of the relative rarity of these coins should not be overlooked. Dealers are always looking to purchase low-population dates. It is imperative that they have the latest information available. Why? It's because with the low-pop dates, even a small change can affect the coin's value in a big way.

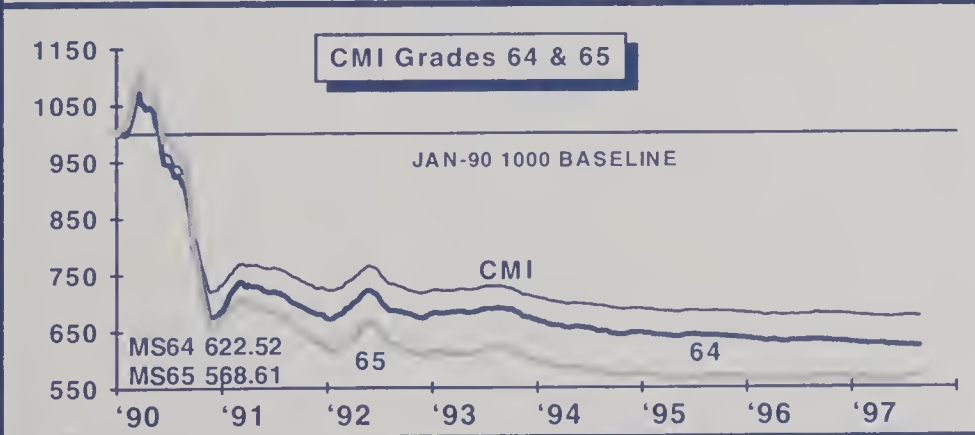

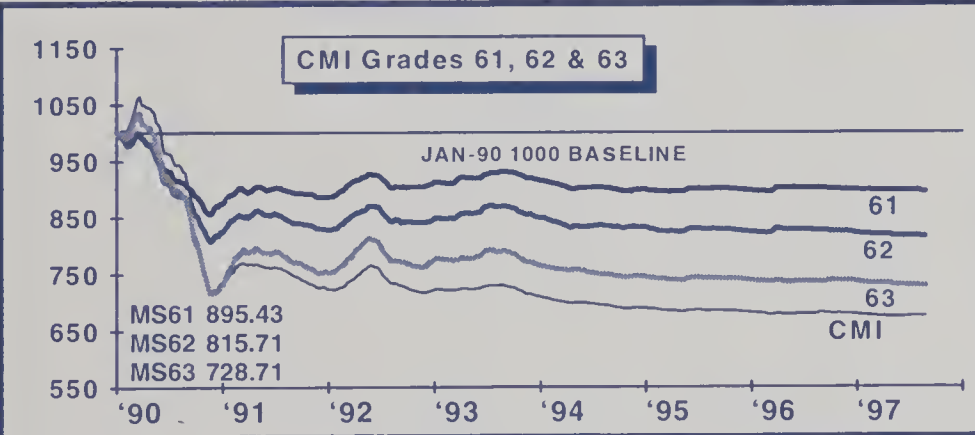

Barber Quarters and Half Dollars have also been a target of demand as strong Bids continue to support current levels with some increases noted. Again, brilliant white or attractively toned coins seem to be the coin of choice. Also, the coins that are among the scarcer dates of the Barber series are receiving the largest portion of that demand. The demand for Proof coins is strongest for 64 and better coins while MS-63 and better is most needed in the business strikes.

As we said, early Gold coins are experiencing the greatest demand. Bids are increasing, well in excess of current Bids. However, dealers know that their customers are fussy, so they are looking to buy coins they know will be salable. Therefore, dealers are aggressively trying to purchase coins that are problem-free. The biggest problem dealers are facing with the early Gold coins is availability. These coins are genuinely scarce and quantities are very limited. The demand for early $2.50, $5 and $10 Gold coins range from the circulated grade of Extremely Fine through MS-63. Early Gold coins above MS-63 are very tough to locate in this high-grade. If found, the price is beyond the range of most buyers.

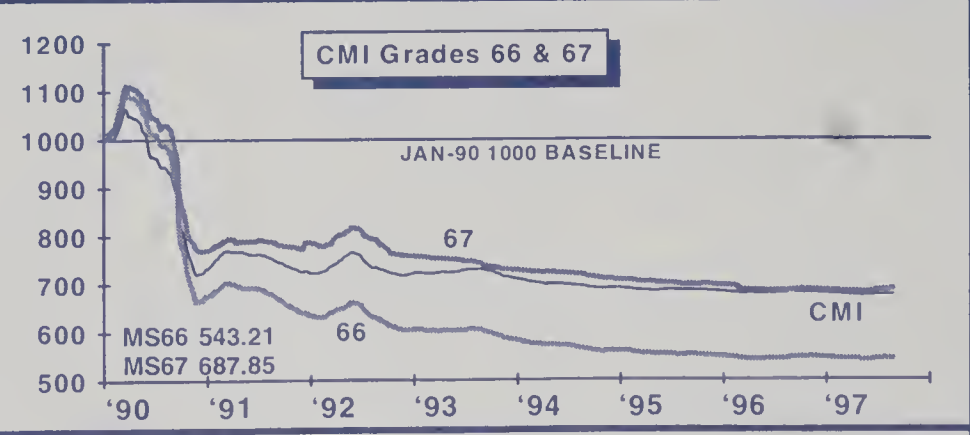

The upcoming summer American Numismatic Association's annual convention in New York should present opportunities for those dealers looking to stock, or buy for sale, early Gold coins and other rare dates. This convention should afford them the opportunity to search large inventories of coins that contain this material. However, competition should be keen, so promptness may be the difference.

Dealers attending the summer ANA can check out some important lots that Heritage Numismatic Auctions Inc., Dallas will put on the block during the convention. Some highlights include early Gold coins and Type coins. A PCGS AU-50 1795 Small Eagle $5 Gold coin is available. Besides being an early Gold coin, it is the first year of issue. The low-pop 1796 $2.50 No Stars Quarter Eagle is offered in PCGS AU-50 condition. We looked at the combined NGC and PCGS population reports and discovered that there are only five coins encapsulated in AU-50 with only 25 better. Remember, re-submissions may account for double counting and is a real possibility when figuring the surviving population.

The auction will afford those Bidders the opportunity to purchase a 1793 Liberty Cap Half Cent grading NGC AU-50, a PCGS EF-40 1794 Flowing Hair Dollar and a PCGS EF-45 1794 Flowing Hair Half Dollar. These are excellent Type coins and in the condition most collectors and investors desire. Early Type coins are hot and as marketable as any U.S. coin, according to several dealers.

The PCI Capsule...

- ✓ $8⁰⁰ PER COIN
- ✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

- ☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.
- ☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic". We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5 +, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.
- ☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).
- ☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $8⁰⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.
- ☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!
- ☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service...guaranteed!!

Activity and Bids Increase As We Approach ANA Dealers Hope To Fill Customer Want Lists This Summer

The American Numismatic Association's annual convention is on the horizon, causing activity to increase in the rare coin market. Dealers have been reporting a resurgence of interest in the sight-unseen market. This increase in activity has been verified by the increasing number of Bids offering to buy specific coins. Bids have solidified because dealers are still finding it difficult to locate material to satisfy their customer and inventory demands. It's this strong need for material that has an influx of new and regular dealers entering the market and hoping for the best. They still want coins that are average to above average for the grade. Dealers continue to reject coins that are unattractive for the grade or coins that their customers probably will not buy. The demand for material is very high right now as dealers are preparing to attend summer shows. The big ones of course, are the upcoming ANA annual summer convention in New York and the Pre-ANA, one week earlier.

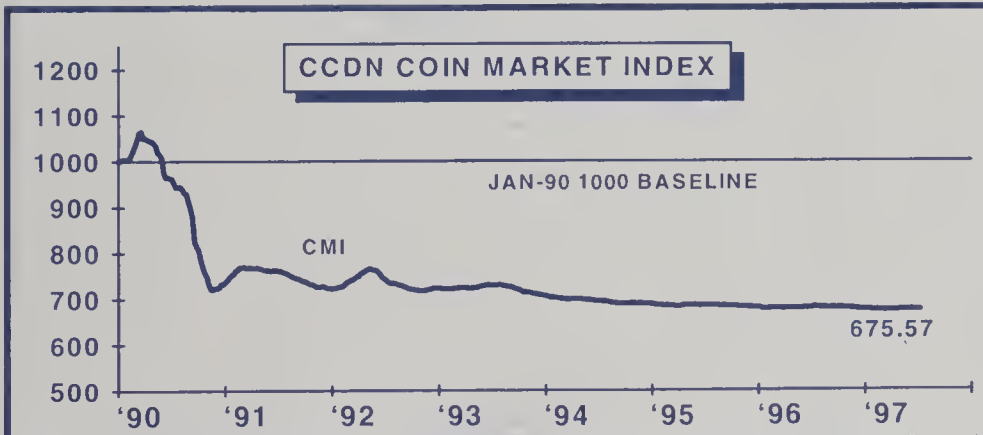

The sight-unseen market for certified coins continues to post frequent supporting and increasing Bids for scarce dates of all series. There is continuing strong demand for rare date Morgan Dollars and Type Coins. The Morgan Dollar series is still popular with many collectors. There is a segment of the collecting population that has been away from the market for many years and is now reentering it. Many of these collectors are professionals that have been financially successful. This success has been a combination of their employment and stock market investing. Now, they are purchasing the rare coins they remembered collecting as a child. They enjoy collecting and buying the key and semi-key dates that they couldn't afford years ago. Morgan Dollars offer them quite a challenge. There are many key date Dollars that require patience to buy. Just having the money does not mean that the date is available when the customer is ready. That's why dealers' customer want lists have grown throughout 1997.

Demand for rare date Gold Coins has also been a hot part of the market. Strong Bids are being generated for early Gold Coins. Collectors are looking for the difficult to locate varieties that abound in the early Quarter Eagle and Half Eagle series. The demand for these coins is greatest in grades Extremely Fine and better and for coins that have relatively low population numbers. The About Uncirculated grade category is very popular. We have seen some plus signs in this area. The AU-58 grade is experiencing very strong demand. This slider is often preferred over many MS-60 and MS-61 certified coins. The eye appeal of an AU-58 early Gold Coin is very desirable to collectors. Dealers are experiencing difficulties when trying to replace these coins. Consequently, Bids are increasing in the AU-58 grade category. Some of the dates that dealers are looking for among Quarter Eagles include 1797, 1798, 1804 13 Stars, 1808, 1826 6 over 5 and 1834 Motto. Early Half Eagles in demand include 1797 15 or 16 Stars Small Eagle; the extremely rare 1798 Small Eagle; 1797 7 over 5 Heraldic Eagle; 1810 Small Date, Small 5; 1819, 1819 5D over 50, and generally all dates in the 1820s and 1830s. Early $10 Gold Coins wanted include all the Small Eagle designs from 1795-98 and Heraldic Eagles 1797; 1798 8 over 7, 9X4 Stars; 1798 8 over 7, 7X6 Stars; and 1804.

One important aspect of this increasing activity is the number of public auctions that take place at this time of year. One such sale that will precede the ANA is The Rarities Sale by Auctions by Bowers and Merena, Inc. This auction will be held July 28th in New York City and feature an outstanding group of certified rare coins. Some of the Copper and Nickel coin highlights available to the highest Bidder includes a Numismatic Guaranty Corporation of America About Uncirculated 50Br 1793 Liberty Cap Half Cent; an NGC Pr-65 (original) 1843 Braided Hair Half Cent; a Professional Coin Grading Service MS-65RB 1811 Classic Head Large Cent; a PCGS Pr-66RB 1856 Slanting 5, Braided Hair Large Cent; an NGC Pr-66 1858 Flying Eagle Cent; a PCGS MS-64RB 1873 Doubled LIBERTY, Indian Head Cent; an NGC Pr-65R 1877 Indian Head Cent; a PCGS MS-65R 1914-D Lincoln Cent; a PCGS AU-50 1916 Doubled Die, Buffalo Nickel; and, an NGC MS-65 1925-S Buffalo Nickel.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices. The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets. Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

VarietyPlus

Your variety coins deserve NGC grading and attribution, like this exceedingly rare overdate half dollar.

NGC, the leader in grading the world's finest coins, is now the leader in variety attribution and grading with its new VarietyPlus grading tier. Most major varieties are attributed (see list at right), like this extremely rare 1817/4 Overton-102a half dollar. It's one more example of how the most important variety coins are now submitted to VarietyPlus by NGC.

The cost is $20 per coin with a turnaround of 21 working days. For coins worth more than $1,000, or for quicker turnaround, use our higher grading tiers for VarietyPlus attribution and add $5 to the tier price. It's easy to submit coins to VarietyPlus through our 1200-plus NGC member dealers nationwide. Or, if you're an ANA member, you can submit to NGC through the ANA.

Fresh Material Sought-After At Shows, Auctions Sight-Unseen Market Mostly Solid

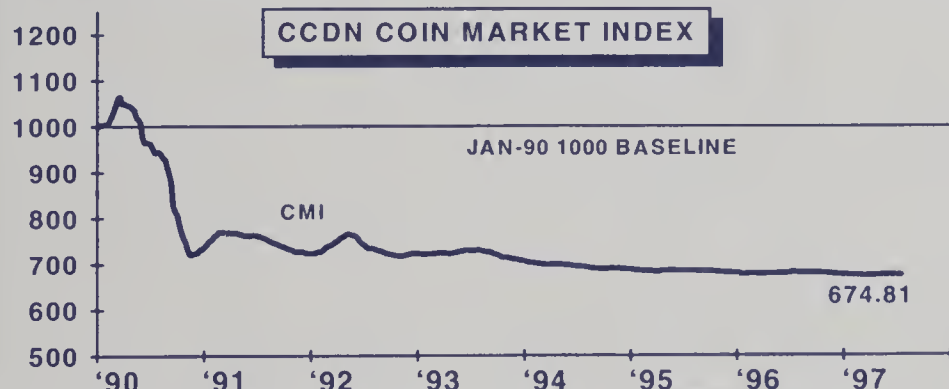

With the Pre-ANA, ANA annual convention and public auctions waiting in the wings, the sight-unseen market continues to be solid. There has been a fair amount of Bidding activity from dealers. Much of this activity is centered around offers to buy at Bid or near Bid levels. We have seen a great deal of support for coins in many series and grades. Morgan Dollars continue to receive strong support, but the Bids are specifically for better date Dollars in Mint State condition. Demand for accurately graded coins is of great importance to dealers. Coins that are low-end for the grade or "ugly" for the grade are either returned immediately or heavily discounted. Many dealers are happy to pay a premium for attractive coins within each grade level. Eye appeal is very much desired at every grade level. These coins are quickly salable in today's market. Commemoratives have been lackluster of late. Silver Commemoratives are trading lower, while the Gold Commemorative market is very weak. It is important to keep in mind that this is an extremely volatile market. Currently, there appears to be more sellers than buyers and simple as it may sound, that's all it takes to drop prices. Gold Commemoratives are a very thin market, usually fluctuating dramatically one way or the other. If even a small number of buyers enter this market, the price could increase just as fast as it decreased.

Dealers that we have spoken to say that their customers are eager to buy specific dates. Collectors are looking to fill the holes in their collections. They usually want coins in a grade that is similar to the other coins in their collection. They like matched sets. The difficulty for the dealer is locating these tough dates in specific, no-problem grades. Consequently, customer want lists have continued to grow as demand for rare dates outnumber those being found. The big concern of many dealers is still the availability of this kind of material. That's why dealers are always looking for fresh coins, fresh collections and fresh coins at public auction. Demand for fresh coins is extremely strong. Astute dealers know that their best chance for buying coins needed on their want lists are obtained from collections that have been off-the-market for many years. Fresh coins usually command Bids above current levels. This has been true on the bourse at many shows around the country. At public auctions, if several Bidders are in need of the same coin, Bidding wars may occur resulting in a run-away price. Dealers are hoping to find much fresh material at the upcoming Pre-ANA show and ANA show in New York, beginning July 24th. With want lists in hand, dealers will be making the rounds trying to buy as many of these coins as they can. Competition is expected to be keen, because the common theme running through most dealer want lists is the need for scarce dates in no-problem condition. This trend will continue as long as collectors demand those semi-key and key dates of 19th and 20th century coinage.

Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., Dallas, will host the official ANA auctions. They will begin with their familiar Bullet Sale. This sale's format allows dealers and collectors to auction certified coins with a quicker turnaround time than most auctions. Collectors and dealers like to take advantage of this opportunity to buy and sell their certified rare coins. Due to the timeliness of this format, catalogues are mailed later than usual, giving consignors more time to complete their business. However, the ANA 97 NY Signature auction catalog is already in dealer and collector hands. This auction, consisting of more than 3,500 lots, is a collaboration of a number of individual collection consignments. Included in this sale is the Diocese of Buffalo Collection of Rare Date U.S. Gold Coins; the Bill Lower Collection of Prooflike and Deep Mirror Prooflike Morgan Dollars; and an important selection of Half Cents and Charlotte and Dahlonega Mint Gold Coins.

Dealers will be evaluating the population figures for many certified coins before entering Bids. How does rarity equate to price? The 1914-S Lincoln Cent is usually considered to be a semi-key date. However, in Mint State 65 Red, many experts say it is a key date. The Signature Sale will offer a PCGS MS-65 Red 1914-S and 1914-D Lincoln Cent. The combined total population, as reported from the April, NGC and July, PCGS population report in MS-65 Red for the 1914-S is 16, with only 2 graded higher. The highest graded is MS-66 Red, both by PCGS. Compare this to the famous 1914-D, key date Lincoln Cent. The combined population for the 1914-D in MS-65 Red is 42 with 4 higher. Again, the highest grade known is MS-66 Red. Double counting due to crack-outs and cross-overs aside, the 1914-S is more than twice as rare as the more well known 1914-D in gem condition. Currently, the two Lincoln Cents are trading within a few hundred dollars of one another. Of course, popularity accounts for some of the 1914-D's price, but the seemingly undervalued 1914-S may surprise you.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the Eliasberg-Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, the world's most famous (and most valuable!) coin. Or, the two PF-68 Extremely High Relief $20 St. Gaudens gold pieces. The magnificent 1822 half eagle. Not to mention many of the most important coins from the Byron Reed, Eliasberg, and Trompeter Collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is just to name a few examples.

While we are grading many of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, an average of more than 33,000 coins per month in 1996. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin

The PCI Capsule...

- ✓ $7⁵⁰ PER COIN
- ✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

- ☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.
- ☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic". We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.
- ☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).
- ☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $7⁵⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.
- ☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!
- ☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service...guaranteed!!

CCDN — a weekly report on the Sight-Unseen certified market published by the Coin Dealer Newsletter (est. 1963)

Sight-Unseen Activity Is Quiet Due To Major Shows Bids Increase For Dollars And Dimes

The Bidding activity and the number of transactions taking place has decreased in the sight-unseen market. At this time of year, we typically witness this general slowdown. The two big New York City coin shows are nearly here, and anybody who's anybody in rare coins will be attending either or both of these shows. Travel time preceding and after the shows has a tendency to take its toll on the activity level in the sight-unseen market. However, we do expect a heavier than usual amount of sight-seen activity at these shows.

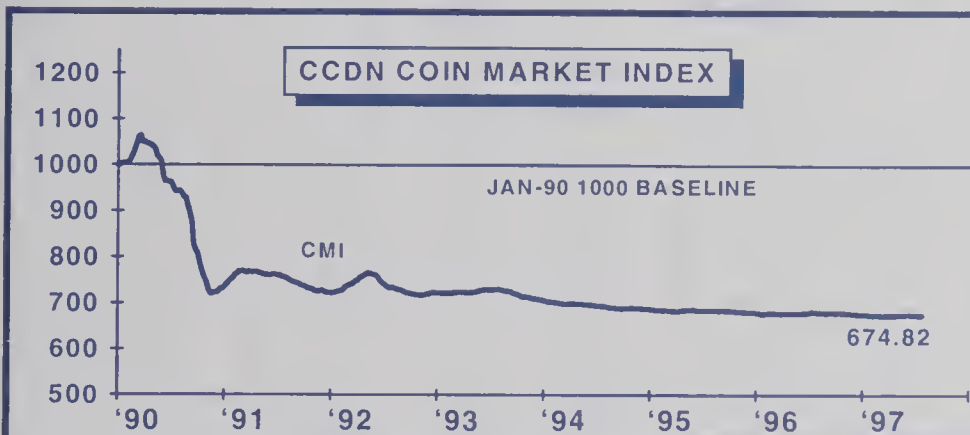

Currently, the sight-unseen market is showing some plus signs. The demand for Morgan Dollars has been maintained by several dealers. Bids for specific dates in Mint State 65 and MS-66 have been increasing. It's a case where dealers are having to raise their Bids to obtain the coins they need for their customers. The problem that continues to face many dealers is being able to buy enough coins to satisfy their customer demand. Higher sight-unseen Bids don't require problem-free coins but it is an added bonus when they possess some eye appeal. Coins that are attractively toned, those that are not too dark, are also salable at current levels. Bids have also increased for Mercury Dimes. Nice, choice MS-65, MS-66 and MS-67 Split Band examples are needed by dealers for their customers. One dealer is looking for many dates in these grades. Most often, dealers are looking for white coins with plenty of pizzazz. The coins that are most often requested are those difficult to find key and semi-key dates in this outstanding state of preservation.

It's amazing how important major Bidders are in this market. At times, the rare coin market can be less than perfect, so the influence on price, even by one "real buyer" is significant. When one major dealer decides to increase or decrease Bids, the market is immediately affected. This has been the case this week for MS-65 and MS-66 Morgan Dollars. There have been many strong Bids for Morgan Dollars for several months now, but that demand hasn't yet, been satisfied. So, Bids have increased again, hoping to force additional coins out of hiding. It remains to be seen if this strategy will be successful. If there is an elastic demand for Dollars, then dealers should be receiving many coins due to their higher Bids. However, if an inelastic demand is still present, few coins will become available at the higher Bid levels.

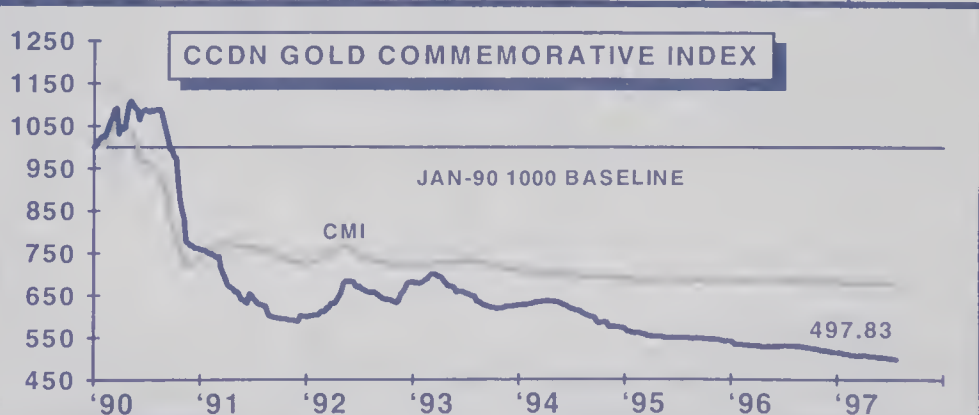

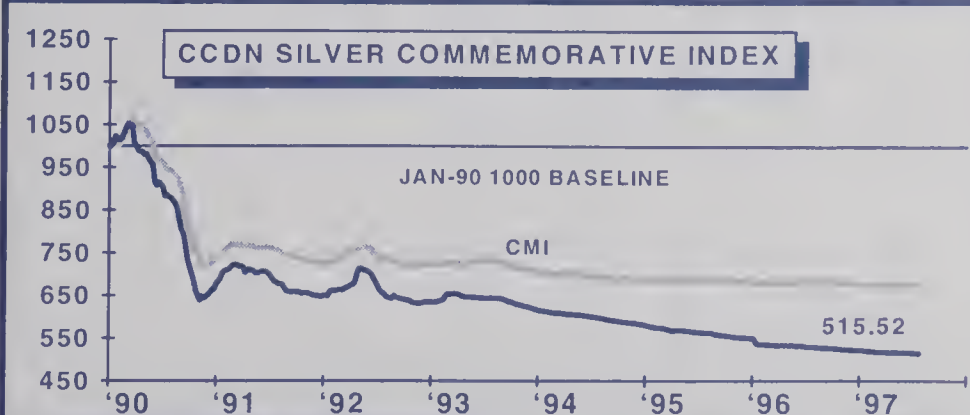

Increases in the Bids of MS-65 Dollars include: 1878 8 Tailfeathers, 1878 7/8 Tailfeathers (strong strike), 1879-O, 1881, 1886-S, and 1891-CC. In MS-66, increases have been generated in 1882-CC, 1883-CC, and 1891-S, just to name a few. As you can see by this list, Bidding for Dollars is very specific. Collectors of Morgan Dollars usually want to own one example of every date and Mint. The Morgan Dollar series provides many obstacles before realizing this goal. Generally, collectors look to obtain the finest examples they can afford. Dealers try to assist collectors by suggesting the grade levels, by date they should be looking for in the Morgan Dollar series. Not everyone can afford an MS-65 set or even MS-64. More often though, the problem is locating semi-key and key date Dollars in MS-63 and better condition.

The demand for Dollars is not isolated just to the Morgans. Peace Dollars are also enjoying increasing Bids currently. Again, most of the increases have been targeted towards the MS-65 and MS-66 category. Peace Dollars in these lofty grades are quite scarce. Dealers are hoping the higher Bids will force out some coins. The important thing to remember is that the dealer Bids for these coins are real but specific. These Bids are for coins that are MS-65 and MS-66 quality. Coins that are considered "ugly" for the grade or coins that are considered marginal will not work for the collector. Coins that are considered nice for the grade, are quickly traded. Dealers are fussy when it comes to buying coins at the MS-65 and MS-66 grade level, but they have to be. Mistakes made at these levels begin to get very costly. If a customer doesn't want the coin, for whatever reason, the dealer may have to absorb the loss.

We examined the latest Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Inc., of Dallas Bullet Sale catalog. This sale will be held in conjunction with the 1997 New York ANA Convention on July 29. A few selected highlights from the all certified coin auction will include: an NGC MS-61B 1793 Liberty Cap Half Cent; an NGC MS65B 1886 Type II Indian Head Cent; a PCGS Proof 65 1866 Rays Shield Nickel; an NGC Proof 67 1885 Seated Liberty Half Dollar; a PCGS MS-62 1854 Type II Gold Dollar; an NGC MS-60 1857-O Liberty Quarter Eagle; a PCGS MS-63 1843 Liberty Half Eagle; and a PCGS Proof 64 1909 Indian Head Eagle.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.

Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks. sell lists, com shows and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" – Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" – Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" – Trade during the most recent month; "lm" – Lowest asking price appearing last month "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" – auction older than 1 month.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

IF YOU HAVE COINS TO SELL...

WHETHER IT'S A $2,000,000 1804 DOLLAR...

OR $30 COMMON DATE MORGAN DOLLAR...

The only strategy that makes sense...is to call the King of Cash before you actually sell your coins.

The King of Cash Meter

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH SPECTRUM

Nobody spends more money buying U.S. coins from collectors and investors like yourself than Spectrum Numismatics! And the nice thing about Spectrum is we desperately need to buy all of your coins. That's why our name is Spectrum...we buy it all.

Spectrum Numismatics desperately needs your coins. Its coin-hungry clients have a huge appetite for pre-1950 U.S. coins. Spectrum has no choice. They must buy your coins or lose their clients. That's why 67% of all Spectrum purchases are from coin dealers. The professionals, the people in the know, the people who make their money buying and selling coins, sell them to Spectrum. Nobody pays more...nobody pays faster...and nobody makes it easier for you to sell your coins.

Spectrum is so desperate for your coins that all you have to do is call the King of Cash and tell us what you have for sale. If your coins fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. The King of Cash will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the King of Cash's offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins along with a check for your shipping expenses. If, for some reason, you do not want to accept the King of Cash's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses. In other words, you now have a totally risk-free way of receiving an outrageous offer for your coins...an offer that you're free to accept or decline.

SPECTRUM IS DESPERATE FOR YOUR COINS

The best time to sell is when you have a willing buyer. And nobody is more willing than Spectrum to trade some cold hard cash for your coins. Our customers are screaming for coins. We estimate that we need to spend $80,000,000 this year to satisfy the needs of our clients. Check out Spectrum's "King of Cash meter." So far this year, we've spent $30,016,325. We need your help in order for us to be able to satisfy our clients and purchase the necessary $80,000,000 worth of coins this year. If you have any pre-1950 U.S. coins for sale, there's only one strategy that makes sense. Before you sell any coins, call Spectrum. You can contact the Spectrum buyers any weekday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. California time. Just tell them you want to talk to the King of Cash.

NOBODY PAYS MORE FOR YOUR COINS THAN THE KING OF CASH

Pictured above is the Eliasberg specimen of the famous 1804 Silver Dollar. At the Eliasberg sale, this 1804 Silver Dollar set a new world record for the sale of a single U.S. coin at public auction, when it brought $1,815,000! The purchaser of this record setting coin was Spectrum Numismatics. The third and final portion of the Louis Eliasberg collection of United States coins, was sold at public auction by Bowers and Merena in New York City on April 6 through 8, 1997. The sale brought a record $20,892,783. Spectrum purchased $4,302,544 at the sale. In other words, Spectrum bought 20.6% of the entire sale!

It is not an unusual occurrence for the King of Cash to be the #1 buyer at most major sales. The firm spending the most money to acquire coins is Spectrum Numismatics. Nobody pays more for coins at auction. Nobody will pay more for your coins.

Direct Grading Submissions To PCGS

Until now, if you wanted to submit your coins to PCGS for grading you did so through an authorized dealer. Since the dealers can help you screen and process your submissions, this is a good system and we still encourage everyone to use the PCGS Authorized Dealer Network for their submissions. If you're in either of those categories and prefer to deal directly with PCGS you can now do so as a member of the PCGS Collectors Club.

Sight-Unseen Market Keeps Eye On ANA Bids Continue Strong For Collector Coins

With the American Numismatic Association's annual convention and public auctions in progress, it's understandable that activity and Bidding in the sight-unseen market have been relatively quiet. We usually expect this time of year to be a slow period in this market. However, the ANA should provide dealers with an ample opportunity to acquire some coins for their customers. Many dealers like to attend the ANA to buy coins for inventory as well as "blow-out" coins that have been sitting too long. Blow-out coins are not necessarily bad coins. It is important to keep in mind that one dealer's blow-out coin is the next dealer's new listing. Shows like this one provides dealers an avenue to readjust their inventory. Also, it is the time to add coins that they believe represent a good value.

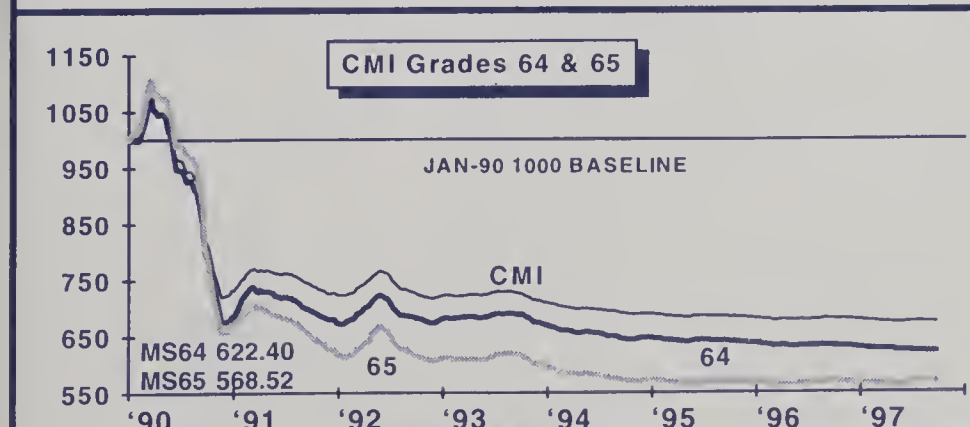

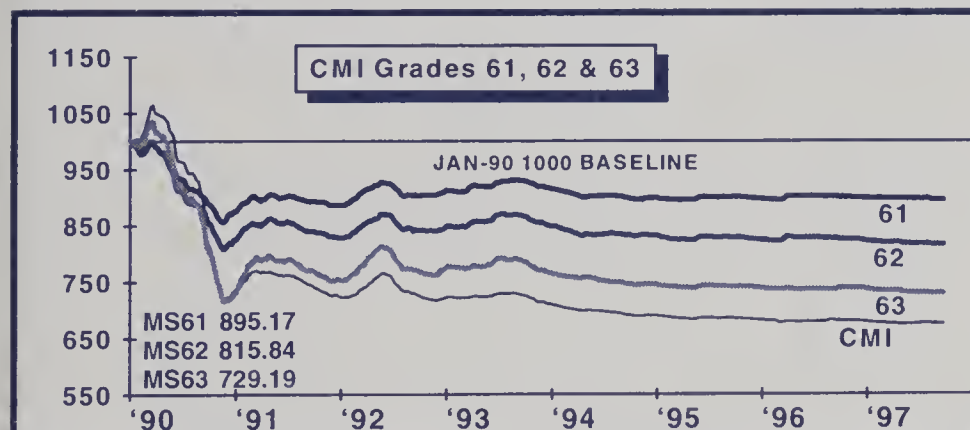

Although dealer Bidding activity has been light, we have noticed some strong supporting Bids for sight-unseen coins. Seated Liberty Half Dollars have been the target of this support. It has been especially noticed in the Mint State 63 grading category. However, Bidding has been reasonable for coins grading from Extremely Fine 45 through MS-62. Bids are very supportive for common dates. The common dates receiving strong Bids are those struck from the Philadelphia and New Orleans Mint. A few San Francisco Mint dates such as 1862-S and 1863-S are experiencing strong sight-unseen Bids. Early No Motto coins are in demand as well as the popular 1853 Arrows & Rays and 1854-55 Arrows coins. These coins are always needed by Type collectors. These are also dates that are necessary for those collectors working to complete sets. While there has been some supporting Bids for Motto Seated Liberty Half Dollars, the bulk of these Bids has been earmarked for the 1873-74 Arrows coins. Again, these are excellent Type coins and very much targeted by collectors.

Bids for sight-seen coins have also experienced support. Obviously, dealers are willing to Bid more aggressively for coins that they can view and this has been the case with Seated Half Dollars. Often, dealers are looking for sight-seen coins that may possess some extra eye appeal that puts it in the premium quality category. The PQ coins are in strong demand by collectors. Premium quality coins are easy coins to market and sell to customers. Even if a collector is not particularly interested in that date, if it is a coin that possesses strong eye appeal and luster, then it will be bought. The sight-unseen market may also be affected by a weak precious metals market. Gold and silver continue to be in a rut, with gold approximately $326, while silver languishes at $4.35. Dealers entering Bids for Gold coins keep a sharp eye on these prices because of their volatile nature. Bids for common date Gold coins, especially Double Eagles, are inexorably tied to the price of gold bullion. This is primarily due to the coin's composition, that contains 90 percent gold and 10 percent copper. The weekly economic statistics continue to indicate very little inflation, and economists expect this trend to continue. Astute dealers suggest that this scenario represents an important buying opportunity for collectors.

The sight-unseen market continues to be solid for Morgan Dollars. Dollars are still receiving strong Bids for specific dates and grades because the availability of these needed dates is still insufficient to satisfy current demand. Customer want lists for scarce date Dollars maintained by dealers remain intact. Dealers hope to locate some of these dates at the ANA. The ANA NY Bullet Sale and Signature auction are one avenue that dealers will explore. The ANA bourse will also provide an excellent hunting ground. The East-Coast is a rich area for coin collectors; both in number and knowledge. Collectors and vest-pocket dealers from many East-Coast states will be in attendance in a buying and selling capacity.

During a July 28th, Bowers and Merena auction, many key and semi-key dates were available to the highest bidder. Some of the many Rarities Sale highlights include: an NGC Pr-66 1858 Large Letters, Flying Eagle Cent that brought $24,750; a PCGS AU-58 1918/7-D Buffalo Nickel at $15,400; a PCGS MS-63 1795 Draped Bust Dollar sold for $41,800; a PCGS Pr-65 1879 Coiled Hair $4 Stella at $231,000; a PCGS Pr-64 1875 $10 Liberty Gold Coin at $93,500; and a PCGS MS-65 1907 Rounded Edge, with Periods Indian Head $10 Gold Coin sold for $88,000. Those interested in a complete listing should contact Bowers and Merena, Wolfeboro, N.H.

The PCI Capsule...

- ✓ $7⁵⁰ PER COIN
- ✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

- ☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.
- ☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic". We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5 +, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.
- ☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).
- ☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $7⁵⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.
- ☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!
- ☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service...guaranteed!!

Sight-Unseen Bids Steady In Selective Market ANA Auctions Attract Bidders

As the nation does its best to cope with the rigors of summer, the rare coin market tries to cope with locating the equilibrium point of supply and demand. This is the point that would satisfy both buyers and sellers of coins. This may seem like a simple concept on the surface, but often, it is difficult to execute. Regardless, the market continues to be seasonably hot for specific dates and coins. This has been the trend throughout 1997 and it has also been the general theme throughout much of the 1990s. Evidence of this continued trend was taking place all over the bourse, during the American Numismatic Association's annual convention and public auctions in New York City. The summer ANA is always one of the largest coin shows held each year, and this year's World's Fair of Money was no exception. It is sponsored by the largest coin organization.

This year's show came to the collector-laden East Coast. It attracted many collectors from up-and-down the East Coast, from Maine to Florida. For the most part, these are serious, knowledgeable collectors. Indeed, they have specific needs for their collections and are not afraid to ask questions and search all the necessary avenues required to be successful in their endeavors. They are looking for semi-key and key dates to add to their collections. In some cases, common dates are requested to upgrade one already in their collection. However, these collectors are also looking to find scarce varieties as well. These collectors want what most collectors want, a coin that leans towards the upper-end of its grade range. They tend to shy away from coins that are "ugly" for the grade, or coins that in their minds don't measure up.

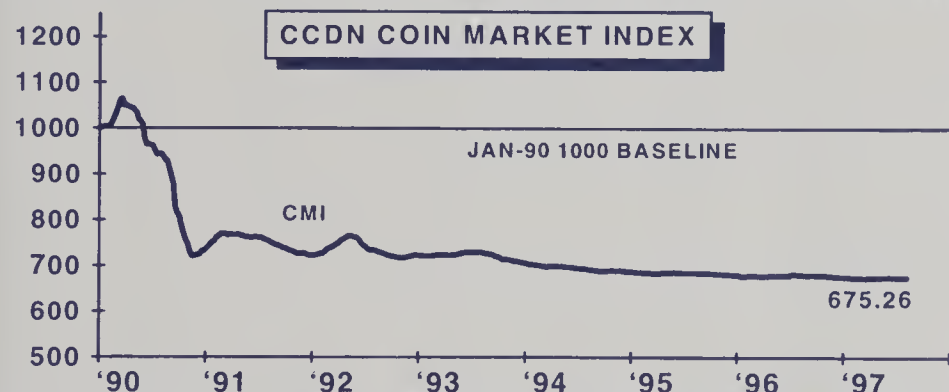

However, coins that are satisfactory to collectors, those coins that have few problems, possess brilliant white surfaces, are attractively toned, not excessively dipped, have few scratches and other distracting surface marks are quickly snapped up. Often, these coins tell a story about a segment of the coin market that is very strong. This portion of the market is extremely hot, one that has defied the laws of inflation, precious metal prices and other common date rare coins. Yet, this market is only a small percentage of the total market and consequently, is overshadowed by other less supportive aspects of the market. Therefore, the sight-unseen market for some rare coins is strong while another group of coins, masquerading in this market is weak. Sight-unseen Bids are continually being maintained by many dealers for rare coins needed to satisfy their customer demands. Yet, many of these Bids go unfulfilled. For these reasons and more, dealers and collectors like to monitor the Bluesheet for current changes taking place.

Sight-unseen demand is strong for scarce date, no-problem rare coins. Collectors are eager to pay strong money for the coins that they need for their collections. This market is hungry for these coins and dealers are eager to complete transactions. Hopefully, buyers and sellers will get together more frequently. The greater frequency should benefit dealers, collectors and the market. Collectors and dealers were actively buying coins in the sight-seen market during the ANA. They were carefully checking coins and quick to pay strong money for the "right" coin. Collectors are still positive about the market and are looking to have fun with this hobby. That's why many transactions were taking place during the ANA bourse. Auctions are still another important supply avenue for rare coins. Remember, Bidders are extremely specific in their needs and Bid accordingly. As economic conditions become even more favorable for rare coins, prices could jump significantly. Still, availability will become an overriding problem and one that will have to be addressed before prices settle at higher levels.

Heritage Numismatic Auctions of Dallas conducted two official ANA sales: the ANA NY Bullet Sale and the Signature auction. A few highlights from the Bullet sale include: an NGC MS-65 1894-O Barber Dime brought $6,050; an NGC MS-65 1836 Bust Half, Lettered Edge sold for $4,345; a PCGS MS-65 1917-D Obverse W. L. Half at $5,775; an NGC MS-61 1807 Capped Bust Quarter Eagle sold for $14,135; and a PCGS AU-58 1865-S Liberty Half Eagle brought $10,780. Signature sale highlights:

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

VarietyPlus

Your variety coins deserve NGC grading and attribution, like this exceedingly rare overdate half dollar.

NGC, the leader in grading the world's finest coins, is now the leader in variety attribution and grading with its new VarietyPlus grading tier. Most major varieties are attributed (see list at right), like this extremely rare 1817/4 Overton-102a half dollar. It's one more example of how the most important variety coins are now submitted to VarietyPlus by NGC.

The cost is $20 per coin with a turnaround of 21 working days. For coins worth more than $1,000, or for quicker turnaround, use our higher grading tiers for VarietyPlus attribution and add $5 to the tier price. It's easy to submit coins to VarietyPlus through our 1200-plus NGC member dealers nationwide. Or, if you're an ANA member, you can submit to NGC through the ANA.

VarietyPlus. One more way NGC is providing innovative services to better meet the needs of the hobby and the numismatic industry.

VarietyPlus by NGC Certifies & Grades All These!

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

Sight-Unseen Market Reflects Attitude Demand For Specific Coins Continues Strong

Since the American Numismatic Association conducted their annual summer convention in New York, the sight-unseen market, representing the Bids of many dealers for coins graded and encapsulated by third-party professional grading services, has been under some pressure. Dealers that regularly Bid in this market understand its various pitfalls and shortcomings. They are keenly aware that many coins offered in this market may not receive Bids representing the sight-seen level, or wholesale price, commensurate to its grade. But then, they also know that this particular coin is not deserving of the full, wholesale Bid that is being offered for similar, more attractive examples trading sight-seen at the same grade level. That is why some dealers and collectors trade in this market with some trepidation and caution. In past years, the sight-unseen market, at times, traded generally from 10-15 percent below the sight-seen market. Now, we have seen dealers reluctant to even Bid in the sight-seen market, concerned with receiving low-end, "ugly" coins that just have to be returned. This is a waste of time, money and productivity for all concerned. Certainly, dealers have much better ways to spend their time and conduct their business.

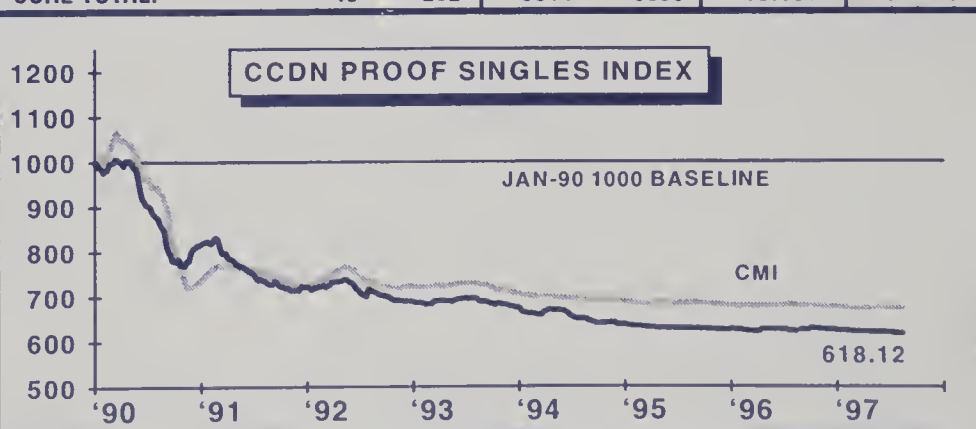

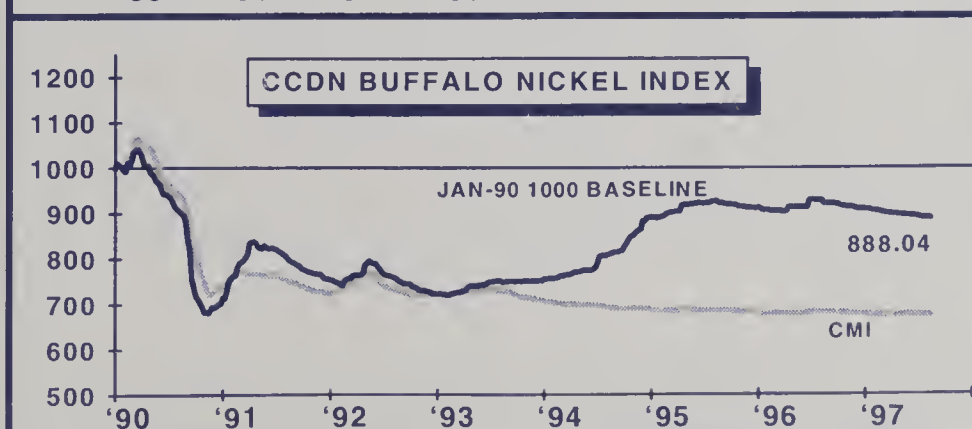

For one thing, dealers continue to concentrate their efforts to satisfy customers. Many of their long-time and new customers are looking to buy rare coins. Dealers from all around the country maintain rather lengthy customer want lists, a testament to the underlying dealer and collector demand. All dealers and customers ask for is accurately, graded and problem-free rare coins at a fair price. For the majority of dealers, the search for coins is the fun part of numismatics. This is the challenge they enjoy. They want to find those key and semi-key dates. They enjoy spending hour upon hour figuring the cost of an old-time collection that became available to them. It is sometimes commonplace to see a coin sell below market price, however, this doesn't mean that the market has collapsed for this type of coin. Also, it doesn't mean that demand has suddenly dissipated. Beware! Low-end coins are out there; it's just a numismatic fact of life in the 1990s. But that doesn't have to spoil the enjoyment and rewards that this business and/or hobby represents. In some cases, the current sight-unseen Bids we monitor in the marketplace, may be substantially below our listed Bluesheet Bids. We understand that many of these Bids are made with low expectations for success. But we also understand the plight of the dealer in this market. Many of these dealers are just trying to protect themselves from having to inventory low-end, "ugly" coins that may sit for months and months. This is primarily due to the weak demand we continue to see for these, low-end coins.

Unfortunately, because of these low-end coins in the sight-unseen market, some prices tend to drift lower. This may eventually affect the reliability of the sight-unseen market. However, the strength of the rare coin market should not be overlooked. Demand for attractive, fairly graded coins is very powerful. We have seen this time and again at public auctions and shows. We also have heard from many dealers, willing to Bid at a high percentage above current Bids for specific coins they need for their customers. This is the market that will eventually dominate and come forward. The demand for rare coins is strong and unbelievably, it comes at a time when our economy faces very little inflation. We have been monitoring Bids by dealers for coins from Half Cents through United States Gold coins. Sight-unseen Bids continue to be maintained for key and semi-key date Morgan Dollars. Although it may sound like a broken record, these dates are difficult to find for dealers and Bids may increase further if none are forthcoming. Still, there are real buyers out there for these dates. Dealers know that collector upgrading is omnipresent and only adds to the challenges of the coin market. However, Type coins and rare date U.S. Gold coins are also showing signs of increased demand. Dealers have begun to increase their Bids for specific dates. Keep in mind, many dates in the gold series are considered by dealers, undervalued at current levels. We will continue to monitor them carefully.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

MARKET STRENGTH CONTINUES BUYERS FOCUS ON AUCTIONS & "BIG-TICKETS"

ACTIVITY

by Kevin Foley

The collectible paper money market continues to be a bright spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention house was a sell-out. The house for Krause Publications' February 21-26 Chicago Paper Money Exposition sold out in early December, and has a waiting list of 15 dealers waiting space. One market barometer seldom commented upon is the relative ease for difficulty convention sponsors have in filling their house areas. While coin shows have tended to shrink in size over the past five years (some quite considerably), this has not been the case in the paper money area. Not only are established dealers continuing to return, but new entrants are also supporting the paper money specialty event.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As commented here in the past, it is not unusual to see individuals, reluctant to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction actually pay even more for a comparable item at auction. Because of the inherent subjectivity of grading, and the fact that grading opinions and values vary widely even among recognized professionals, many buyers seem to need the assurance of value provided by the auction process. This is the auction assurance of knowing that someone else, the party they are bidding against, shares their opinion of an item's value. That the winning bid of $2,940 received a note from someone else who felt it was nice enough to be worth $1,950. In a private transaction, without the other buyers present in the auction arena, this additional confirmation of value is lacking. The fear then is that the $2,000 item may only be worth perhaps $1,400 to the next buyer.

This general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and just as timidly in private transactions, has resulted in a two-tiered market. The same material, more often than not, will sell for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material entered at auction is far more liquid and typically sells, rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal in Currency Auctions of America, this is a process I constantly note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

This is one of the strongest areas in numismatics and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all conditions of material, from VG to Gem. In addition, buyers are seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes, those rare pieces typically selling above $10,000, are especially strong. A whole new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past two to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin, and dealers were often frustrated that an item which might be worth more, based on its rarity, would sell for a disappointingly low number — simply because there were so few buyers for such rarities. That situation has been completely reversed today, as a growing number of buyers seek resources to match their interests. Have entered the field. These buyers realize that if they miss a note to one of their competitors, such an item may not become available to them again for years to come.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Interest here remains in the specialty areas — the "big ticket" Notes, rarer issues, makes, etc. Buyers are attracted by the fact that a bit of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The differences between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a prefix letter in the serial number or a single digit in a bank plate number. Students of Small Type will often have greater knowledge of these nuances than a selling dealer and may often "berry pick" a bargain as a result. Prices of type material remain quite stable and can be expected to do so because of large quantities available.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

The Martin Gengerich Collection, the only complete regular issue fractional collection, yet formed, is being offered for sale on January 17 in Orlando, Florida, by Currency Auctions of America. The collection contains numerous premium condition and ultra scarce to outright rare pieces. Its sale will redefine current values for fractional.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Like the Large Type market, National Bank Notes are attracting a growing body of collectors not afraid to spend serious money to acquire items needed for their collections. One attraction offered by National Bank Notes is the considerable challenge presented by the task of forming a distinguished collection. The surviving population of notes from many banks constitutes only a tiny handful of pieces, with some banks still awaiting the appearance of a discovery piece. Despite this rarity, notes on banks that exist in tiny quantities can be typically acquired (when found) for a few thousand dollars at most, and in many instances for less than $1,000. These dual factors — the challenge of acquisition and relatively low prices in relation to rarity — can be expected to continue to stimulate interest in National Bank Notes.

MISCELLANEOUS

Stocks and Bonds, Obsolete Notes and Confederate material continue to enjoy the same strong demand as in the recent past.

AUCTIONS

Buyers will have much to choose from in the coming months. Currency Auctions of America will hold a 2,500+ lot sale in Orlando in January. R.M. Smythe and Company will hold a significant Stock and Bond sale in conjunction with its Lancaster, Pennsylvania, stock and bond convention later that month. Lyn Knight will hold a major sale February 25-26 in conjunction with the inaugural Chicago Paper Money Exposition.

Rare-Date Gold Coins Experience Demand Dealers Bid Cautiously For Specific Dates

When dealers and collectors think about the upper-echelon of rare coins, the conversation usually turns to gold. This is because gold coins have been associated with all the great collectors, past and present. Among the millions of U.S. gold coins struck, the rare dates, of all series and denominations have received the lion's share of attention and enthusiasm from dealers and collectors. Rare-date Gold coins, while not for everyone, have enjoyed strong demand from dealers and collectors throughout the 1980s and 1990s. At CDN, we have been monitoring the sight-unseen market, reported by the Bluesheet, each week for trends that may develop in this specialized area of numismatics. We have made some interesting observations. The sight-unseen market for rare-date Gold coins has resulted in many low-ball Bids from several dealers. Initially, these Bids may appear as weakness in the rare-date Gold market, as dealers attempt to protect themselves from buying coins for their customers or their inventory that don't measure up quality-wise. These Bids are often way below what is otherwise considered normal levels for the date and Mint. Are rare-date Gold coins losing their pizzazz with dealers? No! Dealers really do want to buy attractive, rare-date Gold coins. Specific dates bearing the Carson City, San Francisco, New Orleans, Charlotte and Dahlonega Mint are often listed on their customer want lists. Further, dealers understand how difficult it can be to locate a specific date and Mint rare-date Gold coin. Replacing the sale of a specific coin can cause similar distress. That's why public auctions, of major Gold coin collections produce very spirited Bidding from dealers and collectors.

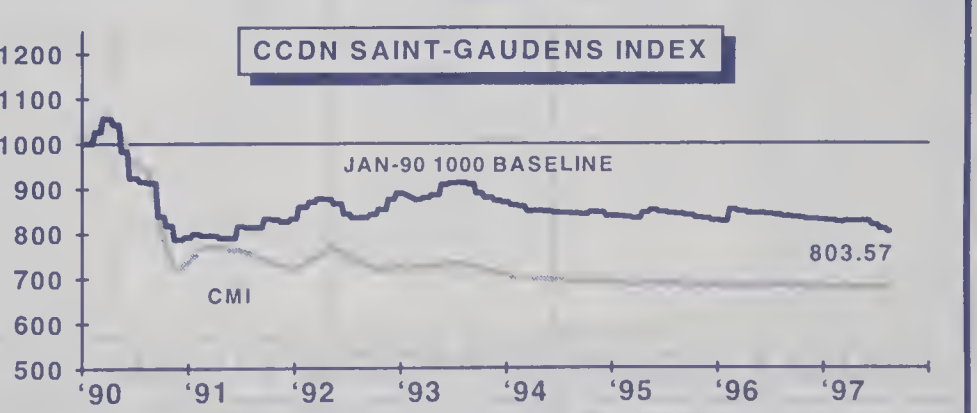

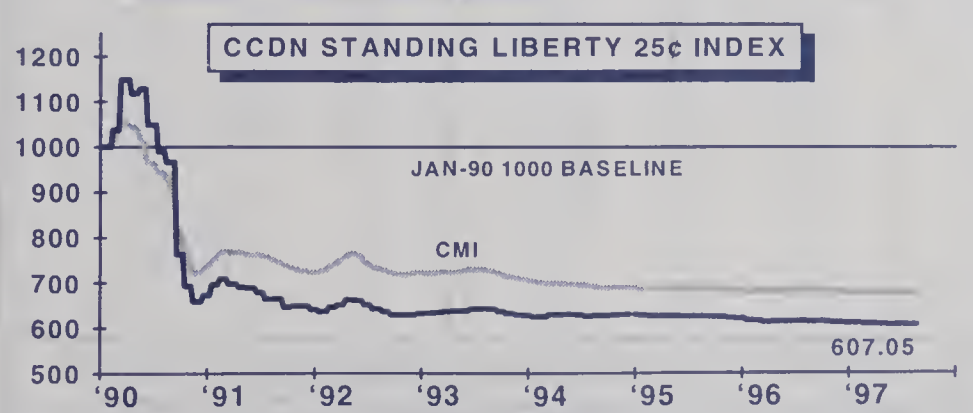

Yet, this information has been sending mixed signals. Apparently, a dichotomy exists in the rare-date Gold coin market. Dealers are divided when it comes to Bidding for these rarities. In the sight-unseen camp, dealers look to be cautious, understanding the importance of strike, color, unsightly scratches and other things that can greatly, and often adversely affect the value of a rare-date Gold coin. However, they also understand that some rare-date Gold coins come weakly struck, having problems consistent with the Mint that manufactured them. On the other hand, dealers that have an opportunity to view the Gold coins for sale, often feel more comfortable stretching their Bids, even Bidding quite aggressively, especially if the coin is nice. While this may seem like a wild market, it all adds up to an unusually wide spread, between some sight-unseen Bids and many sight-seen Bids for similarly dated and graded rare-date Gold coins. If you think that the rare-date Gold coin market is weak and floundering, think again. We believe this is just a perceived weakness. Dealers become very conservative, as they look to protect themselves through their Bidding. Don't let this perceived weakness be misconstrued as actual weakness. That's just not the case. An incorrect perception of this market can become damaging for dealers and collectors, trying to understand market direction and strength. We believe, the current direction for rare-date Gold coin prices is steady to increasing. However, when dealers post low-ball Bids, this tends to exacerbate the problem, when there really wasn't any problem at all.

Actually, we have been impressed by some strong closing Bids for rare-date Gold coins selling at public auction lately. Dealers that have had an opportunity to see the specimen, are more willing to Bid strongly for the date, when it meets their approval. They know that customers are out there demanding these coins for their collections. Scarce dates don't often appear on the market and too many dealers and collectors are battling for too few coins. These are the ingredients that make for a hot market, with significantly increasing prices. Sharply struck, no-problem rare-date Gold coins are in great demand by dealers and collectors. Some dealers have greatly increased their Bids for specific dates. Still, supplies aren't pouring out of the woodwork. Demand for better date, $20 Liberty Gold coins is growing steadily. But, we have seen Bids increasing for many scarce dates in several series. Although, we also noticed weakness among some $10 Liberty Gold coins. Still, demand looks strong for rare-date Gold coins overall. Supplies should determine the direction of this market for the balance of 1997. The possibility of quantities of scarce dates hitting the market, while slim can still play havoc with the population of any date. Keep abreast of this ever-developing market.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell lists, coin books and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder
In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis

Join the New PCGS Collectors Club

You'll Receive FREE PCGS Grading And Important Coin Market Information

PCGS is launching a new program to enable everyone to have easier access to PCGS grading and provide all rare coin enthusiasts with important marketplace information. The program is in the form of a membership organization... The PCGS Collectors Club.

The PCGS Collectors Club was designed to provide you with more valuable marketplace information, more grading services, and more benefits than have ever been available before. The major components of PCGS Collectors Club membership are as follows:

Direct Grading Submissions To PCGS

Until now, if you wanted to submit your coins to PCGS for grading you did so through an authorized dealer. Since the dealers can help you screen and process your submissions, this is a good system and we still encourage everyone to use the PCGS Authorized Dealer Network for their submissions. However, some people either aren't close to an authorized dealer or simply want to do it themselves. If you're in either of those categories and prefer to deal directly with PCGS you can now do so as a member of the PCGS Collectors Club.

$100 Worth Of Free PCGS Grading

As a special, get acquainted with PCGS grading offer, all members of the PCGS Collectors Club receive four FREE grading submissions from PCGS (a $100 value). That's right! If you're a PCGS Collectors Club member, PCGS will grade four of your coins for FREE.

The PCGS Market Update

The PCGS Market Report is a quarterly newsletter packed with prime market information and cutting-edge numismatic research. Every issue of the PCGS Market Report contains the following articles:

Bowers On Coins. In each issue of the PCGS Market Report, Q. David Bowers, the most famous coin dealer of all-time, presents an informative article on an important coin, auction, collection, or numismatic event.

Counterfeit Detection Alert. PCGS President Rick Montgomery is considered by many to be the top counterfeit detection expert in the world! In each issue of the PCGS Market Report, Mr. Montgomery presents a special article on counterfeit detection including detailed diagnostic photos.

JD's Rarity Report. In each issue of the PCGS Market Report, highly respected rare coin research expert, John Dannreuther, presents an in-depth look at an important numismatic research topic.

PCGS Dealer Picks. Every issue of the PCGS Market Report will include the market's major dealers' top ten picks for future price appreciation. In the premiere issue of the PCGS Market Report, noted market maker, Silvano DiGenova gives you his top ten "inside" picks.

David Hall's Rarity Analysis. In each issue of the PCGS Market Report, noted rare coin expert, David Hall, presents his rarity analysis for an important United States coin series.

The PCGS Population Report

The monthly PCGS Population Report is one of the most important publications in the rare coin market. The "Pop Report" is a complete census of the more than 4,000,000 coins that have been graded by PCGS. The PCGS Population Report is the best way to compare the relative rarity of important coins. At any major coin show you'll hear dealers continually asking "What's the Pop?" before buying a coin. And the "Pop" they are referring to is the figure in the PCGS Population Report. All members of the PCGS Collectors Club receive one free copy of the PCGS Population Report.

PCGS Grading Specials

PCGS is looking forward to working closely with all members of the PCGS Collectors Club. We will be offering special quarterly grading discounts to all club members, including periodic free grading offers. The first grading special for club members is free grading for all coins dated 1793.

Long Beach Expo Events Provide Promise Rare Gold Dollar Changes Hands

Although many may think that the sight-unseen certified rare coin market is just spinning its wheels, in reality, transactions are still occurring for the right coins as demand for collector coins continues to strengthen. Selectivity is still the key as dealers look to position their inventories to satisfy their customers and for upcoming Long Beach. With the Long Beach Numismatic Exposition only a couple of weeks away, acquiring nice Type Coins and dated material is still high on many dealers' lists of things to do, in preparation for the show. Dated Morgan and Peace Dollars are still attracting lots of attention from dealers. Dealers still have many customers looking for the key and semi-key date Morgan and Peace Dollars. Consequently, dealers have been keeping their strong Bids alive for specific dates. They hope to fill these by Long Beach but know the reality that it takes a big show and public auction such as Long Beach to be successful. Many of the key and semi-key dates are difficult to find in Mint State condition and exceptionally difficult in gem. Morgan Dollar dates especially sought-after include 1884-S, 1886-O, 1887/6-O, 1889-CC, 1892-S, 1893-O, 1893-S, 1895-O, 1896-O and 1901. Still, collectors are steadfast in their efforts to obtain these coins and dealers are doing their best to assist them. Getting back to Long Beach, it is certainly more than just a show, as it sports the Heritage Numismatic Auctions, Signature and Bullet sales. These auctions should provide many rare dates and Type coins to satisfy demand to some extent.

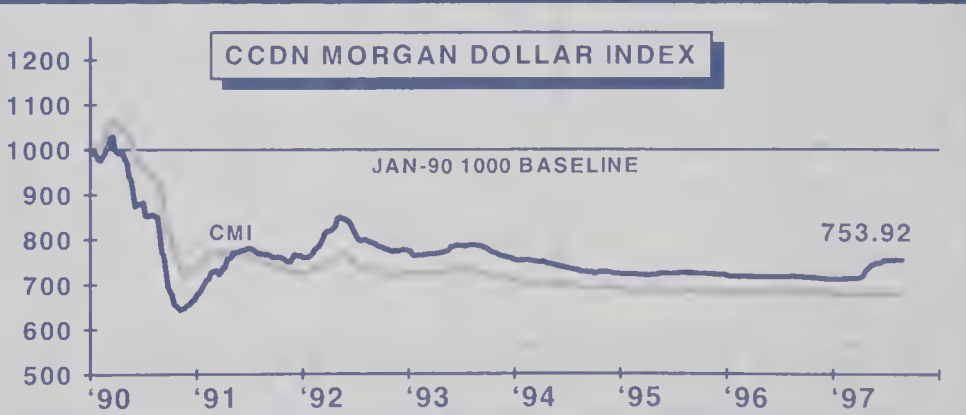

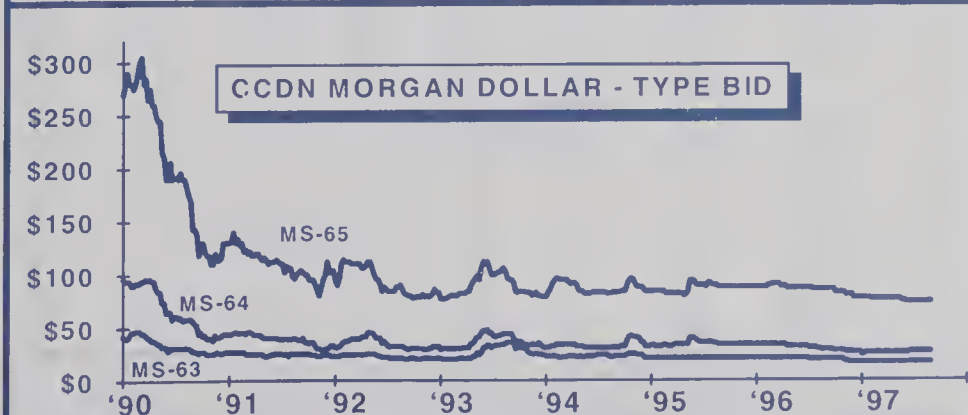

The September 1997 Signature Sale is shaping up to be quite an offering, from the MacDonald Collection of Half Cents and Large Cents to the fine collections of Morgan Dollars, rare date Gold Coins and Type coins. Bidding should be active as dealers look to fill in some of the gaps that remain on their customer want lists. One of those large gaps was recently filled in by one anonymous Charlotte and Dahlonga Gold Coin collector. A dealer has reported the sale of a Numismatic Guaranty Corporation of America Fine15 1849-C Open Wreath, Liberty Gold Dollar. Naturally, rarity is on many date collectors want lists, but unfortunately for them, few exist in any grade. This is the famous Elrod specimen. The transaction was consummated at $245,000. To date, the only 1849-C Open Wreath graded by NGC while the PCGS Population report lists two coins, an AU-55 and an AU-58.

The Heritage Signature Sale will feature more than 3,300 lots of U.S. coins, paper money and World coins. The sale will be held in conjunction with the Long Beach Numismatic Expo in five sessions, beginning Sept. 11th and culminating on Sept. 13th. A fine selection of U.S. Type Coins and rare coins will be available to the highest bidder. Some of the many copper and nickel highlights include a Professional Coin Grading Service Extremely Fine 45 1793 Flowing Hair Wreath Large Cent, Vine and Bars variety; a PCGS VG-8 1794 Liberty Cap Large Cent, the very rare and popular Starred Reverse variety; a Numismatic Guaranty Corporation of America Mint State 66 1861 Indian Head Cent, a PCGS Proof 66 Red 1868 2-Cent piece; an NGC MS-66 1871 3-Cent Silver piece; two PCGS Proof 66 examples of the popular Type Coin, 1866 Shield Nickel with Rays; and an NGC MS-65 1928-S Buffalo Nickel. Silver and gold coin highlights include: an NGC MS-64 1796 Draped Bust Dime, the first year of issue and an excellent Type Coin; an NGC MS-62 1856-S Seated Liberty Dime, a very scarce date, especially in Uncirculated condition; an NGC About Uncirculated 50 1796 Draped Bust Quarter Dollar, another excellent first year of issue Type Coin; an NGC MS-64 1916 Standing Liberty Quarter Dollar, a first year, key date Type Coin; an NGC AU-50 1855-S Seated Liberty Half Dollar, Arrows variety; a PCGS Proof 67 1911 Barber Half Dollar; a PCGS Very Fine 20 1795 Flowing Hair Dollar; an NGC MS-66 1860-O Seated Liberty Dollar from the Chimney hoard; a PCGS MS-64 1896-O Morgan Dollar; an NGC MS-61 1849-C Closed Wreath, Liberty Gold Dollar; a PCGS AU-53 1856-O Liberty $5 Gold Coin; and a PCGS MS-67 1893 Isabella Quarter Dollar Commemorative.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

IF YOU HAVE COINS TO SELL...

WHETHER IT'S A $2,000,000 1804 DOLLAR...

OR $30 COMMON DATE MORGAN DOLLAR...

The only strategy that makes sense...is to call the King of Cash before you actually sell your coins.

The King of Cash Meter

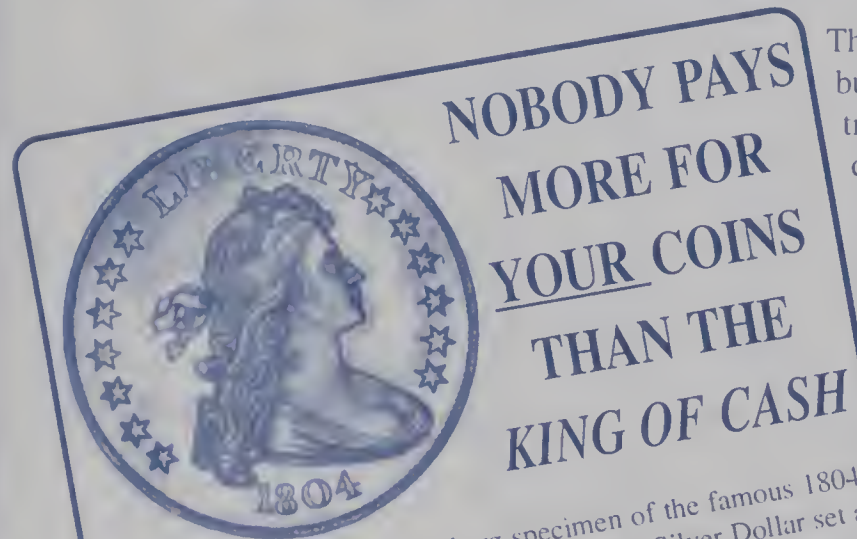

Nobody spends more money buying U.S. coins from collectors and investors like yourself than Spectrum Numismatics! And the nice thing about Spectrum is we desperately need to buy all of your coins. That's why our name is Spectrum...we buy it all.

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH SPECTRUM

Spectrum Numismatics desperately needs your coins. Its coin-hungry clients have a huge appetite for pre-1950 U.S. coins. Spectrum has no choice. They must buy your coins or lose their clients. That's why 67% of all Spectrum purchases are from coin dealers. The professionals, the people in the know, the people who make their money buying and selling coins, sell them to Spectrum. Nobody pays more...nobody pays faster...and nobody makes it easier for you to sell your coins.

Spectrum is so desperate for your coins that all you have to do is call the King of Cash and tell us what you have for sale. If your coins fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. The King of Cash will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the King of Cash's offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins along with a check for your shipping expenses. If, for some reason, you do not want to accept the King of Cash's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses. In other words, you now have a totally risk-free way of receiving an outrageous offer for your coins... an offer that you're free to accept or decline.

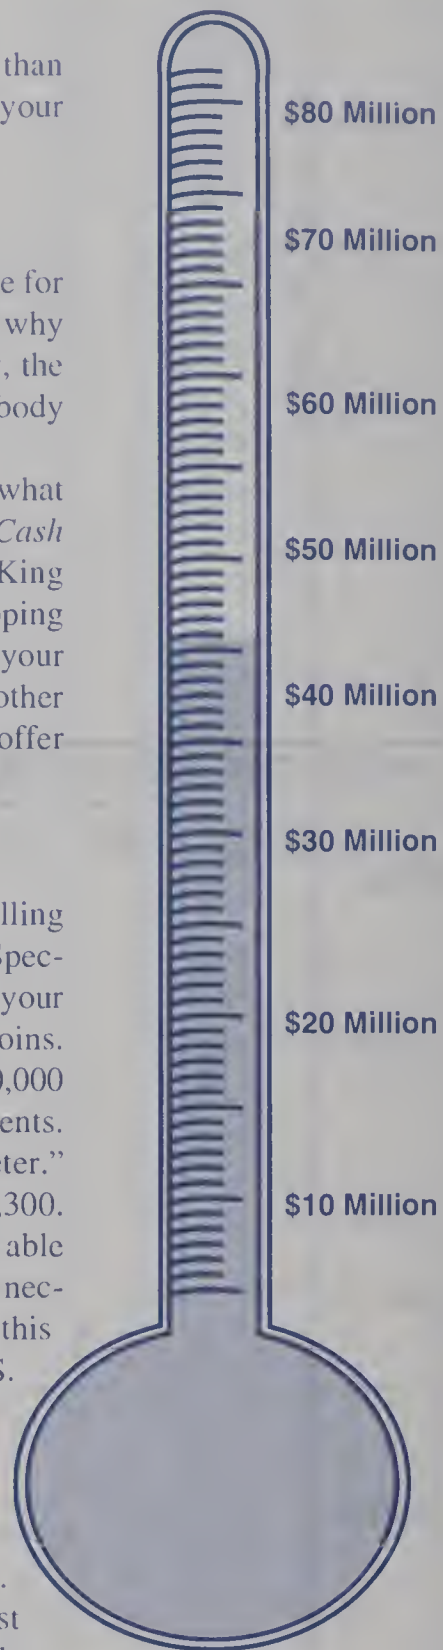

SPECTRUM IS DESPERATE FOR YOUR COINS

Pictured above is the Eliasberg specimen of the famous 1804 Silver Dollar. At the Eliasberg sale, this 1804 Silver Dollar set a new world record for the sale of a single U.S. coin at public auction, when it brought $1,815,000! The purchaser of this record setting coin was Spectrum Numismatics. The third and final portion of the Louis Eliasberg collection of United States coins, was sold at public auction by Bowers and Merena in New York City on April 6 through 8, 1997. The sale brought a record $20,892,783. Spectrum purchased $4,302,544 at the sale. In other words, Spectrum bought 20.6% of the entire sale!

It is not an unusual occurrence for the King of Cash to be the #1 buyer at most major sales. The firm spending the most money to acquire coins is Spectrum Numismatics. Nobody pays more for coins at auction. Nobody will pay more for your coins.

The best time to sell is when you have a willing buyer. And nobody is more willing than Spectrum to trade some cold hard cash for your coins. Our customers are screaming for coins. We estimate that we need to spend $80,000,000 this year to satisfy the needs of our clients. Check out Spectrum's "King of Cash meter." So far this year, we've spent $41,462,300. We need your help in order for us to be able to satisfy our clients and purchase the necessary $80,000,000 worth of coins this year. If you have any pre-1950 U.S. coins for sale, there's only one strategy that makes sense. Before you sell any coins, call Spectrum. You can contact the Spectrum buyers any weekday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. California time. Just tell them you want to talk to the King of Cash.

Sight-Unseen Market Quiet, But Steady

Long Beach Bullet Sale Offers Variety

The sight-unseen market has been very quiet although there is still business being done. The demand for coins, on a sight-unseen basis, is slow, although we continue to monitor many Bids on the electronic dealer networks that support prices at current levels. Unfortunately, there are far too many unrealistic Bids that continue to plague this market. Dealers, of course, do this for their immediate protection against receiving a coin that doesn't measure up to their standards for eye appeal, luster, surface marks and strike. If the coin is less then the quality that it should be, dealers pass and look for another example; a somewhat costly proposition. Dealers are aware of their customer needs and know that customer satisfaction is their primary concern. So if they purchase a coin that has too many problems, there is an increasing chance that their customer won't be satisfied. Coins that are rejected because of problems, despite their rarity, tend to sit in inventory for a longer period of time. Since turnover is important to business profits, this can prove costly in the long run. That's why dealers look to avoid these problem coins from the outset, before they become an inventory problem.

Almost as damaging to the market are the sight-unseen Bids that are completely out of the realm of reality. These Bids not only waste time and money of those dealers reading them, but also waste the efforts of those dealers that enter them. It's OK to be fussy about the coins you want to buy without entering Bids that have no chance at all for success. We have also observed a lot more offers to sell coins into this market. No, the bottom is not falling out of this market. Dealers are not dumping or heavily discounting their coins. No. They are consistently offering coins at current market levels or even slightly above those levels. Quality and rare-date coins of all series are still very much in demand.

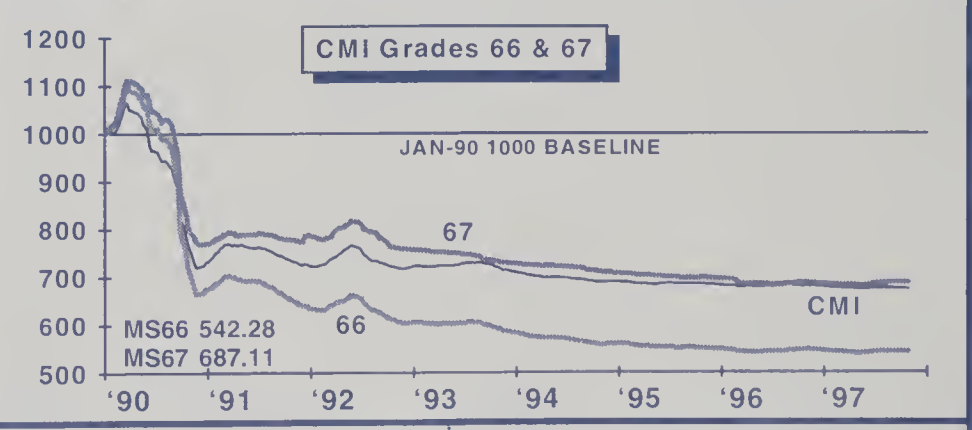

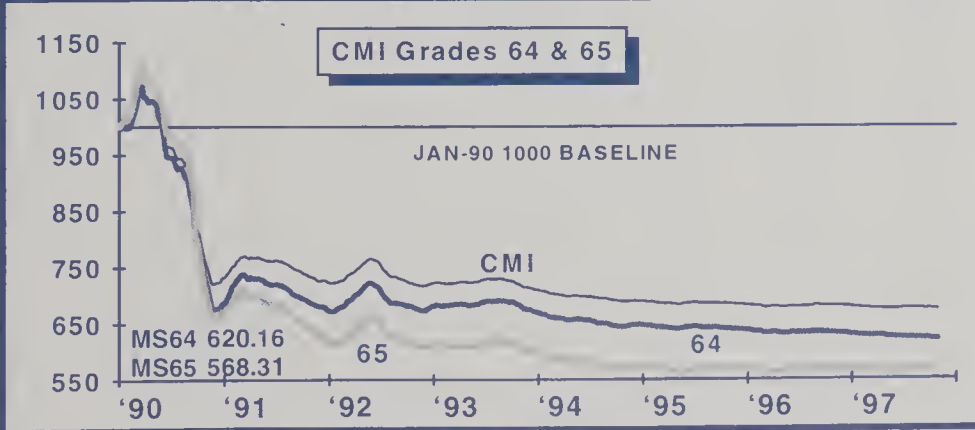

Actually, dealers are currently evaluating their present inventory status in preparation for the Long Beach Numismatic Exposition Show. This is one of the premier coin shows in the United States, and many dealers believe the fall show, to be one of the most active and attended of the three shows held each year. Dealers try to have on hand the types of coins that they can turn over quickly. At the same time, they want to have money available for purchases. Often, dealers judge a show more by how much they bought than what they sold. Timing usually plays a role in the show's activity level. Many variables contribute to the success or failure of any show, but expectations should play a major role this year. If a show realizes or exceeds ones' expectations, chances are good that the show will be praised. Long Beach always offers dealers the opportunity to browse each other's inventory. This interaction is necessary and helps to complete transactions. One of the most often asked questions at the show is, what do you have that's new? This year's show will be much the same as in previous years. Dealers want to buy coins that represent excellent value and, want to sell those coins that have been spending too much time in their inventory.

In conjunction with the Long Beach Expo, Heritage Numismatic Auctions of Dallas, will conduct a 635 lot Bullet Sale on Sept. 10th. All the lots in this sale have been certified by one of the major third-party grading services. Some of the many highlights include: a PCGS MS-63RB 1873 Doubled LIBERTY Indian Cent; a PCGS MS-64R 1914-S Lincoln Cent; a PCGS MS-63 1795 Flowing Hair Half Dime; a popular key date with collectors is a 1925-S Buffalo Nickel, graded MS-63 by PCGS; an NGC MS-63 1823/2 Capped Bust Dime; a PCGS MS-64 1870-S Seated Liberty Dime; a PCGS MS-66 1920-S Mercury Dime; an NGC MS-66 1843 Seated Liberty Quarter; an NGC MS-65 1894-S Barber Quarter; a PCGS Very Fine 30 1815/2 Capped Bust Half Dollar; a PCGS MS-64 1839-O Capped Bust, Reeded Edge Half Dollar; a PCGS MS-65 1894-S Morgan Dollar; an NGC AU-55 1851-C Liberty Gold Dollar; and a PCGS 1860-S Liberty Double Eagle.

The world's most important coins are consistently graded by NGC.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the unique "EB on breast" Garrett/Parrino Brasher Doubloon, the magnificent PF-66 Eliasberg/Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, or the remarkable Eliasberg/Spectrum 1884 Trade Dollar. Not to mention many other important coins from the Eliasberg, Byron Reed, and Trompeter collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is to name just a few examples.

While we are grading more of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, now averaging 38,000 coins per month. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently, and impartially.

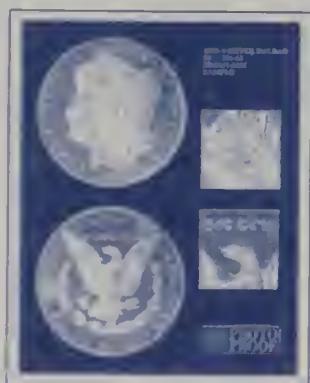

PHOTO PROOF by NGC is the leader in combining vivid digital imaging with colorful historic text and thorough analysis of your coins.

This is why NGC is endorsed by the ANA as its official grading service, and why we're the grading service of choice for more of the world's finest collections, and the world's finest coins, like yours. It's also why we have the largest dealers network, at 1,250-plus member dealers.

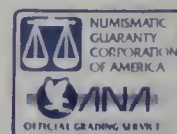

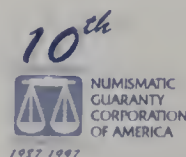

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the professions. NGC was first to offer Economy service, World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, and the PhotoProof full-color digital imaging and presentation service. Count on NGC to continue innovating as we move into the next millennium.

When it matters to you that your coins are graded with lasting accuracy, choose NGC... the consistent choice for certifying the world's most important coins, like yours.

IF YOU HAVE COINS TO SELL...

WHETHER IT'S A $2,000,000 1804 DOLLAR...

OR $30 COMMON DATE MORGAN DOLLAR...

The only strategy that makes sense...is to call the King of Cash before you actually sell your coins.

The King of Cash Meter

Nobody spends more money buying U.S. coins from collectors and investors like yourself than Spectrum Numismatics! And the nice thing about Spectrum is we desperately need to buy all of your coins. That's why our name is Spectrum...we buy it all.

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH SPECTRUM

Spectrum Numismatics desperately needs your coins. Its coin-hungry clients have a huge appetite for pre-1950 U.S. coins. Spectrum has no choice. They must buy your coins or lose their clients. That's why 67% of all Spectrum purchases are from coin dealers. The professionals, the people in the know, the people who make their money buying and selling coins, sell them to Spectrum. Nobody pays more...nobody pays faster...and nobody makes it easier for you to sell your coins.

Spectrum is so desperate for your coins that all you have to do is call the King of Cash and tell us what you have for sale. If your coins fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. The King of Cash will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the King of Cash's offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins along with a check for your shipping expenses. If, for some reason, you do not want to accept the King of Cash's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses. In other words, you now have a totally risk-free way of receiving an outrageous offer for your coins... an offer that you're free to accept or decline.

NOBODY PAYS
THAN THE
KING OF CASH

Pictured above is the Eliasberg specimen of the famous 1804 Silver Dollar. At the Eliasberg sale, this 1804 Silver Dollar set a new world record for the sale of a single U.S. coin at public auction, when it brought $1,815,000! The purchaser of this record setting coin was Spectrum Numismatics. The third and final portion of the Louis Eliasberg collection of United States coins, was sold at public auction by Bowers and Merena in New York City on April 6 through 8, 1997. The sale brought a record $20,892,783. Spectrum purchased $4,302,544 at the sale. In other words, Spectrum bought 20.6% of the entire sale!

It is not an unusual occurrence for the King of Cash to be the #1 buyer at most major sales. The firm spending the most money to acquire coins is Spectrum Numismatics. Nobody pays more for coins at auction. Nobody will pay more for your coins.

The best time to sell is when you have a willing buyer. And nobody is more willing than Spectrum to trade some cold hard cash for your coins. Our customers are screaming for coins. We estimate that we need to spend $80,000,000 this year to satisfy the needs of our clients. Check out Spectrum's "King of Cash meter." So far this year, we've spent $41,462,300. We need your help in order for us to be able to satisfy our clients and purchase the necessary $80,000,000 worth of coins this year. If you have any pre-1950 U.S. coins for sale, there's only one strategy that makes sense. Before you sell any coins, call Spectrum. You can contact the Spectrum buyers any weekday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. California time. Just tell them you want to talk to the King of Cash.

Want Lists In Abundance At Long Beach

1997 Performance Of Gold Commemoratives

With the Long Beach Numismatic Exposition in progress, dealers have an opportunity to buy coins that remain on their customer want lists. The Fall Long Beach Show is typically one of the most active of the three Long Beach shows held each year. On the surface, it seems like a simple enough proposition for dealers; you have an order for a coin from one of your customers and if you can find one at a fair price, a sale is quickly consummated. Yet, the big problem lies not with price, but with the availability of the dates and grades being requested by collectors. Today's collectors are putting together sets. The popular series include Flying Eagle and Indian Head Cents; Lincoln Cents; Liberty and Buffalo Nickels; the Barber Dime, Quarter and Half Dollar series; Mercury Dimes; Standing Liberty Quarters; Walking Liberty and Franklin Half Dollars; and Morgan and Peace Dollars. The dates most requested, obviously, are the tough to find key and semi-key dates. Dealers are very interested in satisfying their customers. That's why dealers help their customers in their quest by giving freely of their knowledge about those specific dates needed.

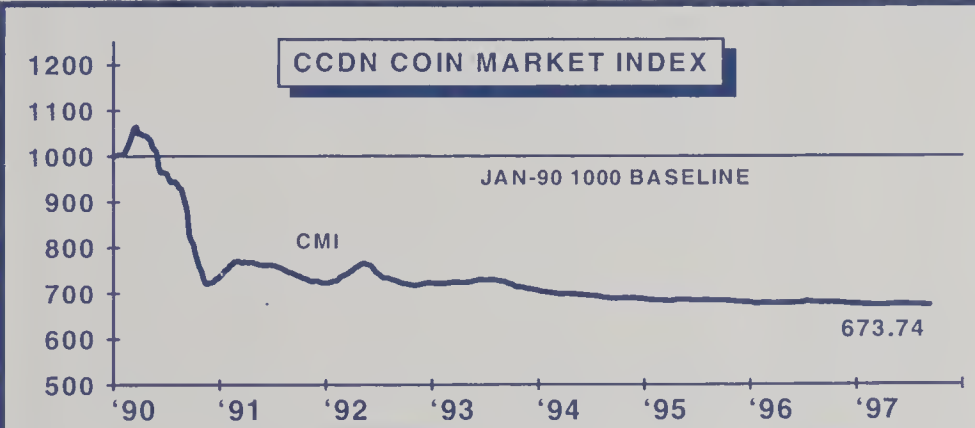

Dealers are assisting collectors by making suggestions as to strike, luster, color and the grade they should strive for in each series. One important rule-of-thumb to follow, is buy the best quality you can afford and reasonably locate. Also, it is a good idea to complete a set of similarly graded coins. Collectors that have very deep pockets don't always get what they want. Dealers explain the availability factor. Sometimes, it may take several years for a specific date to appear, either at public auction or in another dealer's inventory. Dealers know how to direct their customers by giving the matter careful consideration with regards to cost and what their customer can afford. The amount of time for completion is also an important consideration.

As we have said before, numismatic opportunities are omnipresent throughout the fall season. September and October are usually months filled with many shows and auctions, and this year is no exception. On Sept. 22nd, in New York, Bowers and Merena, Wolfeboro, N.H., will conduct The Boyd E. Hayward, M.D. Collection sale. This collection features a specialized collection of Large Cents and other nice Type Coins. Type collectors will find quite a few coins that they may be looking for as will the rare-date collectors. The following are just some of the many highlights contained in this sale. They include a PCGS MS-64B 1794 Head of '94 Liberty Cap Large Cent, Apple Cheek variety; a PCGS About Uncirculated 58 1800 Draped Bust Large Cent, Normal Date; a PCGS MS-64R 1955 Doubled Die Lincoln Cent; a PCGS Proof 66 1877 3-Cent Nickel; an NGC Proof 66 1864 3-Cent Silver; an NGC MS-66 1913-S Buffalo Nickel, Type 2; an NGC MS-65 1871 Seated Liberty Half Dime; an NGC MS-64 1895 Barber Dime; a PCGS MS-63 1855 Seated Liberty Quarter Dollar, Arrows; an NGC MS-65 1834 Large Date, Large Letters Capped Bust Half Dollar; a PCGS Proof 67 1892 Barber Half Dollar; an NGC MS-64 1934-S Peace Dollar; a PCGS MS-68 1884 Gold Dollar; a PCGS Proof 65 1889 $3 Gold Princess and a PCGS Proof 67 1912 $10 Indian Gold Coin.

Commemorative Gold Coins have certainly been one of the underachievers in 1997. Even though it is a relatively short series, consisting of only 11 coins, some of those coins sell at levels that make it prohibitively expensive to complete. So, collectors tend to shy away from this unique and attractive series. As the chart of certified NGC and PCGS coins indicates below, some of the poorest performers in 1997 are found within this series. The chart lists the top ten percentage losers, by grade, in 1997. Let's consider the 1916 McKinley Memorial Gold Dollar in NGC MS-66. As of the April 1997 NGC Census Report, only 48 coins received MS-66, while PCGS totaled 197. Therefore, the combined total of 245 examples (there may be some double counting), is quite small from the original mintage of 9,997.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Join the New PCGS Collectors Club

You'll Receive FREE PCGS Grading And Important Coin Market Information

PCGS is launching a new program to enable everyone to have easier access to PCGS grading and provide all rare coin enthusiasts with important marketplace information. The program is in the form of a membership organization... The PCGS Collectors Club.

The PCGS Collectors Club was designed to provide you with more valuable marketplace information, more grading services, and more benefits than have ever been available before. The major components of PCGS Collectors Club membership are as follows:

Direct Grading Submissions To PCGS

Until now, if you wanted to submit your coins to PCGS for grading you did so through an authorized dealer. Since the dealers can help you screen and process your submissions, this is a good system and we still encourage everyone to use the PCGS Authorized Dealer Network for their submissions. However, some people either aren't close to an authorized dealer or simply want to do it themselves. If you're in either of those categories and prefer to deal directly with PCGS you can now do so as a member of the PCGS Collectors Club.

$100 Worth Of Free PCGS Grading

As a special, get acquainted with PCGS grading offer, all members of the PCGS Collectors Club receive four FREE grading submissions from PCGS (a $100 value). That's right! If you're a PCGS Collectors Club member, PCGS will grade four of your coins for FREE.

The world's most important coins are consistently graded by NGC.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the unique "EB on breast" Garrett/Parrino Brasher Doubloon, the magnificent PF-66 Eliasberg/Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, or the remarkable Eliasberg/Spectrum 1884 Trade Dollar. Not to mention many other important coins from the Eliasberg, Byron Reed, and Trompeter collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is to name just a few examples.

While we are grading more of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, now averaging 38,000 coins per month. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently, and impartially.

This is why NGC is endorsed by the ANA as its official grading service, and why we're the grading service of choice for more of the world's finest collections, and the world's finest coins, like yours. It's also why we have the largest dealers network, at 1,250-plus member dealers.

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the professions. NGC was first to offer Economy service, World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, and the PhotoProof full-color digital imaging and presentation service. Count on NGC to continue innovating as we move into the next millennium.

When it matters to you that your coins are graded with lasting accuracy, choose NGC... the consistent choice for certifying the world's most important coins, like yours.

Sight-Unseen Bidding Conservative Heritage Auctions Realize More Than $4 Million

The sight-unseen market continues to find dealers maintaining their conservative Bids at current levels. However, buyers expect to receive coins that satisfy them at each grade level. While they don't expect the coins to be in a state of preservation higher than advertised, they do expect the coins to be reasonable for the grade. What does this all add up to? Buyers still want good value for their dollars and they want the coins to be reasonable for the grade. Sounds simple on paper, but in reality, cautious Bidding has produced a sight-unseen market that is turbulent. This turbulence has led to wide spreads between the sight-seen market and the sight-unseen market. Yet, there is plenty of funds chasing rare coins. Astute dealers know that it takes coins to maintain their business, and buying and selling takes work. Coins that are reasonable for the grade are quickly bought by a huge pool of eager buyers. The current collector demand has continued so strong that dealers are racing around coin shows trying to be first to get the opportunity to buy. They know that few key and semi-key dates exist at any given time and the dealer that is at the right place at the right time will get the deal. Meanwhile, collectors continue to rely on dealers to find those elusive scarce dates missing from his or her collection. Even those collectors that have obtained nearly complete sets of 19th and 20th century popular series of coins are active. These collectors are continually looking to up-grade select dates in their sets. This ready demand can sometimes add to dealer's frustration. Finding problem-free, attractive coins with eye-appeal is not an easy task these days. This is why public auctions are realizing stronger Bidding and yielding higher prices for "nice" coins and lower prices for the "ugly" or average quality coins.

This was the scenario taking place during the Long Beach Coin and Collectibles Expo Sept. 11-14. Dealers were hoping to acquire many coins on their want lists, but the pickings were a bit on the thin side. Still, transactions occurred and dealers came away from Long Beach in good spirits. Bidding for common date Uncirculated and Brilliant Uncirculated Gold coins was very evident throughout the Show. The demand for Gold coins was strong by dealers and collectors. It may be a case where collectors are diversifying their investment portfolios to include more Gold. This Long Beach Show actually experienced an increase in the metals. Besides Gold coins, demand for rare-date Gold coins, Type, Morgan Dollar keys, and key dates of all the popular coin series was evident. However, not all the dealers we spoke with had successful Shows. Some dealers thought that this Long Beach Show did not live up to expectations. Attendance at this Southern California Show has been declining in recent years.

Heritage Numismatic Auctions of Dallas, conducted two sales in conjunction with the Show. Some of the 635 lot Bullet Sale highlights include: a PCGS XF-40 1793 Flowing Hair Wreath Cent, Vine and Bars at $5,775; an NGC MS-67 1853 3-Cent Silver brought $4,620; a PCGS MS-63 1795 Flowing Hair Half Dime sold for $5,225; a PCGS MS-63 1911-D Indian Head $5 Gold coin brought $11,275; and a PCGS MS-64 1907 $20 Saint-Gaudens, High Relief Gold coin realized $13,200.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

The world's most important coins are consistently graded by NGC.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the unique "EB on breast" Garrett/Parrino Brasher Doubloon, the magnificent PF-66 Eliasberg/Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, or the remarkable Eliasberg/Spectrum 1884 Trade Dollar. Not to mention many other important coins from the Eliasberg, Byron Reed, and Trompeter collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is to name just a few examples.

While we are grading more of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, now averaging 38,000 coins per month. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently, and impartially.

This is why NGC is endorsed by the ANA as its official grading service, and why we're the grading service of choice for more of the world's finest collections, and the world's finest coins, like yours. It's also why we have the largest dealers network, at 1,250-plus member dealers.

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the professions. NGC was first to offer Economy service, World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, and the PhotoProof full-color digital imaging and presentation service. Count on NGC to continue innovating as we move into the next millennium.

When it matters to you that your coins are graded with lasting accuracy, choose NGC... the consistent choice for certifying the world's most important coins, like yours.

Demand Maintains Its Strength Rare Proof Commemorative Auctioned

Officially, the Fall season has begun all over the country, but this change in season has not caused a change in the sight-unseen market. Rather, this market continues to maintain the same degree of caution that it has demonstrated by Bidding conservatively on the dealer electronic networks. Everyone knows that all coins are not created equal, even though that was the general plan. Like human fingerprints, each coin has distinguishing characteristics that can identify it from another specimen. That's why the professional grading services talk about a grading range within each specific Mint State or Proof grade. This philosophy helps to explain the widespread use of the term premium quality, to describe a coin that is a bit nicer than the usual, average quality necessary to receive that particular grade. If you had 100 professionally graded MS-65 1881-S Morgan Dollars in front of you, placing them side-by-side, you could quickly see that some are better than others. However, don't be misled or think that the demand for certified rare coins is decreasing or non-existent. In fact, the opposite is true. Demand for certified rare coins is very strong. Of course, some areas are stronger than others, but generally speaking, demand for high-quality and rare dates is fast outstripping the supply. We have witnessed this demand first-hand at the Long Beach Numismatic Expo and indirectly from the many public auctions that have taken place in September.

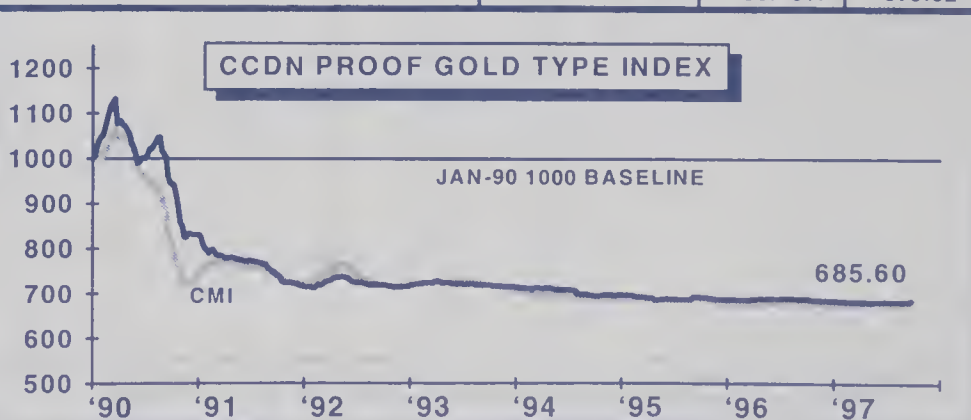

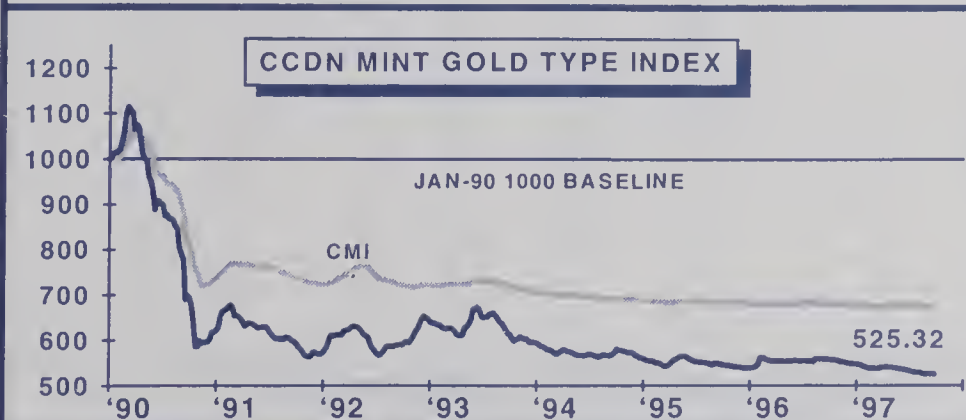

Activity and demand for key and semi-key date Morgan Dollars is similar to the intense interest analysts have expressed about the high technology stocks that trade on Wall Street. When these Dollars appear at auction, strong Bidding breaks out all over the auction floor. Dealers and advanced collectors in attendance were Bidding competitively. Want lists held by dealers are re-checked with anticipation of an impending transaction; one that will benefit the dealer and thrill his or her customer. In the end though, only one satisfied buyer is happy. However, Bidders that failed to acquire this particular date don't, all-of-a-sudden cancel their demand. Dealers still have many customers wanting this date. However, the new price level must be discussed so dealer and collector can reevaluate the situation and decide upon a new strategy.

Sometimes as the price of a rare date jumps in value, it influences the thinking of other owners to possibly make their coin available to the market. Such is the nature of supply and demand and the rare coin market. Unfortunately, the supply of rare coins, by date, is limited to the surviving number in each grade. This can mean that realistic goals need to be established by any collector attempting to complete a specific series. Demand for Dollars has reached the quality stratosphere. Common dates such as the early San Francisco Mints are wanted in MS-66 and better condition. There is also strong demand for Deep Mirror Prooflike and Prooflike Morgan Dollars. Collectors enjoy the mirror reflective surfaces. When it comes to the rare dates, dealers say that many collectors are willing to obtain anything they can get or afford. The Carson City Morgan Dollars continue to be very popular with collectors. Dealers suggest that at the current levels in Mint State condition, these Dollars are a very affordable and attractive example of the old west. Of course, dates such as 1879-CC and 1889-CC are desired in all circulated and Uncirculated grades.

Public auctions provide an excellent source of scarce and rare dates. On Sept. 22nd in New York, the Boyd E. Hayward, M.D. Collection was sold. This sale was conducted by Bowers and Merena of Wolfeboro, New Hampshire and realized nearly $2 million. Strong prices were realized for rare, key dates of all series. Some of the many highlights include: a Professional Coin Grading Service MS-63B 1787 Fugio Cent, Pointed Rays, UNITED STATES, 1 over Horizontal 1 variety realized $16,000; a PCGS MS-64B 1794 Liberty Cap Large Cent, Head of 1794 variety brought $18,000; a Numismatic Guaranty Corporation of America MS-66 1913-S Buffalo Nickel, Type 2 sold for $2,700; an NGC MS-65FH 1926-S Standing Liberty Quarter brought $25,000; a PCGS Proof 66 1906 $2.50 Liberty Gold coin at $16,000; a PCGS Proof 63 1887 Liberty Gold at $52,750; and a PCGS Proof 67 1912 $10 Indian Head Gold coin realized $34,000. A rare NGC Proof 65 1926 Oregon Trail Commemorative Half Dollar brought $36,000. Please contact Bowers and Merena for a complete list of prices realized.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale dealers. The Public is not to be used as a source of information and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Public is not to be used as a source of information exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guarantee that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase or that it is a genuine specimen at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might be a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication we track the lowest sale or bid price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stale Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "t" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit on a sight basis.

The PCI Capsule...

- ✓ $7⁵⁰ PER COIN
- ✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic". We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $7⁵⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service...guaranteed!!

THE BIGGEST INNOVATION IN RARE COIN SALES SINCE THE INTRODUCTION OF THIRD-PARTY GRADING

LIQUIDITY REVOLUTIONIZES THE MARKETPLACE THE GAME HAS BEEN CHANGED FOREVER

1 Jay Parrino's The Mint, LLC revolutionizes the industry with a numismatic first - The Mint Repurchase Program. The concept is simple yet elegant. Offer only the very best numismatic material and be so sure of your product that you are willing to repurchase it at any time, for 90% of its value as determined by the CCDN index. In summary, liquidity and certainty. No unpleasant surprises, no commissions, no waiting for auction checks and no excuses when it comes time to sell. It is the 10% solution. It eliminates the common risks associated with overgraded coins, overpriced coins, ugly coins, "who cares" coins.

2 The Mint is willing to put its money where its mouth is. Jay Parrino, owner and Chief Executive Officer of Jay Parrino's The Mint, LLC, is one of the largest rare coins investors in the world. He strongly believes rare coins offer the ultimate combination of intrinsic value, portability, privacy, and a proven track record of price appreciation. He is so convinced of the future of RARE COINS that he is willing to work on a razor thin 10% profit margin.

3 Only PCGS or NGC certified coins, which have then been hand selected and approved by Jay, are eligible for The Mint Repurchase Program. The grading services guarantee authenticity and grade, while we assure eye appeal, saleability and liquidity. The coins, which shall be of only the highest quality, must meet all four prongs of our strict acquisition criteria. Each rare coin must be in Gem condition, truly rare, subject to strong demand and have superior eye appeal. Additionally, only preferred dates, varieties and types will be available. All coins for The Mint Repurchase Program will be selected at the sole discretion of The Mint with the proviso that purchasers can indicate their preference for eligible market segments such as 20th century type, Proof Gold, or classic rarities for example.

4 We agree to repurchase any coin we sell for the original sale price less ten percent (10%) subject to adjustment for fluctuating market conditions, if any. Specifically, the repurchase price may then be adjusted up or down depending on whether the "Index" has risen or fallen. The "Index" shall be defined as the Certified Coin Dealer Newsletter CCDN Coin Market Index. The Certified Coin Dealer Newsletter is an independent trade publication not affiliated with Jay Parrino's The Mint, LLC.

5 The Repurchase Program allows you to track your rare coins' value with almost the same degree of certainty you could track a stock or bond. You also have the comfort of knowing that if you decide to sell, you can liquidate your coins and receive payment in full within 30 days. In addition, The Mint Repurchase Program doesn't require that you sell the coins back to us, but it does mean you always have a ready, willing and able buyer. The decision on how and where to sell is yours and yours alone, but isn't it nice to know you have a safety net?

6 We can't insulate you from market risk but we can eliminate the risk of buying overgraded coins, overpriced coins or buying the right coins in the wrong grade.

7 If you purchased a $10,000 coin from us today and were to sell it back to us tomorrow or five years from now, assuming the market remained unchanged, you would be able to cash out anytime for $9,000.00. Your money is liquid. Your downside is limited to 10%. Your upside is, however, unlimited.

Repurchase Terms and Conditions

1. All coins selected for The Mint Repurchase Program are selected by The Mint in its sole discretion.
2. In the event you elect to exercise the repurchase option, you must notify The Mint, in writing, requesting the repurchase, along with your coin(s).
3. All coins to be repurchased must be shipped, fully insured, by Federal Express, U.S. Post Office Express Mail or Registered Mail to The Mint.
4. Coins must be returned undamaged and in their original NGC or PCGS holders.
5. No coins under $1,000 will be eligible for The Mint Repurchase Program.
6. Coins must not have deteriorated due to improper storage or environmental damage.
7. The Mint Repurchase Program is not transferable from original purchaser.
8. If CCDN stops publishing its index, The Mint has the right to substitute a similar coin market index.

The world's most important coins are consistently graded by NGC.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the unique "EB on breast" Garrett/Parrino Brasher Doubloon, the magnificent PF-66 Eliasberg/Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, or the remarkable Eliasberg/Spectrum 1884 Trade Dollar. Not to mention many other important coins from the Eliasberg, Byron Reed, and Trompeter collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is to name just a few examples.

While we are grading more of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, now averaging 38,000 coins per month. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently, and impartially.

PHOTO PROOF by NGC is the leader in combining vivid digital imaging with colorful historic text and thorough analysis of your coins.

This is why NGC is endorsed by the ANA as its official grading service, and why we're the grading service of choice for more of the world's finest collections, and the world's finest coins, like yours. It's also why we have the largest dealers network, at 1,250-plus member dealers.

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the professions. NGC was first to offer Economy service, World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, and the PhotoProof full-color digital imaging and presentation service. Count on NGC to continue innovating as we move into the next millennium.

When it matters to you that your coins are graded with lasting accuracy, choose NGC... the consistent choice for certifying the world's most important coins, like yours.

Bidding Activity Increases For Gold Coins Auction Activity Remains Strong

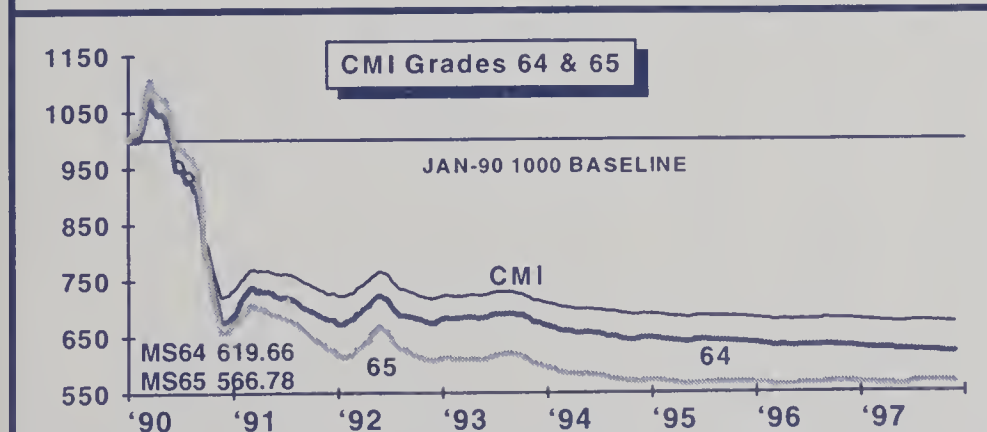

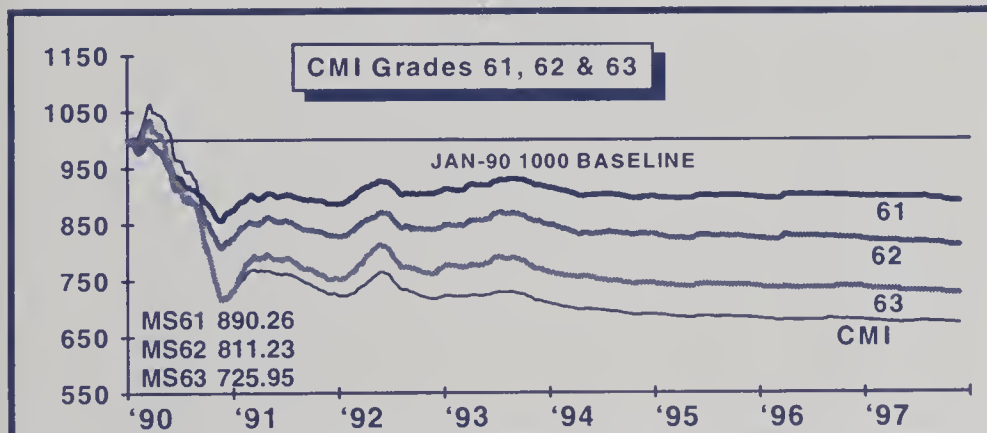

The precious metals have been experiencing more life these days and as a result, Mint State Gold coins have been more active. Dealers have been increasing their Bids for Gold coins on the major electronic dealer networks. The majority of the Bids have been targeted for MS-61 through MS-65 coins. The demand is primarily for the most common dates in each series from $1 Gold through $20 Saint-Gaudens. These stronger Bids are for sight-unseen coins. As always, dealers will pay even more for coins that are above average for the grade. Gold coins are notorious for acquiring unsightly carbon spots. Dealers are always on their guard for coins that have carbon spots or other problems. These spots tend to distract from the overall eye appeal that Gold coins possess. Dealers are eager to please their customers and realize that these buyers have become more critical where condition is concerned. But with common dates, dealers are still happy to have coins that would be considered average for the grade. This is because the spread between the grades on certain Gold coins is very tight. Professionally graded, certified and encapsulated Gold coins are preferred by investors and collectors; one important reason being that Gold coins have been the target of counterfeiting for decades. Collectors and investors that are not familiar with the diagnostics that can determine the genuineness of a Gold coin, are much better off purchasing slabbed coins. This insurance is welcome by the buyer and becomes a marketing plus for the dealer.

The rare date coin market is very stable at current levels. We continue to monitor a number of supporting Bids, by dealers, for scarce dates of all series. Demand continues to be very strong at the low-end of the grading spectrum. Buyers are plentiful for circulated key and semi-key dates of all the major series. Dealers are actively Bidding for rare dates from About Good through About Uncirculated condition. Still, increasing Bids for these coins doesn't always guarantee their acquisition. Generally, the sight-unseen market is just treading water at current levels. Bidders are reluctant to offer significantly higher Bids because of the risk of owning low-end quality for the grade coins. Dealers are savvy enough to realize that it still takes a lot of quality coins to make a market in 1997. Consequently, they are always out in the marketplace taking advantage of opportunities, hoping collectors will take advantage of the excellent value that each coin represents. Demand by collectors has been consistent throughout 1997. The need for problem-free coins possessing some degree of eye appeal seems never-ending. They want rare-date Morgan Dollar keys. It appears that many collectors are working on completing their Morgan Dollar collection. This is a formidable task as this series has its share of rarities. Those collectors putting together circulated sets still need to acquire the relatively high-priced 1889-CC and 1893-S. However, Uncirculated Morgan Dollar collectors have entered the big leagues, especially if they are trying to buy Mint State 64 or better grade Dollars. Add to this the challenge of obtaining an 1895 Proof Morgan Dollar, and it's easy to see why many collectors take pride in completing this series.

Auctions are a great way to fill in those needed dates. Heritage Numismatic Auctions of Dallas will conduct a Bullet Sale of certified rare coins in conjunction with the October 1997 West Coast Expo in Seattle. Highlights from the Oct. 4 sale will include: a NGC MS-65RB 1864 L Indian Head Cent; a PCGS AU-55 1918/7-D Buffalo Nickel; an NGC MS-61 1842-O Seated Liberty Dime; a PCGS MS-65FH 1921 Standing Liberty Quarter; an NGC MS-64 DMPL 1889-CC Morgan Dollar; a PCGS AU-55 1852-O $2.50 Liberty Gold coin; a PCGS EF-40 1875-S $5 Liberty Gold coin; and a PCGS EF-40 1875-CC $10 Liberty Gold coin. Catalogs are available from Heritage.

The Sept. 24-25 Kingswood III United States Coinage Rarities auction by Kingswood of Santa Ana, CA., realized more than $650,000. PCGS Highlights include: an MS-65 1937-D 3-Legged Buffalo Nickel at $12,210; an MS-64FH 1916 Standing Liberty Quarter brought $9,570; an MS-63 C. Bechtler $5 Gold, 128G, 22 Carats, Rutherford at $46,200; and an AU-55 1860 Clark Gruber $20 Gold realized $112,200.

The PCI Capsule...

- ✓ $7⁵⁰ PER COIN
- ✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.

☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic". We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5+, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.

☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).

☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $7⁵⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!

☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service...guaranteed!!

Sight-Unseen Market Extremely Selective Increasing Demand For Interesting Coins

Some dealers believe that the sight-unseen market is doing fine, others are not so sure. Reverberations that too many rare coins exist in a condition that's near the bottom of the grading range continue to result in very low Bids. Naturally, the worst known examples in each grade receive the lowest Bids by dealers. Dealers suggest that these "low-ball" Bids are necessary to protect themselves from receiving a "low-end" coin. These coins are not as salable to their customers as premium quality coins that have been assigned the same grade by a professional grading service. However, remember, it's the dealers' customers who have the final say about each coin's value. And, the buyers' tastes vary. While some customers prefer brilliant white coins, others desire attractively toned examples. Some collectors don't even mind if a coin has a few marks, hairlines or slightly darker toning. Ultimately, a lot depends on what their budget can afford and what coins they need. Dealers know that many coins that are above average or in the higher echelon of the grading spectrum trade for a considerable premium. Strong demand for these coins continues unabated. Therefore, dealers are not afraid to pay above Bid for coins that meet these qualifications. They know that coins like these can easily be marketed to ready buyers at stronger levels. Unfortunately, it is these coins that are the most difficult to come by and where the shortage is greatest. The amount that collectors and investors looking to spend on rare coins today varies a great deal. This is one question that keeps cropping up when a dealer requires a change to their inventory.

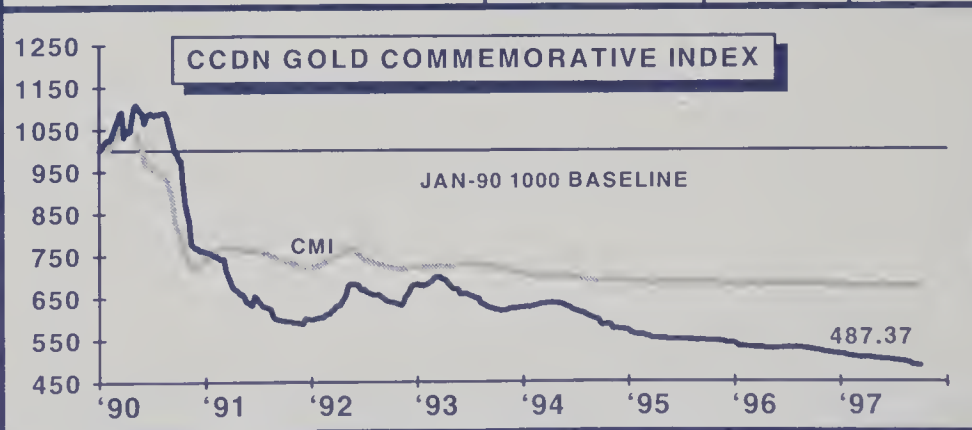

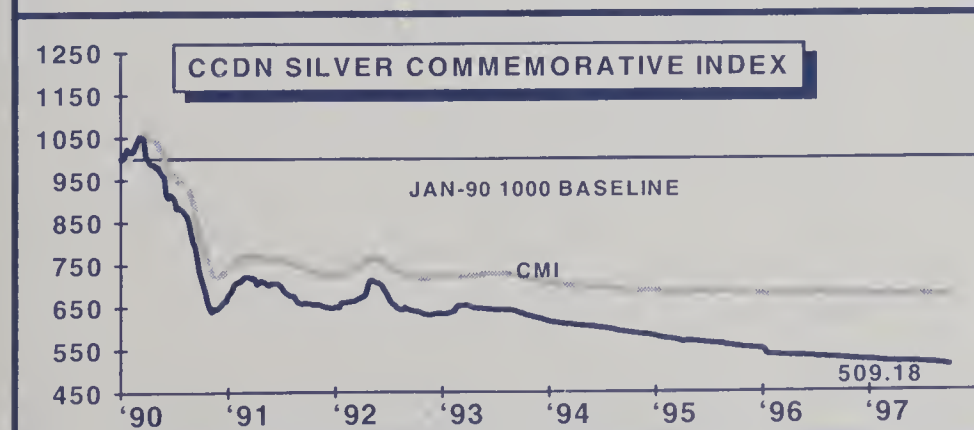

According to some dealers, the slowest segments of the market are those coins that trade below $1,000 and over $10,000. But, this doesn't mean that the market for these coins is dead. Transactions continue to take place in this dollar range, but buyers are selective. However, activity in this area is more sporadic. Key and semi-key dates continue to receive the majority of this demand. However, the market is showing considerable strength for coins that trade in the range from $1,000 to $10,000. This doesn't mean that all coins within this price range are quick sales. No! Dealers say that their customers are very cautious and carefully examine each coin before buying. They have specific needs and are patient enough to get the best coin for the best price. The coins that seem to attract their attention the most are "interesting" coins. Interesting coins are found in all series and denominations from copper to gold. Eye appeal and color also add a level of interest to a coin. Buyers also want a coin to be relatively problem-free. They want the coins that have low populations, relative to the multitude of common dates that exist. Low-pop coins within the $1,000 to $10,000 price range are very much in demand. Many dealers want to see a large infusion of fresh material to the market. But, these coins hopefully will fit the high demand price range. Unfortunately, there isn't enough fresh material collections available at this time. The demand for this kind of material is considerably potent and has maintained this strength at these levels. Therefore, the market reacts to the available supply and the patience of collectors. Dealers say that the overall certified rare coin market continues stable at current levels to slightly higher. This is a healthy market, despite the fact that the inflation rate has been held in check through the constant efforts of the Federal Reserve System.

Evidence of market strength is noted as recent auction results containing some fresh material realize the strongest prices. Certainly, Bidding activity increases for coins that have spent a number of years off the market. Dealers and collectors want to buy coins that haven't moved from showcase to showcase. But, there are many quality and rare coins available in showcases right now, waiting for astute buyers to purchase them. We've seen a jump in the precious metals and most dealers know it's just a matter of time before we see a jump in the coin market.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflike strikes. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

Join the New PCGS Collectors Club

You'll Receive FREE PCGS Grading And Important Coin Market Information

PCGS is launching a new program to enable everyone to have easier access to PCGS grading and provide all rare coin enthusiasts with important marketplace information. The program is in the form of a membership organization... The PCGS Collectors Club.

The PCGS Collectors Club was designed to provide you with more valuable marketplace information, more grading services, and more benefits than have ever been available before. The major components of PCGS Collectors Club membership are as follows:

Direct Grading Submissions To PCGS

Until now, if you wanted to submit your coins to PCGS for grading you did so through an authorized dealer. Since the dealers can help you screen and process your submissions, this is a good system and we still encourage everyone to use the PCGS Authorized Dealer Network for their submissions. However, some people either aren't close to an authorized dealer or simply want to do it themselves. If you're in either of those categories and prefer to deal directly with PCGS you can now do so as a member of the PCGS Collectors Club.

$100 Worth Of Free PCGS Grading

As a special, get acquainted with PCGS grading offer, all members of the PCGS Collectors Club receive four FREE grading submissions from PCGS (a $100 value). That's right! If you're a PCGS Collectors Club member, PCGS will grade four of your coins for FREE.

The PCGS Market Update

The PCGS Market Report is a quarterly newsletter packed with prime market information and cutting-edge numismatic research. Every issue of the PCGS Market Report contains the following articles:

Bowers On Coins. In each issue of the PCGS Market Report, Q. David Bowers, the most famous coin dealer of all-time, presents an informative article on an important coin, auction, collection, or numismatic event.

Counterfeit Detection Alert. PCGS President Rick Montgomery is considered by many to be the top counterfeit detection expert in the world! In each issue of the PCGS Market Report, Mr. Montgomery presents a special article on counterfeit detection including detailed diagnostic photos.

JD's Rarity Report. In each issue of the PCGS Market Report, highly respected rare coin research expert, John Dannreuther, presents an in-depth look at an important numismatic research topic.

PCGS Dealer Picks. Every issue of the PCGS Market Report will include the market's major dealers' top ten picks for future price appreciation. In the premiere issue of the PCGS Market Report, noted market maker, Silvano DiGenova gives you his top ten "inside" picks.

David Hall's Rarity Analysis. In each issue of the PCGS Market Report, noted rare coin expert, David Hall, presents his rarity analysis for an important United States coin series.

The PCGS Population Report

The monthly PCGS Population Report is one of the most important publications in the rare coin market. The "Pop Report" is a complete census of the more than 4,000,000 coins that have been graded by PCGS. The PCGS Population Report is the best way to compare the relative rarity of important coins. At any major coin show you'll hear dealers continually asking "What's the Pop?" before buying a coin. And the "Pop" they are referring to is the figure in the PCGS Population Report. All members of the PCGS Collectors Club receive one free copy of the PCGS Population Report.

PCGS Grading Specials

PCGS is looking forward to working closely with all members of the PCGS Collectors Club. We will be offering special quarterly grading discounts to all club members, including periodic free grading offers. The first grading special for club members is free grading for all coins dated 1793.

The world's most important coins are consistently graded by NGC.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the unique "EB on breast" Garrett/Parrino Brasher Doubloon, the magnificent PF-66 Eliasberg/Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, or the remarkable Eliasberg/Spectrum 1884 Trade Dollar. Not to mention many other important coins from the Eliasberg, Byron Reed, and Trompeter collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is to name just a few examples.

While we are grading more of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, now averaging 38,000 coins per month. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently, and impartially.

This is why NGC is endorsed by the ANA as its official grading service, and why we're the grading service of choice for more of the world's finest collections, and the world's finest coins, like yours. It's also why we have the largest dealers network, at 1,250-plus member dealers.

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the professions. NGC was first to offer Economy service, World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, and the PhotoProof full-color digital imaging and presentation service. Count on NGC to continue innovating as we move into the next millennium.

When it matters to you that your coins are graded with lasting accuracy, choose NGC... the consistent choice for certifying the world's most important coins, like yours.

Wells Fargo® Nevada Gold Hoard Astounds Industry No Motto 1908 $20 Saint-Gaudens Gold Coins Are Pedigreed

World War I was near its conclusion; the ravages of war played havoc with the World's economies; times were difficult financially and morally, as people sought protection and a better way of life; immigration to the United States eastern shores burgeoned; change was omnipresent, as our nation recently introduced new designs for the Dime, Quarter and Half Dollar; the year is 1917 and far to the West, a hoard of more than 15,000 Gold coins was acquired and stored in vaults. Although we didn't know it then, the impact of that decision would profoundly affect the known mintage figures for some collectible gold coins, more than eighty years later. Today, we know that this is the largest hoard of superb quality Gold coins to have traded hands in numismatic history. The significance and final chapter of this find is yet to be written, but for now, coin dealers and collectors find it very exciting.

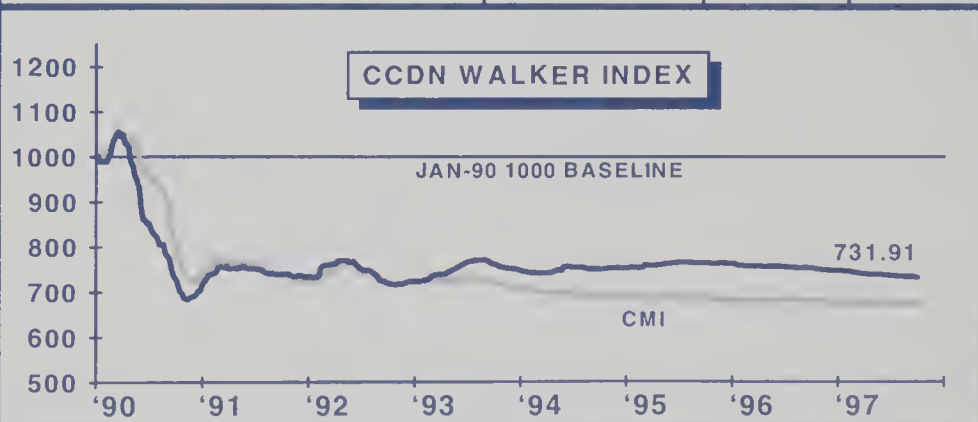

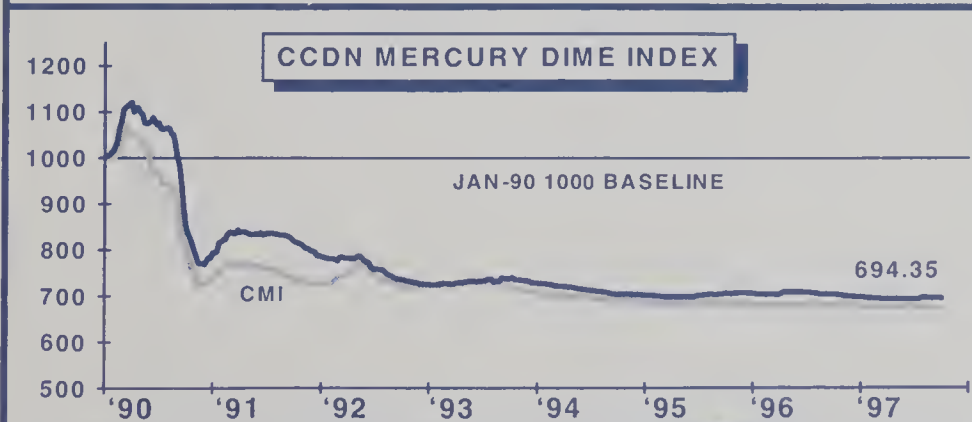

Wind of this hoard, known as the Wells Fargo® Nevada Gold Collection, was leaked during the early 1970s, when the coins were all removed from their sealed bags to be counted and sorted. After this operation, the coins were resealed in their bags and have remained that way until they were moved in 1996, and later purchased by Spectrum Numismatics Int'l, Irvine, CA. The most impressive aspect of this hoard is that the coins survived in exceptional condition. CCDN has been informed of the retail sale of approximately 7,500 coins to collectors and people who are new to numismatics. Yes, the coins have been authenticated and graded by NGC and PCGS. The people at these grading services were so impressed with the quality that they have identified each coin, by pedigree, as Wells Fargo Nevada Gold. Mark Salzberg, President of NGC said, "Even after viewing these coins, it is hard to comprehend the scope and quality of this incredible hoard." PCGS President Rick Montgomery offered similar sentiments, "The quality is amazing. I'm a little jaded since ... I see the world's finest coins on a daily basis. But the Wells Fargo Nevada Gold No Motto Saints blew my mind!" Numismatists have also reacted. Q. David Bowers said, "This is one of the most exciting news items to reach numismatics in recent years."

At CCDN, we have learned that, in part, the hoard contains a quantity of 1908 No Motto $20 Saint-Gaudens Gold coins. Some of these have received the lofty MS-66 grade. Since the No Motto $20 Saint-Gaudens is a popular two-year Type coin, it already has a built-in collector demand. We know there were more than 64 million $20 Saint-Gaudens Gold coins originally struck with the Motto, In God We Trust. But, a little more than 5 million coins originally struck, from 1907-08 are of the No Motto Type. A sharp increase in the supply of outstanding quality $20 Saint-Gaudens Gold coins should result in a shot-in-the-arm to the industry. Availability has long been the cry of dealers and collectors. Strong buyers often looked to purchase significant quantities of coins, especially gold coins, and now they can. This demand for quality and quantity may be strong enough to absorb this supply. This was certainly the case when the Eliasberg coins hit the market. Apparently, the present owners of the hoard believe that the current demand is more than sufficient to meet the supply. That's why the coins are being pedigreed under a unique licensing agreement with Wells Fargo & Company. As the saying goes, coins always have a story to tell. Often, coins and their stories are almost inseparable. This Wells Fargo Nevada Gold Collection has more than its share of history and intrigue. There will be many questions and comments about this hoard, to be sure. This hoard will probably become the finale, to a century of knowledge and discoveries that has brought coin collecting from humble beginnings to the computer age and beyond. However, the most important thing about this discovery, is that these coins have survived the many decades and the melting pot and are now available to dealers, collectors and anybody that's had the desire to own gold.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

EVERYONE CLAIMS THEY PAY YOU TOP DOLLAR...
BUT HERE'S PROOF THAT YOU GET THE MOST CASH FOR YOUR COINS FROM THE *KING OF CASH

TOP BUYING POWER - THE ABILITY OF A FIRM TO BUY ALL OF YOUR COINS

It can be easy to sell one or two coins. It can be easy to sell your highest grade coins or your rare coins. It's a bit more complicated to sell all of your coins. The major mistake that most collectors make when disposing of their collection is they don't ask enough money for their great coins and they ask too much money for their mediocre coins. They usually sell their great coins immediately and are stuck with the bottom of the barrel. What makes sense is to sell to a firm who needs a broad base of coins. A firm that's comfortable buying a coin for $100,000 or $100. Here are some facts and figures that show that, besides being the top buyer in the country for rarities, Spectrum is also willing to buy virtually any Pre-1950 U.S. coin.

In 1996, Spectrum spent a total of over $54,000,000 purchasing rare coins from both other dealers and the public. The largest amount they spent in one transaction was $2,448,630 at the Eliasberg sale. The smallest amount they spent in one transaction was $4 in purchasing a coin from a collector. Last year, Spectrum was willing to pay over $500,000 for a single coin and also as little as $4 for a single coin. Spectrum buys everything from million dollar 1913 Liberty nickels to common date Morgan dollars in low grade.

When you deal with Spectrum Numismatics, you can take comfort in the fact that you are selling to the absolute top buyer for rarities and someone who will buy all of your coins in all price ranges. But there's a lot more.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

When you sell your coins to Spectrum Numismatics you get the following benefits every time.

1. Absolute top dollar for your coins. This is not a shallow claim. The facts clearly show that Spectrum Numismatics is the number one buyer for rare coins.

2. Ultra fast payment. Spectrum Numismatics can pay you any way you choose...you can have a check, you can have a bank wire, you can deliver the coins, or you can mail them. Any way you want to handle the transaction is O.K. with Spectrum and will be handled as quickly as you desire.

3. Ultra efficient service aimed to make it as easy as possible for you to sell your coins. Spectrum has five full time buyers and offices in Southern California, and New York. If you would like a Spectrum buyer to visit you at your convenience, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect any week-day and you can immediately talk to one of our buyers. In fact, Spectrum is so desperate to buy your coins, they'll even pay the price of your shipping the coins, whether or not you decide to sell them to Spectrum.

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH THE KING OF CASH

Spectrum will buy all types of Pre-1950 U.S. coins in all price ranges. It's incredibly easy to do a transaction with Spectrum. First, if you would like to ship your coins to Spectrum for a totally risk-free appraisal of your coins, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect at 714/955-1250 and tell them you'd like to speak to one of our buyers. Spectrum will arrange to look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins (and your shipping expenses) in any form you desire. If, for any reason, you do not want to accept Spectrum's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses.

MARKET STRENGTH CONTINUES BUYERS FOCUS ON AUCTIONS & "BIG-TICKETS"

ACTIVITY

by Kevin Falvey

The collectible paper money market continues to be a bright spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention bourse was a sell-off. The bourse for Krause Publications' February 24-26 Chicago Paper Money Exposition sold out in early December, and has a waiting list of 15 dealers wanting space. One market barometer seldom commented upon is the relative ease for difficult-to-conversion sponsors have in filling their bourse areas. While coin shows have tended to shrink in size over the past five years (some quite considerably), this has not been the case in the paper money area. Not only are established dealers continuing to return, but new entrants are also supporting the paper money specialty events.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As commented here in the past, it is not unusual to see individuals, reluctant to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction actually pay even more for a comparable item at auction. Because of the inherent subjectivity of grading, and the fact that grading opinions and abilities vary widely even among recognized professionals, many buyers seem to need the assurance of rules provided by the auction process. This is the auction assurance of knowing that someone else (the party that is bidding against) shares their opinion of an item's value. That the winning bid of $2,041 wrested a note from someone else who felt it was not enough to be worth $1,950 in a private transaction, without the other buyers present in the auction arena, this additional confirmation of value is lacking. The fear then is that the $2,041 item may only be worth perhaps $1,000 to the next buyer.

This general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and just as timidly in private transactions, has resulted in a two-tiered market. The same material, more often than not, will sell for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material offered at auction is far more liquid and typically sells, rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal in Currency Auctions of America, this is a process I certainly note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

This is one of the strongest areas in numismatics and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all conditions of material, from VG to Gem. In addition, buyers are seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes, those rare pieces typically selling above $10,000, are especially strong. A whole new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past two to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin, and dealers were often frustrated that an item which "ought to be worth more" based on its rarity, would sell for a disappointingly low number — simply because there were so few buyers for such rarities. That situation has been completely reversed today, as a growing number of buyers — in resources to match their interests — have entered the field. Now buyers realize that if they miss a note to one of these competitors, such an item may not become available to them again for a year or even longer.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Interest here remains in the specialty areas — in scarce Star Notes, rare bi-color notes, etc. Buyers are attracted by the fact that a bit of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The distinction between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a prefix letter in the serial number or a single digit in a bank plate number. Students of "small" type note often have greater knowledge of these nuances than a willing dealer and may often "cherry-pick" a bargain as a result. Types of type material remain quite stable and can be expected to do so because of large quantities available.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

The Martin Gemmick Collection, the only complete regular issue Fractional collection yet formed, is being offered for sale on January 17 in Orlando, Florida, by Currency Auctions of America. The collection contains numerous premium condition and ultra- scarce 1/100th and 1/200th pieces. Its sale will redefine current values for Fractionals.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Like the Large Type market, National Bank notes are attracting a growing body of collectors not afraid to spend serious money to acquire items needed for their collections. One attraction offered by National Bank notes is the considerable challenge presented by the task of forming a distinguished collection. The surviving population of notes from many banks constitutes only a tiny handful of pieces, with some banks still awaiting the appearance of a discovery piece. Despite this rarity, notes on banks that exist in tiny quantities can be typically acquired (taken from) for a few thousand dollars at most, and in many instances for less than $1,000. These dual factors the challenge of acquisition and relatively low prices in relation to rarity — can be expected to continue to stimulate interest in National Bank notes.

MISCELLANEOUS

Stocks and Bonds, Obsolete Notes and Confederate material continue to enjoy the same strong demand as in the recent past.

AUCTIONS

Buyers will have much to choose from in the coming months. Currency Auctions of America will hold a 2,500+ lot sale in Orlando in January. R.M. Smythe and Company will hold a significant Stock and Bond sale in conjunction with its Lancaster, Pennsylvania stock and bond convention later that month. Lyn Knight will hold a major sale February 25-26 in conjunction with the inaugural Chicago Paper Money Exposition.

The Greensheet reports the national currency market on a monthly basis.

Bids for Lincoln Cents are for full-red specimens in PR64 and higher.

The world's most important coins are consistently graded by NGC.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the unique "EB on breast" Garrett/Parrino Brasher Doubloon, the magnificent PF-66 Eliasberg/Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, or the remarkable Eliasberg/Spectrum 1884 Trade Dollar. Not to mention many other important coins from the Eliasberg, Byron Reed, and Trompeter collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is to name just a few examples.

While we are grading more of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, now averaging 38,000 coins per month. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently, and impartially.

PHOTO PROOF by NGC is the leader in combining vivid digital imaging with colorful historic text and thorough analysis of your coins.

For a listing of the 1,250-plus authorized NGC dealers who can help you submit your coins for certification and grading (as well as PHOTO PROOF preservation) call us at 1-800-NGC-COIN (642-2646).

This is why NGC is endorsed by the ANA as its official grading service, and why we're the grading service of choice for more of the world's finest collections, and the world's finest coins, like

yours. It's also why we have the largest dealers network, at 1,250-plus member dealers.

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the professions. NGC was first to offer Economy service, World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, and the PhotoProof full-color digital imaging and presentation service. Count on NGC to continue innovating as we move into the next millennium.

When it matters to you that your coins are graded with lasting accuracy, choose NGC... the consistent choice for certifying the world's most important coins, like yours.

Demand Increases For Classic Rarities Auction Realizes Strong Bidding For Early Gold Coins

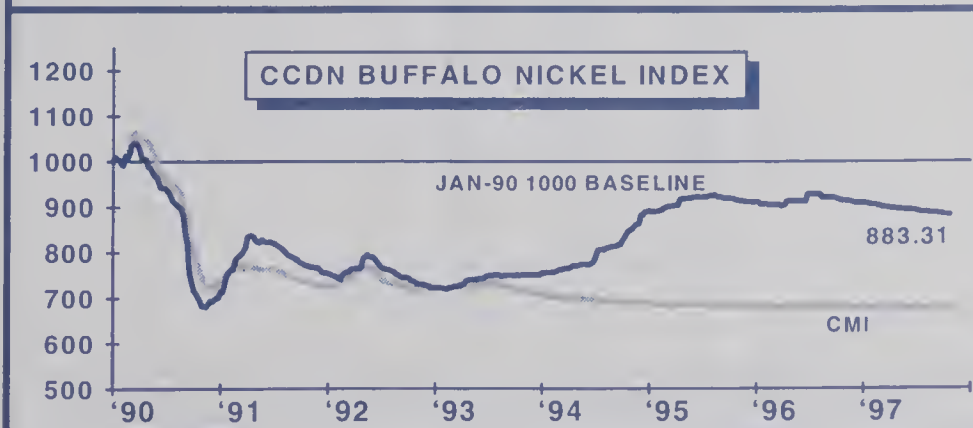

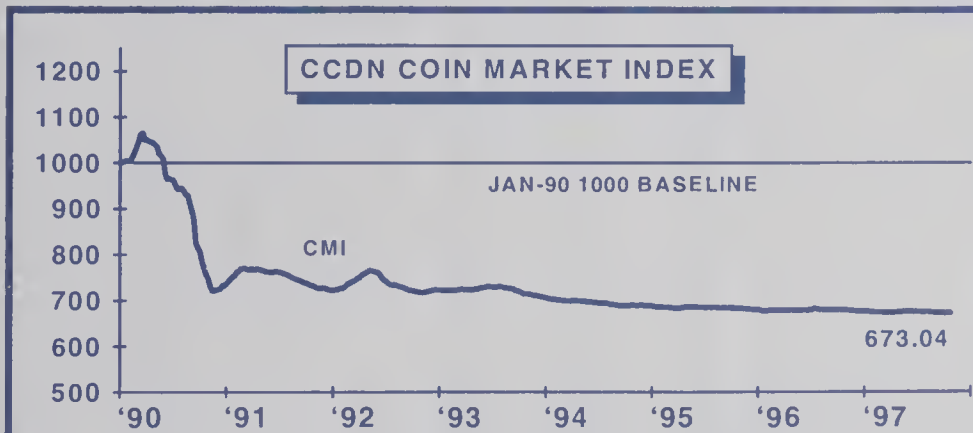

Dealers active in the certified rare coin market continue to post Bids that keep prices stable at current levels. While the majority of issues receive support by dealers, select rarities are experiencing increasing Bids. Demand continues to be the strongest for scarce and better date Morgan Dollars, Type and Gold. Dealers are actively Bidding on the electronic networks, hoping to receive coins that they can sell to their clients. Still, dealers have maintained their solid customer base with ready buyers. These collectors are looking for coins that will fit into their collections. Often, the demand is for no-problem coins that possess some degree of eye appeal. Ultimately, dealers try to satisfy their customer needs by supplying them with better date coins that represent good value for the money.

Demand has increased for some of the rare coin heavyweights. Customers are anxiously looking to buy early Silver Type and early Gold Type. One dealer has increased his Bid for 1794 Flowing Hair Dollars. This is the first year the Dollar was struck; besides its appeal as a first year Type coin, it is a rare date as well. These Dollars are needed in the circulated grades of Good, Very Good and Fine. Even though Bid has increased for these Dollars, we don't expect many of them to suddenly appear on the market. Early Type has received strong demand throughout 1997. Another favorite of collectors that dealers are trying to obtain is the $20 High Relief Saints. These coins continue to be extremely popular with collectors. Bidding activity suggests that these Saints are needed in all grades. Demand for 1907 $10 Indian Gold, Periods variety has increased. Dealers are willing to add this rarity to inventory to satisfy customer demand. Buyers are also eager to acquire the Rolled Edge or Wire Edge variety. Again, this is a classic American rarity that always seems to be in demand. Another expensive rarity on dealers' lists of coins to buy is the 1879 Flowing Hair $4 Stella. Dealers have customers looking for Stella's in the $25,000-$70,000 range. One difficulty facing dealers is trying to find a choice Proof 63 or better quality Stella. Many Stellas were mishandled and have been classified as impaired Proofs. Seated Dollars have been added to a few dealer's want lists. The tough, scarce dates are needed the most in circulated or the Uncirculated grades. Some of the dates often requested include 1851, 1852, 1854, 1855, 1858 and all the Carson City Mint issues and Civil War dates.

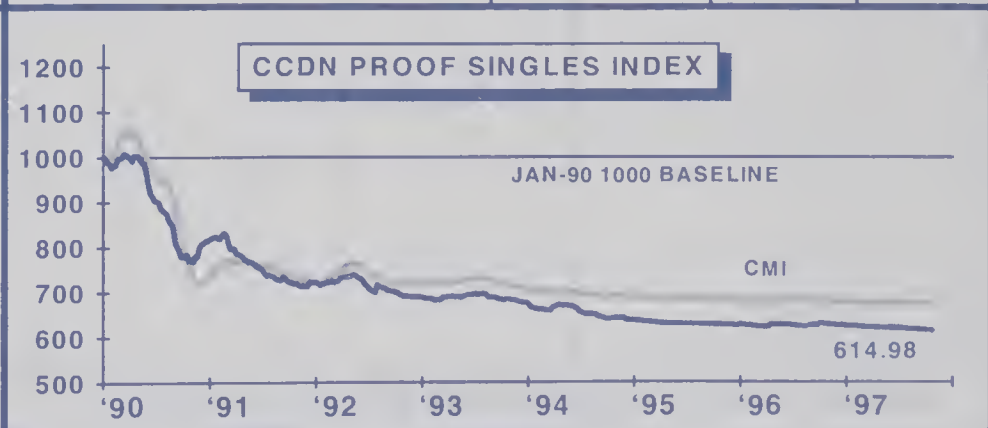

Stack's held a public auction, Oct. 14-15 in New York that realized more than $2.3 million. The two-session, 1461 lot sale featured the Albert W. Savage Collection, along with some additional consignments. If you thought that dealers would be holding back Bids because of the upcoming John J. Pittman Collection, think again. Bidding for rare dates and early gold coins was especially strong. Early Gold has received increasing Bids and support by dealers throughout 1997. Buyers are looking for these coins, scrutinizing each for strike, color and original surfaces. Those coins that measure up are receiving the strongest Bids. Some of the many certified auction highlights are provided in the chart. For a complete list of auction prices realized, contact Stack's, New York.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids. Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

MARKET LISTINGS

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading network. sell information is exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guarantee or liability that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases, a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis

- ☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).
- ☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $7⁵⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.

Market Continues Steady And Active Bids Support Prices At Current Levels

The sight-unseen, certified rare coin market has continued to hold its course throughout 1997. We have been monitoring this trend as dealers continue to maintain a wide spread between the Buy and Sell. Even though the sight-unseen market remains steady, the sight-seen market is being defined by strong Bids and increasing prices. When dealers are able to view the coins before buying them, the confidence level increases along with prices. When a dealer receives a coin from a sight-unseen Bid, it only takes an average quality coin for the grade to be acceptable. Dealers are not always looking for the moon but are happy to receive coins that are respectable for the grade. Many times, dealers are satisfied with the coins but, there are always those few bad apples which end up being returned. This is a loss for both dealers involved with the pending transaction. Most dealers are smart enough to avoid this type of business waste. Often, it is just unavoidable. That's because the potential rare coin has to be shown to a customer. Ultimately, it's the customer's decision that really counts.

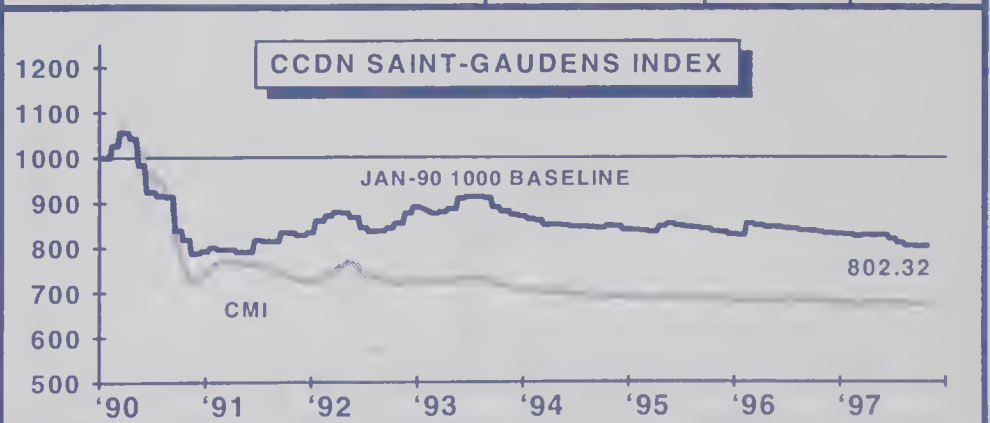

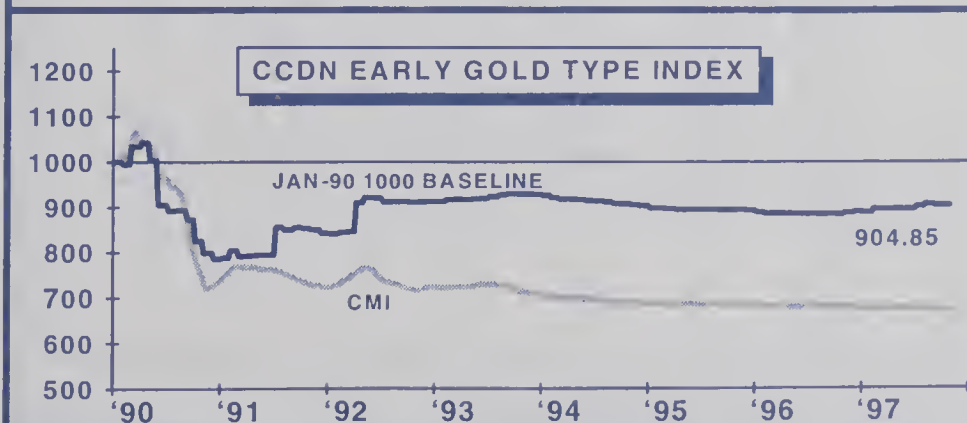

The recently completed John Jay Pittman auction is an example of how strong Bids can be even for raw coins. Incidentally, even though none of the Pittman coins were slabbed, there was a lot of strong sight-unseen Bids received by David Akers through the mail. This may give us a clue to strength and demand of the coin market. Further, a spill-over of this powerful demand may find its way into the sight-unseen market. The important ingredient needed to sustain this demand is product. The need for quality, rare coins is most paramount. Dealers need coins and need to fill their customer want lists. Another objective of most dealers is the need to generate transactions at an increasing rate. To this end, dealers look to turn over their inventory as frequently as possible. This is where the sight-unseen market should benefit and prosper. It is this forum that allows dealers to complete transactions with one another efficiently and quickly. And, the sight-unseen market has plenty of room to expand. That's because the supply of professionally graded and encapsulated coins is increasing in number. Just look at the population reports. Of course, dealers continue to try to locate those difficult to find key and semi-key dates. When they do, they invariably look for slabbed coins. Dealers do this because they know that collectors are often content to buy coins that have been encapsulated, graded and authenticated by a third-party professional grading service. In many respects, they can put their minds to rest about dramatic grade swings or being stuck with a counterfeit. The slab has become somewhat of an insurance policy for the collector.

While the recent auction market has been providing outstanding rarities and prices realized, it is only a matter of time before many of these coins make their way to the professional grading services. From that point, they are targeted for collectors or investors. Still, dealers are actively Bidding for many Type coins, Gold and Dollars at current sight-unseen levels on the electronic dealer networks. Dealers continue to show support for these coins by repeating their Bids every day. Another way that dealers show support for the Bid is by Bidding at current levels or above in quantity. Unfortunately, the supply of coins available isn't always the coins that dealers want for inventory or customers. So, this group of coins may be a burden to the market until it can be absorbed by either new collectors or speculating dealers. Dealers are carefully figuring their Bids when it comes to the common date gold coins. It appears that the precious metals market has been extremely volatile of late. As of this writing, gold has fallen to approximately the $314 per ounce level while silver has declined below $5 to $4.76 per ounce. Of course, the bullion sensitive common date gold and silver coins are most affected. Bidding is active for these coins. However, lower Bids are being offered for circulated and Brilliant Uncirculated common dates. The gold denominations most affected by the drop in bullion are $5, $10 and $20.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

WE WANT TO GIVE YOU MONEY!

BUT HERE'S PROOF THAT YOU GET THE MOST CASH FOR YOUR COINS FROM THE *KING OF CASH

TOP BUYING POWER - THE ABILITY OF A FIRM TO BUY ALL OF YOUR COINS

It can be easy to sell one or two coins. It can be easy to sell your highest grade coins or your rare coins. It's a bit more complicated to sell all of your coins. The major mistake that most collectors make when disposing of their collection is they don't ask enough money for their great coins and they ask too much money for their mediocre coins. They usually sell their great coins immediately and are stuck with the bottom of the barrel. What makes sense is to sell to a firm who needs a broad base of coins. A firm that's comfortable buying a coin for $100,000 or $100. Here are some facts and figures that show that, besides being the top buyer in the country for rarities, Spectrum is also willing to buy virtually any Pre-1950 U.S. coin.

In 1996, Spectrum spent a total of over $54,000,000 purchasing rare coins from both other dealers and the public. The largest amount they spent in one transaction was $2,448,630 at the Eliasberg sale. The smallest amount they spent in one transaction was $4 in purchasing a coin from a collector. Last year, Spectrum was willing to pay over $500,000 for a single coin and also as little as $4 for a single coin. Spectrum buys everything from million dollar 1913 Liberty nickels to common date Morgan dollars in low grade.

When you deal with Spectrum Numismatics, you can take comfort in the fact that you are selling to the absolute top buyer for rarities and someone who will buy all of your coins in all price ranges. But there's a lot more.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

When you sell your coins to Spectrum Numismatics you get the following benefits every time.

1. Absolute top dollar for your coins. This is not a shallow claim. The facts clearly show that Spectrum Numismatics is the number one buyer for rare coins.

2. Ultra fast payment. Spectrum Numismatics can pay you any way you choose...you can have a check, you can have a bank wire, you can deliver the coins, or you can mail them. Any way you want to handle the transaction is O.K. with Spectrum and will be handled as quickly as you desire.

3. Ultra efficient service aimed to make it as easy as possible for you to sell your coins. Spectrum has five full time buyers and offices in Southern California, and New York. If you would like a Spectrum buyer to visit you at your convenience, all you have to do is call Spectrum collect any week-day and you can immediately talk to one of our buyers. Type Collectors Are Selective Sight-Unseen Buying Cautious

One of this year's more interesting segments within the sight-unseen, certified coin market has been Mint State Type. Even though demand for Type coins has often been strong, it has especially been very selective. Dealers report that they have many customers working on Type sets. But, buyers are cautious. Collector selectivity is clearly exposed when we consider the CCDN statistics for Type coins. Since Jan. 3rd, there has been a greater number of declining Type issues compared to those advancing, by a formidable 5:1 margin. Looking at the larger picture, out of approximately 1400 issues by grade and grading service, 378 were down, only 75 were up and 938 remain unchanged. Still, identifying the categories that did well and those that didn't, can present excellent insight for dealers trying to assist collectors. Generally, a Type coin is simply a single example of a specific design and denomination. Usually, a Type coin is a common date, because that is the most affordable way to collect this diversified group of rare coins. However, dealers know that some of their customers relish an occasional scarce date. The addition of a few rarities gives the finished Type collection added pizzazz and greater marketability. It also has the tendency to increase the interest and enjoyment level for each collector. Dealers try to encourage Type collectors to acquire similar graded coins for consistency and set attractiveness. Dealers know that a Type collection looks best if the coins are all uniform. Type collectors need to establish certain parameters. A Type set of Nickels could include two each of the Shield, Liberty, Buffalo and Jefferson designs. Or, it could just have one of each five-cent design. Finally, it could include any combination of the above. Dealers are able to assist collectors with this decision. The following chart indicates the Type coin performance of the top six winners and losers, compiled from CCDN from Jan., 3rd to Oct., 31st.

Interestingly, the top percentage gains have been among coins that grade between MS-61 and MS-67. It also seems that demand is greatest for silver coins, capturing five out of the top six spots. The top six percentage gainers were split evenly; three grading MS-62 and below and three grading MS-65 and above. First year Type coins appear to be popular, due to their strong price performance. The top six percentage losers for Type coins all graded MS-65 to MS-66. Since these are dealer Bids for sight-unseen coins, they seem more reluctant to enter strong Bids, sight-unseen for coins that grade MS-65 and higher. Why? One major reason is due to the significant difference in price between MS-65 and MS-66. Lets examine two examples. A Liberty Seated Half Dime, No Star is Bid at $2,200 in MS-66. However in MS-65, that Bid drops steeply to $1,450. For Liberty Seated Dollars, No Motto, the difference is even greater. In NGC MS-66 the Bid is $38,000, but it falls sharply to $11,000 in NGC MS-65. The dollar change can be and often is considerable, even with just a one point move on the grading scale. Dealers become more cautious as the risk increases between grades. Generally, dealers are Bidding sight-unseen for coins they believe to be average for the grade. However, coins that are at the low-end of the grading spectrum are sometimes refused. Conversely, coins that are considered to be of premium quality by dealers are not only preferred, but often command stronger Bids.

The world's most important coins are consistently graded by NGC.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the unique "EB on breast" Garrett/Parrino Brasher Doubloon, the magnificent PF-66 Eliasberg/Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, or the remarkable Eliasberg/Spectrum 1884 Trade Dollar. Not to mention many other important coins from the Eliasberg, Byron Reed, and Trompeter collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is to name just a few examples.

While we are grading more of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, now averaging 38,000 coins per month. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently, and impartially.

PHOTO PROOF by NGC is the leader in combining vivid digital imaging with colorful historic text and thorough analysis of your coins.

This is why NGC is endorsed by the ANA as its official grading service, and why we're the grading service of choice for more of the world's finest collections, and the world's finest coins, like yours. It's also why we have the largest dealers network, at 1,250-plus member dealers.

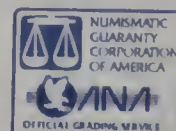

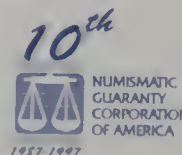

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the professions. NGC was first to offer Economy service, World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, and the PhotoProof full-color digital imaging and presentation service. Count on NGC to continue innovating as we move into the next millennium.

When it matters to you that your coins are graded with lasting accuracy, choose NGC... the consistent choice for certifying the world's most important coins, like yours.

Sight-Unseen Bid Increases For Gold Coins Type Gold Experiences Strong Demand

For over a month, demand for Type Gold coins of all denominations has been increasing. As a result of this demand, dealers responded by increasing their Bids for sight-unseen Uncirculated Gold coins. Of course, even though the coins are sight-unseen, dealers still expect to receive coins that are at least, average for the grade. However, demand is so strong that they are even willing to accept some coins that contain carbon spots; though they don't want coins that have an excessive number of spots. When a few dealers increase their Bids, it can force other dealers to do the same, if they want to stay competitive. This has been the case this time. This demand has not only forced prices higher, but it has begun to feed on itself. What does it all mean? For one thing, this has had a positive effect on the entire rare coin market. The stronger Bids for gold coins has stimulated interest in other areas of the market. Amazingly, the stronger Bids for gold have been sustained during a period when the precious metals have been somewhat out-of-favor on the world markets. As of this writing, spot gold is floundering at approximately $310 per ounce. Ordinarily, you would expect to see an increase in interest rates or some other inflationary sign to spur interest in gold bullion. As of this writing, the inflation rates are relatively low, albeit under the watchful eye of Federal Reserve Chairman, Alan Greenspan. On Wall Street, stocks continue to trade below their all-time highs, causing some investors to take a more cautious stance, by further diversifying their portfolios. Some of these equity investors are now turning their attention to rare coins. Many of these people that were active in rare coins years ago, are now looking to return to a coin market that sports very attractive price levels. Of course, when buying common date gold coins, it helps if the price of bullion is trading at levels that make it easy and affordable to find bargains.

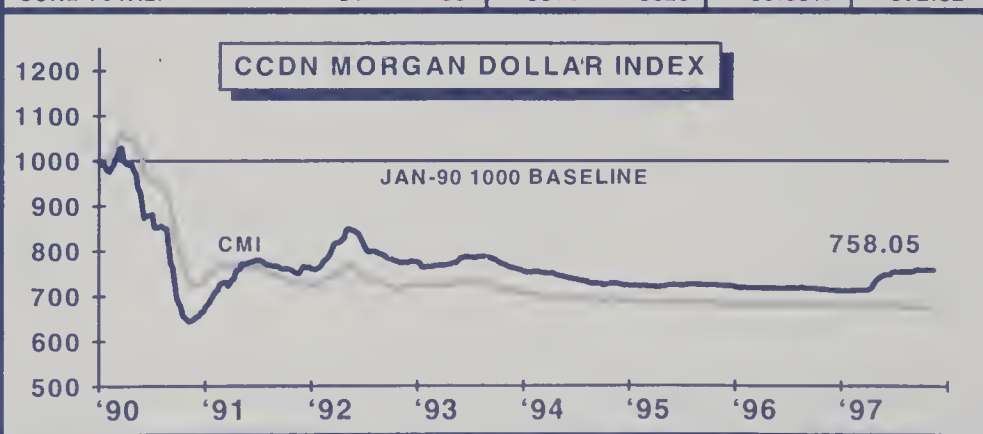

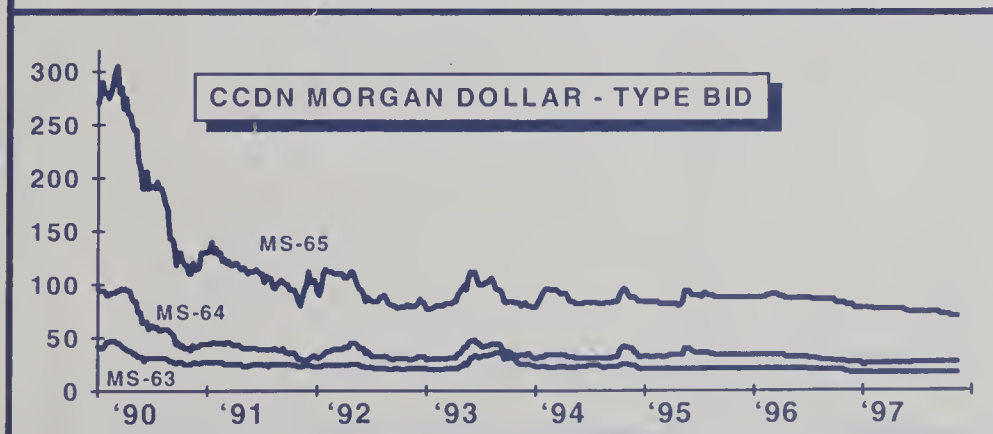

Bids have been consistently strong throughout the first five weeks. However, we have seen the number of advancing issues diminish during the last week. Common date gold coins are mostly preferred. However, slightly better dates are welcome, at a slight premium above the common date Bid. Quantities are needed, but dealers will buy a single coin here and there. There have been a number of significant increases over the past month. The $10 Indian Gold coins have experienced one of the strongest jumps. Since Sept. 26th, a PCGS Mint State 64 increased nearly 50% to $1,680 Bid on Nov. 14th. Although not as dramatic, an NGC MS-64 increased 25% to $1,500 Bid. Even though 1932 is the most common date, by far, in the $10 Indian series, the availability of this date in quantity is very difficult. The 1932 $10 Gold coin has an original mintage of nearly $4.5 million coins. By itself, it's almost enough to equal the combined, total original mintage of all the rest of the dates in the series. Despite that fact, PCGS and NGC have only graded a combined total of 4,623 coins in MS-64. From this example, it is easy to see how demand could quickly eclipse the supply of quality coins, even when they are among the most common dates.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflike.
Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premium over non-P/L strikes.

The PCI Capsule...

✓ $7⁵⁰ PER COIN

✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

- ☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.
- ☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic". We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5 +, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.
- ☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).
- ☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $7⁵⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.
- ☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!
- ☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service...guaranteed!!

The world's most important coins are consistently graded by NGC.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the unique "EB on breast" Garrett/Parrino Brasher Doubloon, the magnificent PF-66 Eliasberg/Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, or the remarkable Eliasberg/Spectrum 1884 Trade Dollar. Not to mention many other important coins from the Eliasberg, Byron Reed, and Trompeter collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is to name just a few examples.

While we are grading more of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, now averaging 38,000 coins per month. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently, and impartially.

This is why NGC is endorsed by the ANA as its official grading service, and why we're the grading service of choice for more of the world's finest collections, and the world's finest coins, like yours. It's also why we have the largest dealers network, at 1,250-plus member dealers.

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the professions. NGC was first to offer Economy service, World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, and the PhotoProof full-color digital imaging and presentation service. Count on NGC to continue innovating as we move into the next millennium.

When it matters to you that your coins are graded with lasting accuracy, choose NGC... the consistent choice for certifying the world's most important coins, like yours.

Mixed Results For Proof Type Coins Patterns and Rarities Strong At Bowers & Merena Auction

This year, the Proof Type rare coin market has produced mixed results. Since Jan. 5th, the performance of Proof Type coins in the CCDN, sight-unseen market, has been identified by cautious, more active Bidding than the previous year. There is a total of 686 categories in the CCDN survey. This survey tracks dealer Bids for Type coins by grade. Primarily, Bids for coins that have been professionally graded and encapsulated by the Numismatic Guaranty Corporation of America and the Professional Coin Grading Service are included. Looking at the data, we see that the majority of the issues, 443 Proof Type coins, by grade have remained unchanged from their January levels. However, 194 issues have declined in value while 49 issues increased. Even though declining issues outnumber those increasing by nearly a 4:1 margin, there are some interesting and potentially important observations that can be extracted from this data. Those issues that performed the best are among the most popular collector series. Flying Eagle Cents grading NGC or PCGS65 gained 25 percent. Buffalo Nickels, Type I grabbed the largest gain in Proof 67 grade. Other issues doing well in 1997 include Indian Head Cents and Draped Bust Dollars. We noted sharp declines in Liberty Nickels, No Cents in NGC67 and 3-Cent Silver coins Type II and Type III in high-grade.

Dealers report that they have many collectors putting together Proof Type collections. Evenly matched sets by grade are preferred by collectors, although, coaching dealers make allowances for coins that jump considerably in price from one grade to another. Availability is an important consideration for determining what strategy to take. Dealers know that collectors want to complete their set in a reasonable amount of time. Consequently, dealers try to help them establish realistic goals and encourage them to achieve those goals. The accompanying chart of Proof Type coins indicates the eight strongest and weakest issues in CCDN from Jan. 5th to Nov. 21st.

The Pennsylvania Cabinet, an auction held in conjunction with the Suburban Washington/Baltimore Convention realized more than $2.3 million. The sale, held Nov. 13-15th in Baltimore, was conducted by Bowers and Merena and featured more than 1,700 lots. Prices realized were strong for select and rare coins and Patterns. At times, Bidding was intense! A few highlights include: a PCGS Pr64 RB 1848 Braided Hair Large Cent which brought $7,425; a PCGS Pr65R 1864 2-Cent piece, Small Motto realized $57,200; a PCGS Pr66R 1873 Open 3 2-Cent piece brought $12,100; an NGC MS-64 1796 Draped Bust Dime, 5 Berries sold for $24,200; an NGC MS-64 1807 Draped Bust Half Dollar claimed $12,100; an NGC Pr65 1862 Seated Liberty Dollar sold for $13,200; a PCGS MS-64 1852-C Gold Dollar at $14,300; a PCGS MS-64 1854-S Gold Dollar brought $16,500; a PCGS MS-64 1855-O Gold Dollar at $36,300; an NGC MS-64 1913-S $10 Indian Gold at $38,500; a PCGS Pr65 1877 Pattern Half Dollar, Silver brought $25,300; a PCGS Pr65 1879 Pattern Dollar

"Washlady" brought $39,600; and a PCGS Pr63 1915 Pattern Panama-Pacific Exposition Gold Dollar, Without S brought $20,900.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Give the Gift that Keeps Giving All Year Long

The holidays are fast approaching. That time of year when you think of the important people in your life. When you take time to reflect and take stock of your progress, your goals, and your relationships. How will you show your appreciation to the special people in your life?

You can take advantage of the holiday season by giving a PCGS Collectors Club membership. This unique gift will allow your friends and colleagues a way to enjoy their favorite hobby all year long. This is a wonderful way to show your appreciation to those special people in your life. It's also a great way to reward yourself.

Membership in the PCGS Collectors Club is a unique gift that has been specially designed for coin collectors who want to learn more about professional coin grading and numismatics. The introductory kit provides all the information needed to take advantage of the benefits available to members.

Gift includes $100 Worth of PCGS Grading

Members may submit four coins for free expert grading by Professional Coin Grading Service (PCGS). Normally, this grading is worth $100, yet with this introductory offer club members receive this as a part of their special kit (Note: shipping costs are not included). Members will be able to experience grading by the industry's leading third party grading service.

With more than 4.9 million coins graded since 1986, PCGS coins are recognized industry wide as the standard for the rare coin industry. Grading by PCGS has stood the test of time and is accepted worldwide by collectors, dealers and investors alike.

Direct Grading Privileges All Year Long

Your gift will also give your friends direct access to PCGS grading for one year. Members may send their coins directly to PCGS for grading. Usually PCGS restricts submissions to PCGS authorized dealers. Yet demand for direct submission to PCGS has been so strong from collectors that we're allowing a select number of collectors direct submission privileges through this specially designed club.

Subscription to the PCGS Market Report

Throughout the year, your gift will give that collector in your life a quarterly newsletter packed with prime market information and numismatic research. The PCGS Market Report contains informative articles by leading coin dealers, authors, and researchers who are highly respected in the field of numismatics. In-depth articles about coins, auctions, collectors, counterfeit detection techniques, and grading are included in this unique publication mailed four times a year.

The PCGS Population Report

Your gift will also include one issue of a heavily relied upon reference book—the PCGS Population Report. This is a complete census of the more than 4,000,000 coins that have been graded by PCGS. This data is the best way to compare the relative rarity of important coins. At major coin shows, you'll hear professional coin dealers continually asking "What's the Pop?" before buying a coin. The "Pop" they are referring to is the PCGS Population Report. This reference book is an important tool for numismatists concerned with rarity.

Give a Memorable Gift that will be Enjoyed All Year Long!

If you or your friends are interested in learning more about expert grading and numismatics, join the PCGS Collectors Club. Professional grading, in-depth knowledge, and important publications are all included in this membership kit. Your original gift won't be easily forgotten after the excitement of the holidays subsides. This memorable present will be appreciated throughout the year.

CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at discount prices. Coins in sight-seen trades can be expected to occur at substantially higher prices in most cases.

Bids for Lincoln Cents are for full-red specimens in PR64 and higher.

IF YOU HAVE COINS TO SELL...

WHETHER IT'S A $2,000,000 1804 DOLLAR...

OR $30 COMMON DATE MORGAN DOLLAR...

The only strategy that makes sense...is to call the King of Cash before you actually sell your coins.

The King of Cash Meter

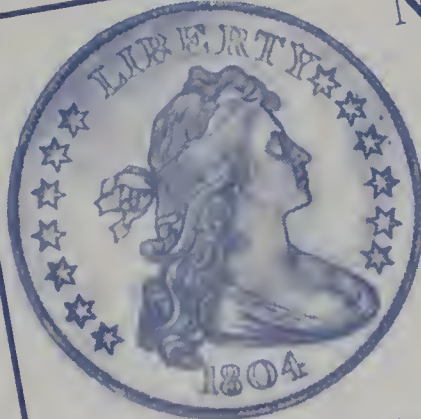

Nobody spends more money buying U.S. coins from collectors and investors like yourself than Spectrum Numismatics! And the nice thing about Spectrum is we desperately need to buy all of your coins. That's why our name is Spectrum...we buy it all.

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH SPECTRUM

Spectrum Numismatics desperately needs your coins. Its coin-hungry clients have a huge appetite for pre-1950 U.S. coins. Spectrum has no choice. They must buy your coins or lose their clients. That's why 67% of all Spectrum purchases are from coin dealers. The professionals, the people in the know, the people who make their money buying and selling coins, sell them to Spectrum. Nobody pays more...nobody pays faster...and nobody makes it easier for you to sell your coins.

Spectrum is so desperate for your coins that all you have to do is call the King of Cash and tell us what you have for sale. If your coins fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. The King of Cash will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the King of Cash's offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins along with a check for your shipping expenses. If, for some reason, you do not want to accept the King of Cash's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses. In other words, you now have a totally risk-free way of receiving an outrageous offer for your coins... an offer that you're free to accept or decline.

NOBODY PAYS
THAN THE
KING OF CASH

Pictured above is the Eliasberg specimen of the famous 1804 Silver Dollar. At the Eliasberg sale, this 1804 Silver Dollar set a new world record for the sale of a single U.S. coin at public auction, when it brought $1,815,000! The purchaser of this record setting coin was Spectrum Numismatics. The third and final portion of the Louis Eliasberg collection of United States coins, was sold at public auction by Bowers and Merena in New York City on April 6 through 8, 1997. The sale brought a record $20,892,783. Spectrum purchased $4,302,544 at the sale. In other words, Spectrum bought 20.6% of the entire sale!

It is not an unusual occurrence for the King of Cash to be the #1 buyer at most major sales. The firm spending the most money to acquire coins is Spectrum Numismatics. Nobody pays more for coins at auction. Nobody will pay more for your coins.

The best time to sell is when you have a willing buyer. And nobody is more willing than Spectrum to trade some cold hard cash for your coins. Our customers are screaming for coins. We estimate that we need to spend $80,000,000 this year to satisfy the needs of our clients. Check out Spectrum's "King of Cash meter." So far this year, we've spent $61,304,479. We need your help in order for us to be able to satisfy our clients and purchase the necessary $80,000,000 worth of coins this year. If you have any pre-1950 U.S. coins for sale, there's only one strategy that makes sense. Before you sell any coins, call Spectrum. You can contact the Spectrum buyers any weekday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. California time. Just tell them you want to talk to the King of Cash.

Buffalos Are Popular And Volatile In 1997 Many Collectors Working On Complete Sets

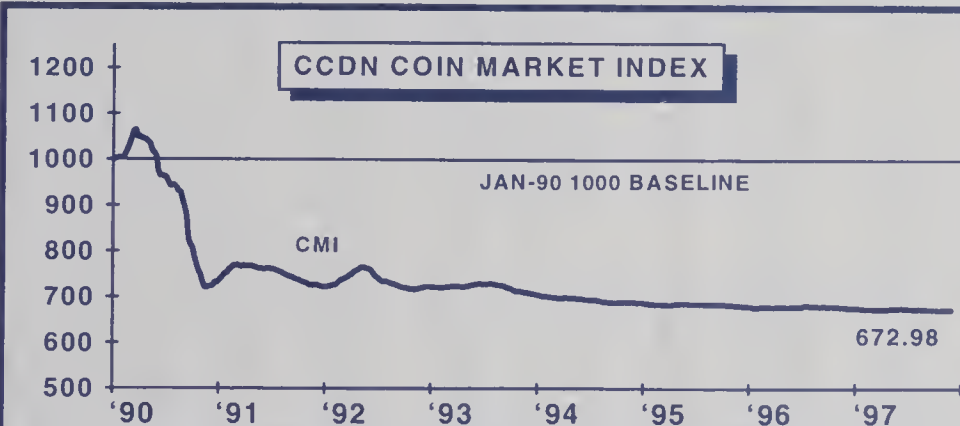

Dealers know that Buffalo Nickels have been a favorite of many collectors throughout the 1990s and before. It is a series that contains varieties, errors, key and semi-key dates. Its diversity helps make it as popular as it is today. It provides collectors with tremendous challenge, especially when they want coins that are struck well and grade Mint State 63 and better. Dealers have many customers looking for the scarce dates of the series. It has always been a very active series, realizing strong Bidding activity by dealers and collectors at public auctions. The past 11 months have been as you might expect, quite volatile for sight-unseen Mint State Buffalo Nickels. When you consider the following statistics for Buffalo Nickels, understand that the information is dealer Bids for sight-unseen coins. This is the highest price a dealer will pay sight-unseen at each grade, taking into consideration they may receive a low-end coin. The Bluesheet monitors a total of 680 issues. These are dealer Bids for NGC and the PCGS graded, certified and encapsulated Buffalo Nickels. Bluesheet tracks these Nickels in MS-63 through MS-67 condition. Of the grand total, 36 issues had increasing Bids, 240 were down and 404 issues remained unchanged from their Jan. 3rd Bid level. One of the strong collector draws of this series is the large number of affordable better dates. This series has many dates that command several hundred dollars and more in MS-63 and better condition, making it affordable and challenging for the collector. Yet, the scarce Denver and San Francisco Mint semi-key and key dates can command thousands, but are still available enough to allow collectors the opportunity to buy one.

The difficulty for some dealers and collectors is availability of the tough key dates. It's not that easy to locate specific dates, even if you have ready cash. Some Buffalo Nickels are notoriously poorly struck, adding to collector frustration of those wanting to complete well-struck sets. Many dealers try to steer their customers towards completing sets of attractive, well-struck MS-63 and MS-64 graded coins. However, even in MS-64 condition, dates such as 1918-S, 1919-S, 1920-S, 1924-S, 1925-S and 1926-S can be somewhat difficult to locate. Putting together certified collections, including the overdates, is extremely challenging, requiring the financial means and a considerable amount of patience necessary for success. In MS-63 condition, a 1916/16 Nickel has a dealer Bid of $40,000 for a PCGS coin. A little less expensive but equally desirable is the popular 1918/17-D. Again this is an expensive Nickel that adorns many a dealer customer want lists. In MS-63 grade, the Bid is $18,500 for an NGC example. Dealers are willing to pay even greater amounts for coins that possess superior strike and eye appeal. Let us examine some of the "top" percentage gainers for the period. Also, we will look at some of the underachievers. These are sight-unseen dealer Bids from Jan. 3rd through November 28th. Interestingly, the Buffalo Nickel series, more than any other series that we track for sight-unseen Bids, has experienced the greatest recovery since the general coin market sell-off in 1990-91. As you can see by the chart, it is the highest graded issues that have been the most volatile. In another observation, generally, the low-dollar amount (coins that are Bid below $1,000), common dates realized the greatest percentage return. However, there are some exceptions. Understandably, dealers are more reluctant to Bid, sight-unseen for expensive key and semi-key date coins. Often, dealers have customers that still prefer to look at the coin no matter what its condition. If the lower grade, reasonably priced Buffalo Nickels are realizing the strongest gains, maybe the collector base for Buffalo Nickels is on the rise. This could bode well for the future as new collectors usually look to up-grade their collections and diversify into other areas.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDn may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDn uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDn does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

Certification does not guarantee protection against the normal risks associated with potentially volatile markets.
Client or sight-seen sales may command a substantial premium above Bluesheet Dealer-to-Dealer Bids.

MARKET columns reflect the latest dealer-to-dealer selling prices seen in the market, based on monitoring Low Asks or Last Trades from wholesale trading networks, sell to coin law and other sources of wholesale transactions. Auction prices realized or retail trading information are used to adjust prices for infrequently traded issues. The Publisher warrants that it has exercised due diligence; presently, there is no practicable method of following all wholesale postings or transactions. Readers should be aware that there is no implied guaranty or belief that the prices listed are actually representative of the current market value of any coin; listing does not guarantee that such a coin is now available for purchase, or that it was actually available at the time the Market price was posted. Due to the volatile nature of the market, current values may be greater or less than the market price listed. A higher grade coin might display a lower Market level than a lower grade specimen, due to limited sell information. Listing Policy: During the thirty days prior to publication, we track the lowest sales-related price in the marketplace. Last Trade information normally takes precedence over Low Asks, except when a lower Ask is posted during the last week before publication. We delete stagnant Market prices which are lower than current Bid. Since the timeliness of the information is important, we use the following timing symbols: "w" - Lowest asking price during the week prior to publication (week old); "m" - Lowest asking price during the previous three weeks (month old); "t" - Trade during the most recent month; "lm" - Lowest asking price appearing last month; "lt" Trade appearing last month; "ot" Trade older than 2 months; " " a blank, for all Market prices older than two months; "a" for auction transactions; "oa" - auction older than 1 month.

MARKET STRENGTH CONTINUES BUYERS FOCUS ON AUCTIONS & "BIG-TICKETS"

ACTIVITY

by Kevin Foley

The collectible paper money market continues to be a bright spot in an otherwise lackluster numismatic marketplace. The November National and World Paper Money Convention bourse was a sell-out. The Bourse for Krause Publications' February 24-26 Chicago Paper Money Exposition sold out in early December, and has a waiting list of 15 dealers waiting space. One market barometer seldom commented upon is the relative ease (or difficulty) convention sponsors have in filling their bourse areas. While coin shows have tended to shrink in size over the past five years (some quite considerably), this has not been the case in the paper money area. Not only are established dealers continuing to return, but new entrants are also supporting the paper money specialty events.

Buyers continue to display strong interest in auctions. As commented here in the past, it is not unusual to see individuals, reluctant to make a purchase from a dealer in a private transaction actually pay even more for a comparable item at auction. Because of the inherent subjectivity of grading, and the fact that grading opinions and abilities vary widely even among recognized professionals, many buyers seem to need the assurance of value provided by the auction process. This is the auction assurance of knowing that someone else, the party they are bidding against, shares their opinion of an item's value. That the winning bid of $2,000 awarded a note from someone else who felt it was only enough to be worth $1,950. In a private transaction, without the other buyers present in the auction arena, this additional confirmation of value is lacking. The fear then is that the $2,000 item may only be worth perhaps $1,400 to the next buyer.

The general attitude of buyers who behave quite aggressively at auction and act as timidly in private transactions, has resulted in a two-tiered market. The same material, more often than not, will sell for a higher price at auction than in a private transaction. In addition, material offered at auction is far more liquid and typically sells, rather than languishing in a display case for an extended period. As a principal in Currency Auctions of America, this is a process I consistently note.

LARGE SIZE TYPE NOTES

This is one of the strongest areas in numismatics and shows every sign of remaining that way. Prices are moving up for all conditions of material, from VG to Gem. In addition, buyers are seeking notes in all price ranges. The most expensive notes, those rare pieces typically selling above $10,000, are especially strong. A whole new group of buyers for this kind of material has become active in the past two to three years. The market here had previously been quite thin, and dealers were often frustrated that an item which ought to be worth more, based on its rarity, would sell for a disappointingly low number of dollars. Because there were so few buyers for such rarities, that situation has been completely reversed today as a growing number of buyers, with resources to match their interests, have entered the field. These buyers realize that if they miss a note to one of these competitors, such an item may not become available to them again. It is, however, a rare item.

SMALL SIZE TYPE NOTES

Interest here remains in the specialty areas, i.e., where Star Notes, rarer blocks, misprints, etc. Buyers are attracted by the fact that a bit of study and knowledge can be quite handsomely rewarded. The differences between a rare and common piece can be as simple as a prefix letter in the serial number or a single digit in a back plate number. Students of Small Type will often have greater knowledge of these nuances than a selling dealer and may often "cherry pick" a bargain as a result. Prices of type material remain quite stable and can be expected to do so because of large quantities available.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

The Martin Gengerke Collection, the only complete regular issue Fractional collection yet formed, is being offered for sale on January 27-28 in Orlando, Florida, by Currency Auctions of America. The collection contains numerous "mint" condition and ultra-secure to outright rare pieces. Its sale will reduce current values for Fractional.

NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Like the large type market, National Bank notes are attracting a growing base of collectors not afraid to spend serious money to acquire items needed for their collections. One attraction offered by Nationalists is the considerable challenge presented by the task of forming a distinguished collection. The surviving population of notes from many banks constitutes only a tiny handful of pieces, with some banks still awaiting the appearance of a discovery piece. Despite this rarity, notes on banks that exist in tiny quantities can be typically acquired (when found) for a few thousand dollars at most, and in many instances for less than $1,000. These dual factors — the challenge of acquisition and relatively low prices in relation to rarity — can be expected to continue to stimulate interest in National Bank Notes.

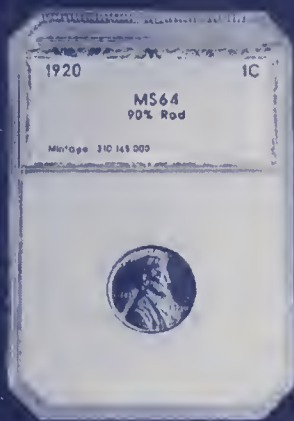

MISCELLANEOUS

Stocks and Bonds, Obsolete Notes and Confederate material continue to enjoy the same strong demand as in the recent past.

AUCTIONS

Buyers will have much to choose from in the coming months. Currency Auctions of America will hold a 2,500+ lot sale in Orlando in January. R.M. Smythe and Company will hold a significant stock and bond sale in conjunction with its Lancaster, Pennsylvania, stock and bond convention later that month. Lynn Kagle will hold a major sale February 25-26 in conjunction with the inaugural Chicago Paper Money Exposition.

The world's most important coins are consistently graded by NGC.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the unique "EB on breast" Garrett/Parrino Brasher Doubloon, the magnificent PF-66 Eliasberg/Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, or the remarkable Eliasberg/Spectrum 1884 Trade Dollar. Not to mention many other important coins from the Eliasberg, Byron Reed, and Trompeter collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is to name just a few examples.

While we are grading more of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, now averaging 38,000 coins per month. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently, and impartially.

PHOTO PROOF by NGC is the leader in combining vivid digital imaging with colorful historic text and thorough analysis of your coins.

This is why NGC is endorsed by the ANA as its official grading service, and why we're the grading service of choice for more of the world's finest collections, and the world's finest coins, like yours. It's also why we have the largest dealers network, at 1,250-plus member dealers.

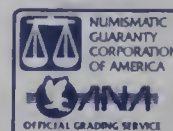

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the professions. NGC was first to offer Economy service, World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, and the PhotoProof full-color digital imaging and presentation service. Count on NGC to continue innovating as we move into the next millennium.

When it matters to you that your coins are graded with lasting accuracy, choose NGC... the consistent choice for certifying the world's most important coins, like yours.

Mercury Dimes Post Some Significant Gains Full Split Band Dimes Are Volatile And In Demand

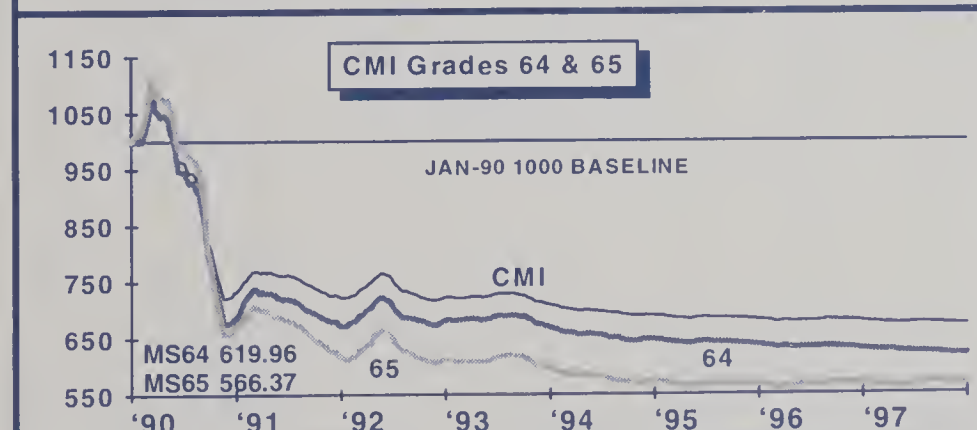

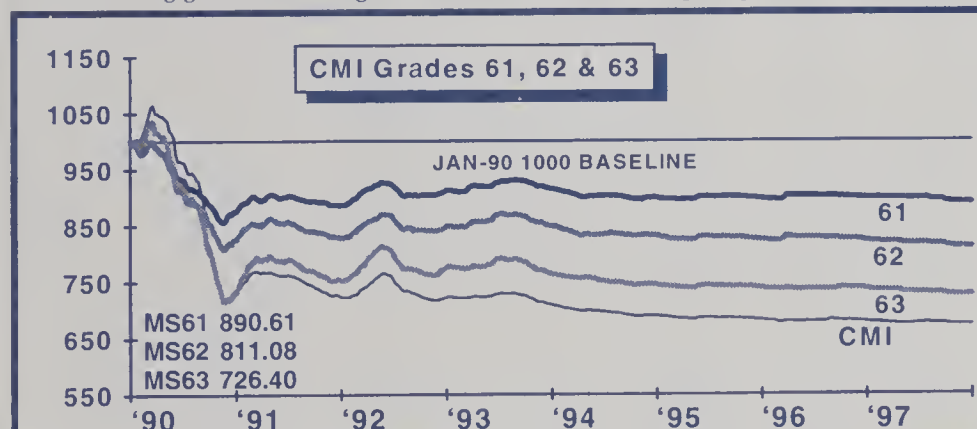

Imagine a Mercury Dime nearly doubling in value in 1997. Believe it or not, it's true. Since dealers offered a $485 Bid on Jan. 3rd, a PCGS Mint State 67 Full Band 1937-S Mercury Dime now has a CCDN Bid at $925. This is better than a 90 percent return. How many do you have? Before you think you should have converted your entire inventory to Mercury Dimes, consider these facts. A PCGS MS-65 Full Band 1924-D Mercury lost nearly half its value. Its current Bid of $950 is down almost 50 percent of its $1,875 Bid on Jan. 3rd. Actually, out of 1,280 issues examined by the CCDN, 200 declined, 137 advanced and 943 issues remained unchanged from its early January Bid. The average for the entire series by the December 5th issue is down a slight 0.29 percent.

Considering the general state of the market in 1997, Mercury Dimes did rather well. Of the issues that managed plus signs, more than 50 select dates had percentage gains greater than 17 percent. In fact, nearly 30 dates finished the year with a 25 percent or better gain. There is no blanket statement that can be made for those issues that were up compared to those that went down. Key and semi-key dates realized strong gains and strong losses. The market is clearly very selective. One thing that does stand out is the strong demand for Full Band Dimes. Dealers know that these Dimes represent well-struck examples and that they are in demand by collectors. Out of the top 50 percentage gainers, only one Dime without Full Split Bands made the list. This was the scarce 1927-S. An NGC MS-66 example's Bid increased more than 28 percent, jumping to $1,350 from $1,050 in January. Among the top 50 declining issues, 18 were non-Split Band examples. Again, this supports the theory that demand is greatest for Split Band Dimes. Dealers know characteristics necessary to designate a Mercury Dime as having a Full Split Band. It's important that its horizontal center bands be completely separated and fully rounded. Collectors tend to gravitate towards the finest quality they can afford. Consequently, they upgrade their Mercury Dime collections by buying Full Split Band Dimes in the finest grade they can afford. We've observed considerable activity this year occurring in the late dates of the series. Of course, the majority of this activity was focused on Full Band Dimes. This does not mean that the key and semi-key dates of the series are not active or in demand. The keys still command strong prices.

The King of the Mercury Dimes, the 1916-D had a strong jump. An NGC MS-65 Full Band issue ended at $12,250 after an initial January Bid of $10,000. This amounts to a 22.50 percent increase. This is a substantial jump when you consider it's a five-figure rare coin. Other key and semi-key dates increasing in 1997 include 1919-S in MS-65FB, 1945 in MS-65FB and 1920-S in MS-65FB. There have also been some better dates declining in value within the same reporting period. Some of the Dimes that did not fair as well include an MS-65FB 1924-D, MS-65FB 1925-D, MS-66 1926-S and an MS-67 1928-D. It is fair to say that demand for Mercury Dimes in 1997 has been somewhat strong. The Dime market continues to be rather selective as we monitor increasing Split Band activity. And, the interest for the Split Band coins grows. As new collectors begin the challenge of this series, the demand and price of the difficult to come by Split Band dates will probably increase even more. But at least for now, dealers know that there is an ample supply of most late date Split Band Dimes to satisfy the current collector demand. Will this situation change? We'll let you know next year. The following table shows a select group of some of the best increases and worst decreases experienced in Bluesheet this year.

The PCI Capsule...

- ✓ $7⁵⁰ PER COIN
- ✓ 6-DAY SERVICE

*Tells why more people
are turning to* PCI

- ☐ PCI accepts direct submittals from the general public, collectors and dealers. There are no minimum or maximum submittal requirements.
- ☐ PCI recognizes that all coins are not "generic". We grade, authenticate, verify and list attributes for errors and varieties such as 5, 5 +, & 6 steps for Jefferson nickels, DM (deep mirror), DMPL (deep mirror proof like) for Morgan dollars, and we apply our exclusive attribute PQ (premium quality) to those coins that qualify.
- ☐ PCI provides our original "Red Label" capsule for "problem" coins, and assigns the grade right on the label (exceptions are: altered, counterfeits, etc.).
- ☐ PCI offers the most affordable rates of any "third party grading service" - and we provide the fastest turnaround time of any grading service... for the applicable fee of $7⁵⁰ per coin, plus postage and insurance.
- ☐ PCI excels at providing the highest quality customer service. We will go the extra mile to meet the needs of our customer, and our service is backed by our guarantees!
- ☐ As a special bonus - PCI provides a FREE storage box when twenty (20) coins are submitted. ($5 charge for storage box orders containing less than 20.)

After our 6th year of new and innovative ideas and technology in setting the pace for 3rd party grading, we at PCI have come to rely upon business practices that you can consistently count on. Your coins will be accepted, authenticated, and graded at the lowest rate and the fastest turnaround time of any service...guaranteed!!

IF YOU HAVE COINS TO SELL...

WHETHER IT'S A $2,000,000 1804 DOLLAR...

OR $30 COMMON DATE MORGAN DOLLAR...

The only strategy that makes sense...is to call the King of Cash before you actually sell your coins.

The King of Cash Meter

Nobody spends more money buying U.S. coins from collectors and investors like yourself than Spectrum Numismatics! And the nice thing about Spectrum is we desperately need to buy all of your coins. That's why our name is Spectrum...we buy it all.

IT'S EASY TO DO BUSINESS WITH SPECTRUM

Spectrum Numismatics desperately needs your coins. Its coin-hungry clients have a huge appetite for pre-1950 U.S. coins. Spectrum has no choice. They must buy your coins or lose their clients. That's why 67% of all Spectrum purchases are from coin dealers. The professionals, the people in the know, the people who make their money buying and selling coins, sell them to Spectrum. Nobody pays more...nobody pays faster...and nobody makes it easier for you to sell your coins.

Spectrum is so desperate for your coins that all you have to do is call the King of Cash and tell us what you have for sale. If your coins fit Spectrum's needs, you'll be asked to ship the coins. The King of Cash will look at your coins and make you an outrageously high offer for them. If you agree to accept the King of Cash's offer, you will be sent immediate payment for your coins along with a check for your shipping expenses. If, for some reason, you do not want to accept the King of Cash's offer for your coins, your coins will be sent back to you free of charge along with a check for your initial shipping expenses. In other words, you now have a totally risk-free way of receiving an outrageous offer for your coins... an offer that you're free to accept or decline.

NOBODY PAYS
THAN THE
KING OF CASH

Pictured above is the Eliasberg specimen of the famous 1804 Silver Dollar. At the Eliasberg sale, this 1804 Silver Dollar set a new world record for the sale of a single U.S. coin at public auction, when it brought $1,815,000! The purchaser of this record setting coin was Spectrum Numismatics. The third and final portion of the Louis Eliasberg collection of United States coins, was sold at public auction by Bowers and Merena in New York City on April 6 through 8, 1997. The sale brought a record $20,892,783. Spectrum purchased $4,302,544 at the sale. In other words, Spectrum bought 20.6% of the entire sale!

It is not an unusual occurrence for the King of Cash to be the #1 buyer at most major sales. The firm spending the most money to acquire coins is Spectrum Numismatics. Nobody pays more for coins at auction. Nobody will pay more for your coins.

The best time to sell is when you have a willing buyer. And nobody is more willing than Spectrum to trade some cold hard cash for your coins. Our customers are screaming for coins. We estimate that we need to spend $80,000,000 this year to satisfy the needs of our clients. Check out Spectrum's "King of Cash meter." So far this year, we've spent $61,304,479. We need your help in order for us to be able to satisfy our clients and purchase the necessary $80,000,000 worth of coins this year. If you have any pre-1950 U.S. coins for sale, there's only one strategy that makes sense. Before you sell any coins, call Spectrum. You can contact the Spectrum buyers any weekday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. California time. Just tell them you want to talk to the King of Cash.

Early Date Walkers Do Well In '97 Late Dates Show Weakness

Although very popular, dealer Bids for PCGS and NGC certified Walking Liberty Half Dollars dropped an average of four percent, from Jan. 3rd through Dec. 12th. The overall Mint State Walking Liberty Half Dollar market seems to have been dragged down by sharply declining Bids for coins dated 1934-47. Basically, declines have been most prevalent among the dates found in the "short set." These dates are among the more common issues of the series. The overall demand for these dates has slowed, so dealers are less willing to offer strong Bids for high grade specimens, sight-unseen. There are a few exceptions, such as the 1941-S and 1943-S, where Bid for the 1941-S has increased handsomely in MS-67. It's still rather obvious from the statistics that dealers are interested in issuing strong, sight-unseen Bids for the better dates of the series, in all Mint State grades. Looking at the total group of 910 issues tracked by CCDN, 35 increased, 341 declined and 534 issues were unchanged from their early January Bid levels. The general weakness among the later dates is really magnified when you consider that decreasing Bids beat out increasing Bids by nearly a 10:1 margin. On the plus side, since the average issue of the series declined by 4%, then the 534 unchanged issues actually did better than the overall average.

Regardless of the numbers, Walking Liberty Half Dollars have long been a favorite of collectors. Because dealers understand this, they have stocked large quantities of Walkers for many years. At shows, collectors can wander about the bourse with confidence knowing that dealers carry a large selection of Walking Liberty Half Dollars. Credit for its large appeal has to be given to the attractive obverse and reverse design of A. A. Weinman. Dealers know that collectors like the many challenges that the series provides. They tend to go after the rarities such as the 1917-D Reverse Mint Mark, 1917-S Obverse Mint Mark, 1919, 1919-D, 1919-S, 1921, 1921-D and of course, 1921-S. The difficulty in acquiring these coins really hits home when you try to obtain them in gem quality condition. Well struck, Mint State 65 and better key and semi-key dates continue to adorn dealers' customer want lists. Dealers may experience some difficulty in acquiring select dates in specific grades for their customers. And, those customer want lists for these dates seem to get longer all the time. Yet, certified Walking Liberty Half Dollars are a very marketable commodity for dealers. Consider these statistics from the population reports of the two professional grading services, PCGS and NGC. Together, they have certified a combined total of only seven MS-65 1919-D Half Dollars. There is only one example graded higher, that being a PCGS MS-66 example. When you consider the thousands of collectors of this series, you can understand why it has a current PCGS Bid of $60,000. But, the 1919-D isn't the only key date tough to locate in outstanding condition. The 1921-S has long been considered among the toughest dates to locate. Ironically, it is available in the low circulated grades from Good through Very Fine. However, in Extremely Fine and About Uncirculated, it is scarce. The challenge really takes hold when collectors try to acquire an example in any of the Mint State grades. Dealers know that those collectors trying to complete gem sets better have deep pockets, especially when it comes to this date. The combined population total by NGC and PCGS is 19.

However, this figure may be somewhat inflated due to double counting. There has been only one example graded higher, a PCGS MS-66.

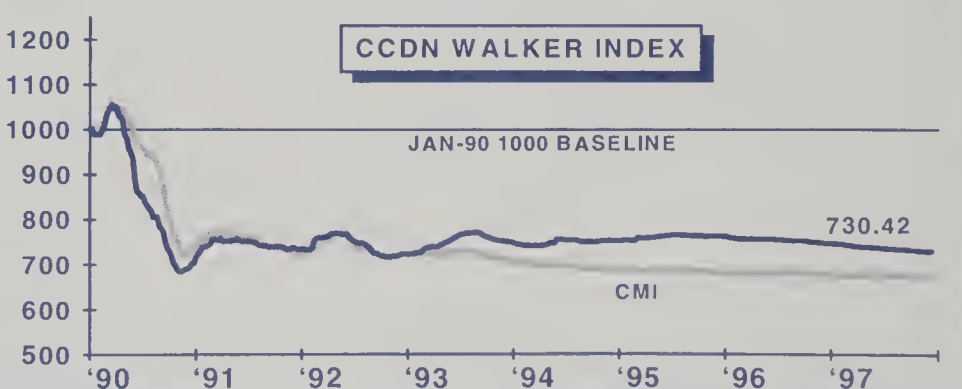

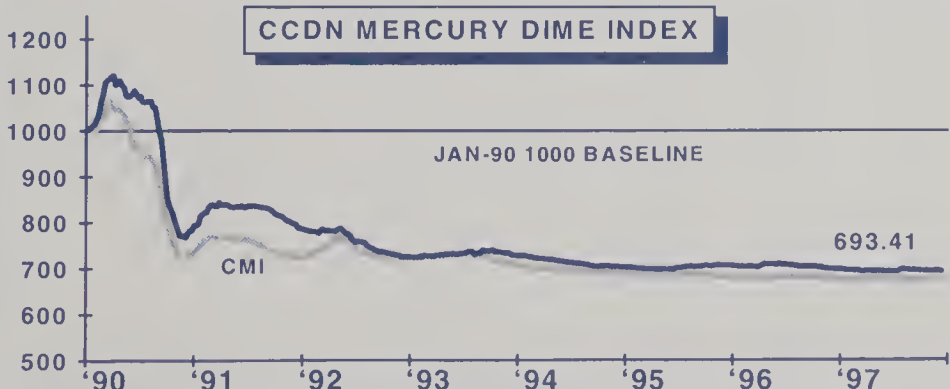

The following chart will show examples of some of the best performing and least performing issues, according to CCDN Bid, since Jan 3rd.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

COMMEMORATIVES

Some bids within represent very conservative sight-unseen buy prices on the part of the highest visible bidder. In these cases a more accurate reflection of a coin's true value may be found in the CDN, albeit, on a sight basis.

PROOFLIKE MORGAN DOLLARS

P/L Dollars may be semi-reflective, with less reflectivity than the deep-mirror Prooflike. Bids for P/L's are usually much lower than for DMPL's, but command some premiums over non-P/L strikes.

The world's most important coins are consistently graded by NGC.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the unique "EB on breast" Garrett/Parrino Brasher Doubloon, the magnificent PF-66 Eliasberg/Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, or the remarkable Eliasberg/Spectrum 1884 Trade Dollar. Not to mention many other important coins from the Eliasberg, Byron Reed, and Trompeter collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is to name just a few examples.

While we are grading more of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, now averaging 38,000 coins per month. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently, and impartially.

This is why NGC is endorsed by the ANA as its official grading service, and why we're the grading service of choice for more of the world's finest collections, and the world's finest coins, like yours. It's also why we have the largest dealers network, at 1,250-plus member dealers.

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the professions. NGC was first to offer Economy service, World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, and the PhotoProof full-color digital imaging and presentation service. Count on NGC to continue innovating as we move into the next millennium.

When it matters to you that your coins are graded with lasting accuracy, choose NGC... the consistent choice for certifying the world's most important coins, like yours.

Saint-Gaudens and Standing Liberty Quarters Down Slightly For Year Final CCDN Issue of 1997; Happy Holidays From All Of Us

The rare coin market activity for sight-unseen, certified coins has been on the quiet side these past few December weeks. There have been relatively few Bids and a limited number of transactions taking place. Naturally, this is to be expected during this holiday season as dealers take some time to be with families and friends. However, 1997 did provide us with considerable interest in $20 Saint-Gaudens Double Eagles, despite a year of weak gold bullion prices. Since Jan. 17, sight-unseen Bids for $20 Saints have held up remarkably well, declining an average of 3.55%. This is quite respectable, as gold bullion declined approximately $75 per ounce, or nearly 21%, during that period. It's more amazing when you know that $20 Saints contain .9675 ounce of pure gold. Therefore, intrinsically, they've lost quite a bit of ground. Granted, rare date Gold coins are primarily bought for their rarity and condition, with much less weight given to their metal content.

The total number of Mint State $20 issues tracked by CCDN is 728. From this total, 46 issues advanced, 292 declined and 390 are the same as their Jan. 17th Bluesheet Bid. The $20 Saint-Gaudens series received plenty of publicity and excitement this year with the release of information from the Wells Fargo Nevada® Gold Collection, containing more than 15,000 Gold coins. The sale of these coins continues to make high-quality, No Motto Saints available to the Type market. Due to the magnitude of this collection, the collector base for $20 Saint-Gaudens is bound to increase. This is a positive for dealers that stock an inventory that includes Saints. While the long term effect of this hoard is positive, the short run activity has seen a decline in the sight-unseen Bidding for MS-67 1908 No Motto Gold coins. On the opposite side, select key dates have fared quite well. Some of the key and semi-key dates that went against the averages include: 1921, 1925-D, 1925-S, 1908-D No Motto, 1909-D, and the popular 1907 High Relief's. But, not all key and semi-key dates finished the year with increased Bids because dealers still remain rather reticent when Bidding, sight-unseen, for high dollar value rare date Gold coins. This statement can also be applied to all rare date coins. The accompanying table lists a select group of some of the top increases and worst decreases in $20 Saint-Gaudens Gold coins, from Jan 17th through Dec 19th.

Standing Liberty Quarters also ended the year in the minus, but just slightly. In all, 684 Mint State Standing Liberty Quarters decreased an average of 1.53%, from Jan 17th to Dec 19th. Only 20 issues increased, 161 decreased, leaving the majority of 503 issues unchanged from their initial, sight-unseen Bids. Again like the Saints, it appears that dealers are reluctant to Bid for high-grade Standing Liberty Quarters on a sight-unseen basis. This is often the case with Full Head Quarters. It is apparent that the non Full Head issues performed rather well this year. This is especially true of the MS-63 grade. Keep-in-mind that these Bids represent the sight-unseen market. Therefore, all the unchanged issues did better than the overall Standing Liberty Quarter average. The biggest increase, 50%, was realized by the 1918/17-S, in PCGS MS-65 condition. The popular 1916, in NGC MS-65FH, jumped 20% and a 1929-D PCGS MS-65FH, gained 5.71%. Declining issues were led by the relatively common dates in very high grade. An NGC MS-67 1920 decreased 33.33%, while an NGC MS-67 1930 declined by the same percentage. The key date, 1927-S, dropped as well. In PCGS MS-66 grade, it was down 10.53% for the period. Since dealers like to personally examine key dates in high grade most of the time, some of these losers may trade at higher levels sight-seen.

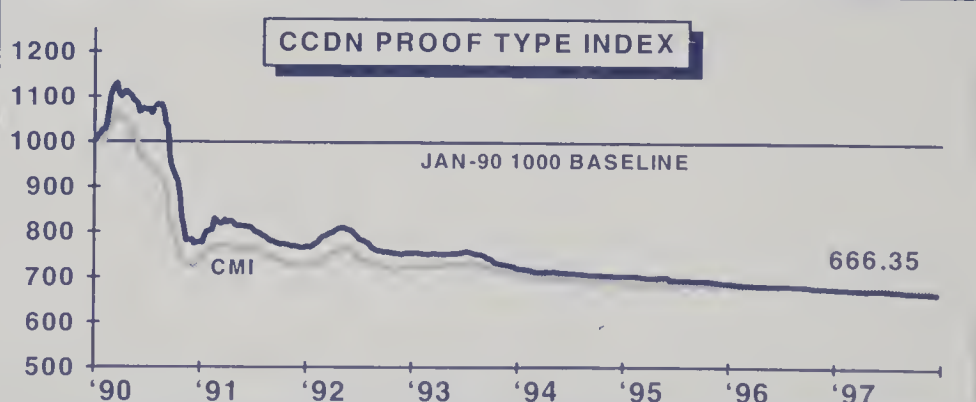

Please keep in mind that this is the last CCDN issue of 1997. We would like to wish all of our subscribers a happy and healthy holiday season. We appreciate your trust and friendship and hope 1998 is a successful one for you and your families. The next CCDN will be issued on January 2, 1998.

The Certified Coin Dealer newsletter (the Bluesheet) reports current wholesale market Bids for coins certified by the most active grading services, determined through careful study of market activity (including the highest nationally reported sight-unseen Bids, Asks, Trades, prior levels, and auction prices). The CCDN may not respond to the removal of a high Bid, but will be strongly influenced by the lowering of an unsupported high Bid or by Asks or Trades which are near or below current Bid. CCDN uses every means available to insure accuracy and completeness of the wholesale levels shown. Individual buy and sell prices will vary among dealers, are strictly the responsibility of the dealers, and may fluctuate according to needs. CCDN does not represent that it is possible to purchase selected coins at Bid levels.

The world's most important coins are consistently graded by NGC.

At NGC, we've been consistently grading some of the world's most renowned coins. Like the unique "EB on breast" Garrett/Parrino Brasher Doubloon, the magnificent PF-66 Eliasberg/Parrino 1913 Liberty Head Nickel, or the remarkable Eliasberg/Spectrum 1884 Trade Dollar. Not to mention many other important coins from the Eliasberg, Byron Reed, and Trompeter collections. And, the complete Overton collection. This is to name just a few examples.

While we are grading more of the world's finest coins, we are also grading more coins than ever, now averaging 38,000 coins per month. Still, big numbers mean less to us than our efforts to ensure that each coin is graded accurately, consistently, and impartially.

This is why NGC is endorsed by the ANA as its official grading service, and why we're the grading service of choice for more of the world's finest collections, and the world's finest coins, like yours. It's also why we have the largest dealers network, at 1,250-plus member dealers.

You can also count on more of our innovative leadership in services that meet the needs of the hobby and the professions. NGC was first to offer Economy service, World Coin grading, PreScreen service, a security hologram, and the PhotoProof full-color digital imaging and presentation service. Count on NGC to continue innovating as we move into the next millennium.

When it matters to you that your coins are graded with lasting accuracy, choose NGC... the consistent choice for certifying the world's most important coins, like yours.

The World's Most Serious Coin Buyers Insist On PCGS Grading For Their Coins...Shouldn't You?

Completing a set of one of the major United States coin series is not an easy task. It takes time, perseverance, money and knowledge. Completing a set of a major United States coin series that ranks among the finest collections of all time is an even more difficult task. Those individuals who have succeeded in building one of the all-time finest sets of a major United States coin series are arguably the most knowledgeable buyers in the rare coin marketplace. Moreover, virtually all of the owners of the best sets not only choose to have their coins graded by the Professional Coin Grading Service (PCGS), they insist upon it!

There are several important reasons why the world's most knowledgeable coin buyers insist on PCGS grading for their coins and why you, whether you are buying or selling, should also insist on PCGS grading:

1. Your coins will be judged by the grading standards of the rare coin industry. For eleven years, the PCGS standard has been the standard for the rare coin industry, the standard by which all coins are judged both for quality and price.
2. You'll be able to count on the precise grade of your coin now and in the future. The PCGS concept was to establish a permanent grading standard for the rare coin market. Prior to PCGS, when everybody graded coins using different standards, the rare coin buying public would often buy a coin at one grade only to be told that it was actually a lower grade when it was time for them to sell their coins. Because of PCGS, participants in the rare coin market place don't have to deal with that problem any more.
3. Your coins will be worth more when they're graded by PCGS. In all free markets, money talks and you-know-what walks. If you call around you'll quickly see that you can sell your PCGS coins for more money and you can sell them a lot more easily.

The benefits to buying PCGS graded coins and having your coins graded by PCGS are obvious. That's why PCGS has graded 4,989,760 coins in the past eleven years—more than all of the other grading services combined. That's why the professional coin dealers, the true experts of the rare coin market place, choose PCGS over all other coin grading services. And that's why the owners of the world's greatest coin collections, the most sophisticated buyers in the rare coin market, insist on PCGS grading for their coins.

If more people use PCGS than any other grading service...and if professional coin dealers choose PCGS over all other grading services...and if the owners of the world's greatest coin collections insist on PCGS grading for their coins...shouldn't you insist on PCGS grading for your coins? Shouldn't you buy PCGS coins exclusively?

It's easy to have your coins graded by PCGS. It's easy to do business with the PCGS authorized dealers. If you'd like information about PCGS grading, a list of the authorized dealers near you, and/or a complimentary copy of the PCGS Set Registry (a listing of the finest sets of United States coins for the major coin series), all you have to do is call the PCGS Customer Service Department toll-free or send in the coupon below.

ATTENTION ALL COIN DEALERS, WHEELER DEALERS... AND COLLECTORS, TOO! THERE'S SOME MONEY WAITING FOR YOU IN FLORIDA

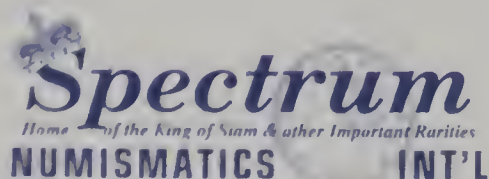

Spectrum Numismatics, the number one buyer of rare coins in this country, desperately needs your coins. Spectrum will do anything within reason to acquire those coins including:

- Cash On The Spot! In 1997, we spent over $70,000,000 purchasing rare coins from dealers and collectors. A lot of people claim to pay top prices but Spectrum puts its money where its mouth is and we offer immediate payment.
- Finder's Fees. If you bump into a deal and don't want to get involved, you can still make money by helping Spectrum purchase the deal. We pay extremely generous finder's fees to anyone who helps us buy coins. In 1997, Spectrum paid $3,028,173 in finder's fees and commissions.
- Trades. We're willing to consider any reasonable trade that allows us to acquire the coins we need to satisfy our coin-hungry clients. If you'd like to trade your rare coins for bullion, other rare coins, or just about anything, there's a high probability that we can arrange a transaction that meets your needs.
- Financing. Spectrum has money and needs coins. If you have coins and need money, Spectrum has numerous financing packages to help you.

DO IT FOR THE MONEY!

It's easy to do business with Spectrum
